CHRISTIAN CHURCH

In speaking of the work of the American Legion and its future possibilities Mr. Phillips said that it is an accepted truth that no movement can rise above its leadership. Whilst the grand principle of the Legion is summed up in one word "Americanization," the speaker thought that their efforts would be more certain of enduring success if they were to aim for Christian Americanization. The sermon was based on the words of Peter regarding Jesus, "He is the Lord of all," and Mr. Phillips enlarged on the right of Jesus to this supreme position of princely leadership by his having manifested in his life an intellectuality that was certainly divine; a will power that was supernatural and sympathy that was that of deity. These qualifications possessed by none other in such a degree, fitted Jesus to be the sole leader of every movement for the betterment of humanity, as his supreme sacrifice for man fits him to be the sole Savior. A splendid audience was present among which were many legion boys. We are sure that every effort should be made to enlist these fine men in cooperating with the church for the uplift of the people.

One of the largest attendances was seen at the C. E. hour last Sunday. This is a fine fellowship service and prepares one for the service to follow.

One hundred seventy-five. We want this number at the Easter service of the Bible school. Every member must do his part. None must fall.

April 21st—the famous DeMoss musical family in this church. Save the date. Watch for the posters next week.

Many reform movements are ever being started, and with the best of meaning and intent. They arise from the need of safety for the community and our homes and posterity. But it seems that one after another these movements flatten out and disappear. Something is accomplished but not much apparently, of a permanent nature. Such movements seem to weaken the institution that our Creator has given us to do all this work in the very best way, if they seem to take from those institutions the responsibilities divinely implanted. The three institutions in which all human welfare and community are wrapped up are represented by the home, the church, and the state, or local government.

Where each of these functions well, social conditions are good. Instead of starting new organizations for doing what belongs to any of these fundamental institutions, let us rather pray and toil from this time to purify and strengthen these three—the home, the church, the state or local government. Then will crime be diminished, and conditions of public order and safety and decency be produced; and in no other way; for we cannot improve upon what our Creator has provided in these matters.

For the information of those interested, they make the following report: Sales on Saturday amounted to $11.91. Additions of gifts and sales of left-overs amounted to $3.00, making total receipts $14.91. This sum the treasurer, Geo. W. Wallace, will turn over to the M. E. Sunday school treasurer towards the building fund for the new church. This class, as other classes of this Sunday school, have taken the "new church" as their hobby, yet not forgetting their missionary pledge. Contributed.

Y. W. Installs New Officers

The Y. W. C. A. installation services last Wednesday for Harriett Hodgkin and her cabinet, the girls who succeed Anna Mills and her cabinet as officers of the college Y. W., were beautiful and impressive. The cabinet officials for 1921-22 and their successors are as follows: President—Anna Mills, Harriett Hodgkin. Vice-pres.—Gladys Scott, Mary Elliott. Secretary—Lucille Johnson, Delight Carter. Treasurer—June Whitlock, Helen Hester.

World Fellowship—Mary Elliott, Lucille Clough. Social Service—Eva Miles, Pauline Terrell. Religious Meetings—Harriett Hodgkin, Gladys Scott. Social—Beth Paulsen, Ann Silver. Music—Delight Carter, Olive Armstrong. Undergraduate Representative—Pauline Terrell, Flora Campbell.

Christian Associations Elect

Zenos Perlisho will head the Y. M. C. A. for the coming year and Harriett Hodgkin will be leader of the Y. W. C. A. as a result of the elections which were held at the regular association meetings March 15. The new presidents are both members of the junior class and have been closely connected with the associations for a number of years through active service as cabinet members. The presidency of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. is one of the most important and responsible offices which a student may attain and it is felt that the associations chose their officers wisely. The executives chosen by the Y. M. C. A. are as follows: Vice-president, Cecil F. Hinshaw; secretary, Cecil R. Hinshaw; and treasurer, Horace Terrell.

Those chosen by the Y. W. C. A. are: Vice-president, Mary K. Elliott; secretary, Delight Carter; treasurer, Helen Hester; and undergraduate representative, Flora E. Campbell.

Sophomores Are Entertained

The members of the sophomore class were entertained at the home of Helen Hester Saturday evening, April 1. The time was pleasantly spent in playing a variety of games. During the evening Eva Miles was presented with a tiny gold drinking set, consisting of two goblets, tankard and tray, as a birthday gift from the class.

After the light refreshments had been served by the hostess, a flashlight picture was taken. Those present were: Ruth Griffith, Eva Miles, Grace Crew, Helen Hester, June Whitlock, Lucille Clough, Dr. and Mrs. Hester, Howard Nottage, C. F. Hinshaw, C. R. Hinshaw, Homer Hester, Davis Woodward, Alfred Terrell and Daisee Letler.

Eat More Fish

Fresh fish, salted fish and shellfish are at all times a healthful variant from the usual meat routine. Scientific experiment has demonstrated that fish contain a large percentage of the protein out of which human bone, muscle and tissue are built.

Just now there is a plentiful supply of flounder, halibut, cod, sole, salmon, smelt, crabs, oysters—almost any fish food one would want.

HOW A SAFE MILK SUPPLY IS INSURED FOR SMALL CITIES

Milk inspection is of prime necessity. In most of the larger cities laboratories are maintained where bacteria counts and chemical analyses are frequently made on samples collected from retail delivery wagons, stores, and restaurants. But the small cities and towns can not afford the expense of a tester and laboratory and it hard to give proper supervision to their milk supplies.

The United States department of agriculture suggests that a practical way for such cities and towns to insure a safe milk supply is through the cooperation of two or more adjacent towns in hiring a milk inspector and maintaining a laboratory. The cost of supervising such a plan may be prorated among the different towns on the basis of population without the expense being burdensome to any one of them. State and federal authorities are always willing to cooperate in work of this sort.

This plan of town cooperation in milk and dairy inspection has been carried out in different parts of the country, probably the most conspicuous example being the group of towns in northern New Jersey known as "The Oranges." In these towns the plan has been in use for a number of years with results that have been very satisfactory to all concerned.
