GOWN CREATOR SHATTERS ANCIENT PARIS TRADITION

Tries to Beat Hard Times by Inviting Press Men to Fashion Show.

That little world of its own in Paris which has to do exclusively with the creation of women's clothing has been thrown into a high state of excitement through the recent "radical" departure of one of its leading members in inviting newspaper men to view his spring and summer dresses.

In doing so the dressmaker smashed a tradition as old as the Paris dressmaking business itself, which has always boasted of the fact that it needed no newspaper to assist it to greatness.

The representatives of the press have been rigorously barred heretofore and many of the big establishments whose names are well known to American women have gone so far as to demand a special passport with a picture from all those who entered their establishments. Those few special fashion writers who have obtained admission were made to believe they had been highly honored.

Jean Patou, a young Frenchman with American ideas, decided recently that his associates were wrong. He therefore arranged a special party, invited all the best-known newspapermen in Paris—foreign and French—and revealed to them the secrets of his art. Anyone was free to carry away a careful description of the gowns displayed.

Patou's move has caused great discussion in the Paris fashion world and there is much speculation as to whether it will force other dressmakers to open their doors to the press. Many well-known houses which have felt the pinch of recent hard times are wondering whether they are wrong.

INTERESTING ITEMS OF COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Clara B. Carroll, of Whitecloud school, has been offered the position for the coming year. If she accepts, she will open her third year in that school in September. The school is a large and growing one.

The Amity parent-teacher circle held its regular monthly meeting on the evening of April 3. The business matters of the circle were discussed for a time, a literary and musical program was rendered, after which, the county school superintendent gave a short address on "America's Altered World Relations."

Rumor has it that the Amity school board will retain the entire corps of teachers with the exception of those planning to make changes. The school is in a very satisfactory condition, under the efficient management of Prof. B. A. Teats, and his splendid group of teachers.

The new version of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin" was quite generally printed in the county papers recently, and will appear in the May number of the Oregon Teachers' Monthly. It was prepared by a pupil in Miss Besse Harsberger's school, No. 7, the Briedwell school. The name of the pupil is Darrell Williams.

Mrs. Washbond, of West Chehalis school, No. 10, has accepted her position for the third year. Miss Blenkinsopp, the primary teacher, was offered her position, but will not teach next year.

H. F. Aker, of the Carlton high school, was recently called to the old home in California by the illness and death of his mother. He returned a few days ago and has again taken up his work.

Carlton has been selected as the location of the next local institute. The date will be May 6th.

Club report cards from the clubs in Moore's Valley school district indicate that Miss Goodmote and her pupils are doing very efficient work. The interest in the club work is good in all schools that have taken up the work.

Essays written in the contest arranged by the dentists of the state are continuing to arrive in the office of the county superintendent. The county winners must have their essays in Salem by April 20. Unless the essays arrive here very soon, there will not be time enough to have them judged and sent to Salem by that date. Please mail your district winning essays to the county superintendent at once. Some very fine productions are being received.

The people of district 42, the McKinley school, are talking of dividing the district, and erecting two new school houses during the summer.

Miss Oca Belt, leader of the cooking club in the Pike Valley school, called at the office of the county superintendent on April 4, and reported intense interest among the members. Harschel Obye, the teacher in the Pike Valley school is leader of the potato club.

D. L. Terry, principal of the Springbrook school, has accepted a position in Tillamook county for next year. His salary will be $1440 for a nine months' term.

Mrs. Hollister, of the Ballston school, attended the institute in Sheridan on April 1st. We are always glad to have teachers attend from other counties.

The school in district 82, the Deer creek school, will close at the end of the six months' contract, as all pupils who belonged in the district have moved away. Some outsiders were in attendance, and as the teacher has a contract for the full six months, school will continue for that length of time.

Happy Valley school is to have a new play shed soon. The report comes to us from the teacher, Mrs. Arthur.

Mrs. Ona Churchman, of Rock Creek school, will teach in eastern Oregon next year, as her husband has located in that part of the state.

The Sheridan Institute
The regular monthly meeting of the Yamhill county teachers' association was held in Sheridan on Saturday, April 1, President Titus, presiding. Dr. Parsons, of the U. of O., gave the opening address on some very important social problems, and the teachers were led to see their responsibility in the matter.

After a short recess, the teachers gathered in the departments. Dr. Parsons gave an interesting address in the high school department, Miss Arbuthnot gave some very live geography work in the advanced department, while Miss Ida Mae Smith instructed an interested group in the primary work.

Luncheon was then served in the high school building by the ladies of Sheridan, and the seventy-five teachers present expressed their intense appreciation for the splendid luncheon and the courteous treatment.

The afternoon session was opened by a half hour literary and musical program by the pupils of the Sheridan school. The program included many splendid numbers, among which were orchestra selections by the Sheridan high school orchestra.

Prof. L. S. Shumaker, of Linfield College, gave the first lecture of the afternoon session, taking for his subject, "Christ, the Great Teacher." He followed carefully the work of the Savior as a teacher, showing clearly that He not only taught the greatest facts ever taught since the world began, but also that his methods of teaching have never been equaled down to the present time. Prof. Shumaker made it clear that a study of the teachings of Christ not only will give a teacher the proper viewpoint for herself and her pupils both for this life and for the one to come, but that it will give her methods that will make her successful in imparting to the pupils the practical knowledge she is called on to teach.

The department work was arranged just as it was during the morning session, with the exception that Prof. Shumaker took the place of Dr. Parsons in the high school department.

At 3:25 the teachers reassembled for the regular "round table" and an interesting half hour was spent in the profitable exchange of views

Mrs. L. writes:

"I am convinced there is a difference in baking powder. I have been using any old powder for ten years but my cakes are 100 per cent better since I bought a can of Royal Baking Powder. I recommend it to any housewife who thinks she knows all about cake making with any kind of powder."

on "supervised study." The "round table," a new feature introduced this year, is proving very interesting, and will doubtless become a permanent feature of the program.

At 4:00 the teachers adjourned to meet in Carlton on May 6, at 10.00 for the last meeting of the current school year.

ALL WEEK LONG
The week had gloomily begun
For Willie Weeks, a poor man's Sun.
He was beset with bill and dun,
And he had very little Mon.
"This cash," said he, "won't pay my dues,
I've nothing here but ones and Tues."
A bright thought struck him and he said:
"The rich Miss Goldlocks I will Wed."
But when he paid his court to her,
She hisped, but firmly said, "No
Thur."
"Alas," said he, "then I must die!
Although hereafter I may
Fri."
They found his gloves, his coat and hat;
The coroner upon them
Sat.

GERMANY LOST 199 U-BOATS

Paid Dearly for Submarine Activities Against Allies.
Germany paid an enormous price for the submarine warfare she waged during the World war, according to figures from the war archives of the German admiralty, recently made public. Out of a total of 1,014 casualties among naval officers, excluding marines and coast artillery, 518 perished in submarines; 86 more were slain in aircraft battles and only four out of every ten naval officer casualties met death in their element for which they were originally trained.

The exact number of submarines lost during the war, before the fleet surrendered to the allies, was, according to official figures, exactly 199. The commanders of 140 of these vessels perished with their ships, as indicated by the ominous dagger sign before their names in the official lists.

The virtual certainty of death for all engaging in submarine warfare hindered toward the end the activities and enterprise of German submarines and made it increasingly difficult to get crews to man those floating coffins. The Zeppelins made but a little better record, as 23 out of 29 rigid dirigibles were lost during the war, proving veritable death traps for their commanders and the entire crews.

WILD CAT INVASION SERIOUS

Animals Too Cunning to Be Caught in Steel Traps.
Wildcats have invaded the poultry districts of Whidby Island, Wash., in such numbers as to endanger the industry.

Ranchers have resorted to the unusual method of trapping the chicken eating pests by baiting large halibut hooks with meat and hanging them from branches of trees near the ranches. The wildcats leap for the meat, either becoming hooked in the mouth or by one foot.

They are too cunning to step in the common open-jaw steel trap, so this expedient has proved the one method by which hundreds have been caught. The pelts are sold to Seattle fur buyers who ship them east under the guise of lynx cats.

Bandits Give Victims Carfare Home.
Three armed men handed each of their victims a 50-cent piece "to pay their carfare home," after holding up and robbing eight persons in a store in New York city.
