Bishop Clark is a forceful and pleasing speaker and an able exponent of the scriptures, and we are certain that all who attend these services will be pleased and will receive spiritual help.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Evening services commence thirty minutes later next week. Two special days are before us and should be borne in mind. May 14th is Mothers' day, and June 4th is Children's day. On each of these days the children will present special programs so that everyone interested in the children should make a particular effort to be present at both of these hours. Two sermons that will exalt the book of books are promised for next Sunday. At 11:00 the pastor will speak of the "Universal Book;" and at 8 p. m. the topic will be "Sentiment and Scripture." Those who love the word of God will enjoy these topics which aim to create within the hearers a deeper regard for and attention to the "Impregnable rock of holy scripture."

Work on the basement for preparing better accommodation for our growing bible school is on the way and we look forward to the day when we shall have the best of quarters for those who desire to acquaint themselves with the greatest of subjects.

Much is being said concerning the supposed depravity of our young girls. Without entering into any controversy it must be admitted that Newberg also has a goodly number of the finest specimens of pure girlhood, many of whom were present at the church last Lord's day evening. A word to mothers who are concerned about their girls. Let them find for companions girls of their own age who are in the church and let them have an opportunity to use their talents in the Master's service.

This is the only solution to the present problem. Edison says he has found the best way to avoid temptation is to be constantly busy with something worth while. What is more worth while and productive of lasting good than earnest Christian effort. The two Christian Endeavor societies of this church present the finest of opportunities for the development and expression of christian character.

Special social for the young people Friday night of this week. Every young man and woman who can spare the time is invited to be at the church at 8 p. m.

Hours of service for the summer months: Bible school 9:45 a. m.; communion 11:00 a. m.; intermediate C. E. 5:00 p. m.; senior C. E. 7:00 p. m.; preaching service 8 p. m.; prayer meeting Wednesday 8:00 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all. C. H. Phillips, minister.

HOLD TO OLD GLORIES

Manchus Retain Ancient Ceremonies of Former Dynasty.

Emperor, Though Virtual Prisoner in Forbidden City, Receives Homage of Attendants According to Ancient Forms.

Pekin.—In spite of the fact that Ching dynasty has been out of power since 1911 and the present emperor of China is a virtual prisoner in the forbidden city of Pekin, all ceremonies connected with the Manchu emperors are still kept up.

At the recent Chinese New Year's celebration the customary honor was paid to the spirits of the emperors in their resting places at the Eastern Tombs. Offerings of food and provisions were placed before the tombs and the old Manchu officials who are still retained in office by the Ching dynasty kowtowed according to the custom prescribed in Manchu house law for the imperial family.

These officials are experiencing considerable difficulty in following out all the old customs because of the lack of funds available for the upkeep of the emperors' tombs. The funds promised to the imperial family by the republican government are usually very tardily paid, with the result that poverty is facing the one-time affluent Manchus.

At the eastern tombs many of the Manchus, deprived of the annual stipend formerly paid by the imperial government, have been forced to become gatherers of wood and charcoal in order to support themselves.

The old towns and villages are falling into ruins, the forests of the huge tract devoted to the burial of the emperors are fast becoming devastated and the monumental tombs are beginning to fall into ruin and decay.

Every effort is being made by the officials of the tombs, however, to maintain the glory of the dead emperors, and the ceremonies at New Year's typified the attitude of these faithful adherents of a departed order who refuse to allow the glory of the Ching dynasty and the Manchu rule to be dimmed.

HUNTS INDIAN RELICS

Dr. J. A. Mason of Chicago is one of a number of scientists connected with the Field museum of Chicago, who will visit different sections of the world in search of material for the Field museum. Doctor Mason has gone to South America to open up a number of Indian graves in the hope of securing trinkets and relics of the old Indian tribes in South America.

CLOSE U. S. HUNGARY RELIEF

Warm Letter of Thanks Sent by Cable to Secretary Hoover by President of Committee.

London.—Owing to the steadily improving food conditions in Hungary, the American relief administration has closed its offices. Stocks sufficient to carry the relief work up to next June have been left for distribution by the local committee, whose president, Prof. James Bokay, has sent the following cable to Herbert Hoover, chairman of the American relief administration:

"Permit me to convey on behalf of this suffering nation its undying gratitude for the noble humanitarian work which America under your esteemed leadership has extended to us in our hour of need. May you be given strength for continuation of your great world leadership."

Since August, 1921, when the American relief administration started operating in Hungary, 42,000,000 meals have been served and the total value of food and clothing distributed amounts to $1,205,639.

Infant Grows More Teeth.

Duluth, Minn.—Physicians are marveling over the case of Alice Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Collins of Hinckley, Minn., who although less than a month old, has grown two sets of teeth. A dentist extracted two teeth from the infant's mouth two weeks after birth. Physicians examined the infant afterward and discovered two more teeth growing in the place of those extracted. The infant is reported to be normal otherwise.

"ANGEL" WANTED THE MONEY

Evidently Backer of Show Was Tired of Its Making Nothing but Good Impressions.

The manager of a burlesque show told the following incident of his theatrical career:

"Fifteen years ago a certain Chicago 'angel' staked me to a small repertory show, instructing me to make one-night stands in Kansas. Our show was terrible, indeed, but finally we left Chicago.

"Our first step was Topeka. After the night's performance I sent a telegram to my 'angel,' saying: 'Topeka receipts $92.50. Made a good impression here.'

"The next night we played in Hutchinson. After the show I wired: 'Hutchinson receipts $52.50. Made a splendid impression here.'

"The next night found our troupe in Chanute. My telegram that night read: 'Chanute receipts $21. Made a wonderful impression here.'

"Several hours later I was at the Chanute depot with my troupers when the telegraph operator handed me a telegram. It was from my 'angel.' The message said: 'Make one more impression—then come home.'"

Electioneering Expenses in France.

Whereas electioneering in Great Britain is nothing like so expensive as it used to be, the tendency in France is all the other way, for there is no limit imposed on the amount a candidate may spend. In an article advocating the need of a law to restrict election expenses M. Jean Barnard remarks: "My old friend Floquet told me that in 1891, when he was first elected for the Eleventh arrondissement of Paris, the election cost him only 1,500 francs. At the general election of 1891, when he was defeated Floquet spent 25,000 francs, and I had to spend even more than that when I stood for the same constituency in 1910. My opponent's victory on this occasion is said to have cost him 200,000 francs, and I believe that estimate to be by no means exaggerated."—Manchester Guardian.

One woman writes:

"A domestic science teacher said it was the lightest cake she had ever tasted or seen—but remarked that I used at least six eggs in every cake. She wouldn't believe I used only two—until I showed her exactly how I made it. Now she uses nothing but Royal." Mrs. G. S.
