

NEWBERG GRAPHIC

I. L. PATTERSON IS THE CHOICE OF THE PEOPLE

FARMERS STRONGLY BEHIND HIM

Gets Endorsement of the Motor Vehicle League of Oregon by a Large Pre-Primary Vote

Senator I. L. Patterson of Polk county, whose candidacy the Graphic previously announced following the meeting of all candidates here some weeks ago because it felt that he was the logical one to represent the great state of Oregon as its governor, looks like a certain winner in the coming primary for the gubernatorial nomination. Senator Patterson has the backing of the farmers all over the state which is in itself a big thing in his favor. Then he will carry Polk and surrounding counties where he is well known by a very large majority. In addition to all this the Motor Vehicle League of Oregon, which comprises some 4,000 members has voted their endorsement of Senator Patterson by a very large majority.

The writer conversed with Mr. Hemming, secretary of the league, this week and learned the following facts directly from him. The league is organized for the purpose of protecting motor traffic in this state and has drawn into its organization about 4,000 members, scattered all over the state. Whenever any question of a political nature arises it is at once referred to an entire membership vote. This has been done in regard to the coming election of governor in this state and as a result of this vote, Senator I. L. Patterson of Polk county won the endorsement of the league by a majority of all votes cast and outstripped any one of his competitors by more than four to one.

In considering this result, one should take into consideration the fact that no propaganda in favor of Mr. Patterson was sent out by the league but merely the following statement: "Fellow Member: It has been decided to endorse a full ticket at the coming primary, May 19th, 1922. Only candidates whose stand on the motor vehicle question is right will be considered. I shall appreciate your putting a cross opposite the names of the various candidates who are your choice, and returning the advisory ballot to our office as soon as possible." Following this a full state ticket was given. Should a similar vote be taken among the farmers of the entire state, there is not a question but what a similar result would be obtained in favor of Mr. Patterson.

But perhaps you are asking yourself why this is true. It is true simply because the public is tired of high taxes and a spineless governor and want a man in the executive's chair who can say, "No!" when some delegation comes along asking for tax-requiring funds. They want an executive who will see that license fees on automobiles and confiscatory taxation on property is stopped. They feel that in Senator Patterson they have such a candidate.

It is generally conceded throughout the state that there are only three real factors in the present race for governor. Two of these are very religious factors in a factional or religious fight. We believe that the great mass of voters of this state are big enough and broad enough to say that we do not want a man for or against some religious sect or some partisan effort, but we want a man who can step into the breach at this time and save the state from further encroachment of high taxation.

Senator Patterson has already established a record of economy in both his capacity as collector of customs at Portland and as state senator when he voted at all times in favor of retrenchment. His opponents can not boast of any such economy record. Senator Patterson is not a reactionary, but he is going to see that Oregon gets a government without frills. He is just concluding his campaign through the eastern part of the state and will carry that section by an almost solid vote. He will also carry southern Oregon by a good majority and will come out of Portland well to the good. We believe that he will run fully as strong in Yamhill county for a large number of people have already expressed themselves strongly in his favor to us.

Governor Olcott has decided to run on his record. He should not object if the people take him at his word. We do not believe that the man who is having to pay the taxes will be willing to accept that record and return Governor Olcott to the chair for another term. He has not made any extensive use of the item veto to control legislation of a tax-requiring nature. He did not veto the bill calling for a raise in the governor's salary. He does not even make an impressive figure as governor of the state.

On the other hand Senator Hall of Marshfield can hardly be said to embody all of the virtues of economy. Senator Hall is one of the directors of the telephone company in his community. It is said, and with him, as an associate director and vice president, is Mr. Hickman of the Pacific States Telephone Co. and we understand that his endorsement by the Patriotic

CONSTRUCTION ON LEGION- COMMUNITY BUILDING STARTED

Work of actual construction of the new legion community memorial building was commenced Monday morning when George Howland and his crew surveyed the site and laid out the lines for the piers, foundations, etc. George Howland has been awarded the job and will superintend the construction of the new building which insures a good job. Mr. Howland has built so many of Newberg's better business blocks that he has established a reputation here for good work. During the past few months he has built the Anderson garage, the Palmer garage, and the Wallace building.

Today (Thursday) a large crew of men, teams, shovels, scrapers, etc. are at work excavating and preparing the ground for further construction work. At noon a picnic dinner is to be served by the Ladies Auxiliary at the legion hall for all those who assist in this donation work.

MAY DAY FESTIVITIES AT COLLEGE DELIGHT LARGE CROWDS

The college May Day festivities were very nice and were witnessed by a large crowd on last Saturday. The parade was good, being composed of some very pretty floats representing the various classes of the college and academy as well as some from the high school and town people. The judges awarded the first prize to the butterfly float entered by the fourth year academy class, although the one driven by Mrs. Dr. Hester was a very close second.

Queen Anna was crowned with all regal splendor before a large crowd and the drills and winding of the May pole were very beautifully handled. Pacific lost a rather one-sided baseball game to Linfield college in the afternoon by a score of 11 to 3. The Baptist hitters seemed to find Pacific rather freely while the local collegians were unable to connect with Mac's curves.

PEACE ORATORICAL CONTEST FRIDAY EVENING AT COLLEGE

The state peace oratorical contest which is being held under the auspices of Pacific College at the instigation of a friend lady in the east, will take place in Wood-Mar Hall Friday evening, May 12, at 8 p. m. Five colleges will compete in this contest for a prize of $75 and a second prize of $50 as well as for the honor of competing in a national contest. The five colleges which will be represented are O. A. C., Reed College, Pacific University, Eugene Bible University and Pacific College. Cecil Pearson will represent Pacific College in this contest. An admission charge of 25c is being made.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY HAD SILVER TEA AND SOCIAL

The Y. W. Home Missionary society held their regular meeting on Friday, May 5, in the form of a silver tea and about thirty members and guests spent a very pleasant evening. After a short business meeting Miss Grace Wilson and her efficient helpers took charge and the company went Maying. The rooms were charmingly decorated, nothing being lacking from May-daisies to May-poles. The May-day daisies, however, belie their reputation that "daisies won't tell" and their wittily accurate fortunes caused much merriment. The offering goes to help the girls pay their pledges to the splendid work which the Woman's Home Missionary society is carrying on.

societies was largely brought about by the backing of Mr. Hickman. So long as a statewide movement is being launched to curb the telephone companies and get rates back to normal, we do not believe that the public will want to elect a man who is so connected with these companies for governor. However, it is not the purpose of this article to condemn the opposing candidates, but rather to tell of the strength of Mr. Patterson and believing that he is the strongest candidate in the field for governor and that he can and will do more for the farmers than any other candidate, through reducing taxes and through other legislation helpful to the farmer, we are hoping that the people will give Senator I. L. Patterson a very strong vote in this community.

ANOTHER BIG WHITNEY BOYS CONCERT COMING

DATE IS FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 19

Solos. Duets. Triple Male Quartet. Choruses. Readings, Etc., On Program as Outlined

Another big Whitney Boys concert is planned to be held at the Friends church on Friday evening May 19, as a benefit to raise funds for the purchase of new red hats and for the necessary expenses in connection with participation in the rose festival at Portland in June. If everything works out as now seems probable this concert will be a much finer one from a musical standpoint than the last one given by the boys. The chorus is singing real music now; music that would be a credit to any chorus choir.

There will be solos and also several very fine readings on the program, and the boys will be assisted by those persons who have been helping in rehearsal work. A duet will be sung by Mesdames Fred Frost and Adam Bauer and a solo by Mrs. Chas. A. Morris. A double and perhaps a triple male quartet, composed as follows: Messrs. Sears, Martin, McWhannel, Bateham, Miller, Sanderman, Perkins, Elford, Frazier and Frost will also sing. These men are all helpers of the chorus and have been organized with Mr. Frost as director. Another new feature for the Whitney boys will be that some of the boys will direct the whole chorus in several numbers. The entire program for this concert will be given in next week's Graphic but the foregoing gives enough of it to show that it will be a splendid entertainment.

The public are requested and urged to save this date for the Whitney boys and come out and help them make their expenses for the rose festival parade next month.

The boys met Tuesday evening for regular practice with Mr. Frost in charge as Mr. Morris was absent from the city. The boys enjoyed the presence of Mr. Whitney who came out from Portland for the evening. They sang exceptionally well and had a full house with many parents and visitors present. Mr. Whitney told of some of the prospective trips and good times in store for the Whitney Boys of Newberg. The local backers of the Whitney boys movement are convinced that it is very much worth while and urge everyone to pull together for the success of the chorus and the good of the boys.

May 19 is the date of the primaries. Don't overlook it.

BUNDLE DAY FOR NEAR EAST WILL BE WEDNESDAY, MAY 24

The local campaign being organized for the collection of clothing for the near-naked of the Near-East is part of a state-wide and nation-wide movement. Volunteers have been enlisted and the campaign organized in practically every community in Oregon.

One pound of clothing for every person residing in the state is the suggested quota of spare clothes to be collected on Bundle Day, May 24. Churches, clubs, schools and many other organized groups are collecting clothing, emphasizing the need of providing warm winter clothes for the protection of war orphans and refugees in the Near-East and South-eastern Russia.

"Warm clothes and shoes have to do double duty in the Near East," says J. J. Handsaker, state director of the Near East relief, who traveled extensively in that section last summer. "Not only must they keep out the wintry winds and snows out of doors, but inside the house they are called upon to replace furnaces and stoves, for the scarcity of fuel makes every day a hellish day in many of the Near East orphanages."

It is not too much to ask the people of Oregon to take a trip to their attics on Bundle Day and lay aside their cast-off garments to help clothe the near-naked of the Near East. Good is being done, on the other hand, by offering the American people the opportunity to clean out their closets of useless garments, the warmth of which will save lives in the Near East. Take your bundle to the nearest bundle station, or send directly to Near East relief, Portland. Bundles should reach Portland not earlier than May 24 or later than May 30. Doubtless the cold weather which we are experiencing is due to the snow in the mountains and if so, no one can say just when it will moderate. (That ought to bring good weather.)

OREGON CONTRACT CO. TO PAVE RIVER STREET

CONCRETE BID WINS CONTRACT

Property Owners Petition City Council to Let Lowest Bidders Have Contract

The city council met in special session last Monday night to let the bids for the paving of River street. There was a very large attendance on the part of various representatives of the various paving companies and the citizens of Newberg. Every member of the city council was present and the mayor called the meeting to order and called upon the representatives of the Oregon Contract Co. to state their side of the controversy. Mr. Theodore Arenz represented this company and stated that he would first make a comparison of the bids, which he did. He said that their bid was on the basis of a 5 1/2 inch pavement with 6 1/2 inch center, which would average 6 inch and that the bitulithic bid was for a five inch pavement on a dirt base. He said that the state highway department were at present calling for bids on a strip of road where it was to be of dirt base and would not accept any bids on bitulithic pavement for this piece of road. He said that their bid was $4,500 lower than their competitor's and thought the council could not do anything but let them have the contract.

The mayor then called for the reading of a communication from the property owners living on River street. This communication was in the nature of a petition to the council asking that the bids be let to the Oregon Contract Co. they being the lowest bidder. A representative of the Warren Construction Co. asked the mayor what proportion of the property involved was represented on this petition. The mayor in turn asked that some resident of River street answer the question and it was stated that the petition represented 100% of those living on that street and at least 70% of all property.

This seemed to settle the matter as far as the council was concerned and Councilman Ormond moved that the bid of the Oregon Contract Co. be accepted. Upon calling the roll every councilman voted "yes" and thus the Oregon Contract Co. was awarded the contract. The council then voted to return the checks of all other bidders, which was done. Several other matters in connection with preparations for the paving were taken up before the council adjourned.

The Oregon Contract Co. is composed of Theodore and George C. Arenz and they are the ones who laid the concrete paving from the city limits to West Dayton. This is apparently a fine piece of paving. Mr. Arenz was asked by some of the River street people shortly after the meeting as to when they would commence work and he stated that they would begin grading in about thirty days.

FOUNDERS DAY CELEBRATED AT CHAMPOEG LAST SATURDAY

The twenty-second celebration of Founders Day which was held at Champeg last Saturday, was a very successful event according to reports from those who attended. However, so far as we can learn, not many from this place were in attendance. Songs and speeches were the order of the day, the songs being by the audience, led by Carrie C. Adams, and the speeches being by Col. Fred V. Holman, Mrs. Wilkins, Miss Ellen Chamberlain, H. D. Wagoner, J. D. Lee, H. G. Starkweather, Judge Fred Wilson of The Dalles, John U. Smith, British Consul Trant, Charles B. Moores, and others.

Addison Bennett in an account of the gathering at Champeg has the following to say of the event which was being commemorated, in Sunday's Oregonian: "Hallowed Ground Consecrated. It may be that I am a crank on this natal day business. Indeed, I hope I am, and try to be, for the proceedings of that day on the hallowed ground beside which I am writing, struck me as being the most momentous ever enacted in this country. Let the reader remember that there were 192 persons present on that day. The notice had been sent out several days before, and 102 was the result of attendance."

"When Joe Meek called for a divide and stepped to one side, 51 followed him; in the ranks of the opponents to the good government—to any government, it might be said—to an even 50 lined up, and the count was made by the secretary and announced as 52 to 50. Now let us consider what would have happened under the present-day petting and hair-splitting. There would have been objections to gain delays, the count would have been disputed, and it would have taken months, perhaps years, to thresh the case out in the courts. "But our Champeg friends of 1843 were not of that stripe of breed. They were honest—honest to the core—and all went their way to their homes, after consenting to

SENATOR PATTERSON ISSUES A CHALLENGE TO SENATOR HALL

In a letter to Senator Chas. Hall, Senator Patterson's headquarters calls upon Mr. Hall to meet Mr. Patterson on the platform at Albany, Oregon City, and Astoria on the evenings of the 12th, 13th and 15th respectively to divide time in a discussion of campaign matters. In the letter to Mr. Hall attention is called to the compromising position in which Mr. Hall is placed as a candidate for governor in view of a report of the Coos and Curry Telephone Co. on file with the public service commission which shows that Mr. Hall is president of this company and that C. E. Hickman of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. controlled the great majority of the stock in the Coos and Curry Telephone Co. There is a bill coming up at the fall election which would make the public service commission appointive by the governor.

FORMER NEWBERG MAN IN CONCERT AT ALBANY

The following from the Albany Evening Herald of recent date will be of interest to the many friends of Glenn Taylor who resided in Newberg several years and moved to Albany less than a year ago:

"A success and a real treat to the music lovers of Albany was the musical given last evening at the Methodist church by the Tay-Bur-Tee trio, according to those attending. About four hundred people were present, the main floor and balcony being filled. The platform was decorated with flowers entwined on lattice work. Chinese lanterns casting about their soft glow completed the suggestion of an oriental garden."

The personnel of the trio consists of Lural Burgrag, organist; Nels Teeters, baritone; and Glenn Taylor, violinist. Ushers last evening were the Misses Faye Lake, Louise Austin and Fern Lake. Following is the program given: Convocation: "Poet and Peasant" overture, F. von Suppe; Mr. Burgrag; "Give Me the Open Road," Ambrose, Mr. Teeters; Hungarian Dance No. 5, Brahms, Mr. Taylor; "I Gathered a Rose," Lee, trio; "March of the Gnomes," Stoughton, Mr. Burgrag; "The Sea," McDowell, Mr. Teeters; (a) "Minuet L' Antique," Paderweski; (b) "Canto Amoroso," Sammartini, Mr. Taylor; "Addio," Tosti; "A Perfect Day" (by request), Jacobs-Bond, trio.

PROF. LONG OF O. A. C. TO SPEAK AT SPRINGBROOK

Prof. Long of O. A. C. will speak at Springbrook school house at 8 p. m. Friday at which time, he expects to arrange for a three years demonstration course in this community. His talk will be along lines of pruning, fertilization and spraying and will be featured with blackboard demonstrations, making the lecture of special interest and value to the berry growers. This is an unusual opportunity and every berry grower should be present from all over this section of the county as the meeting is of very general scope and not limited to Springbrook people.

tax themselves for the support of their new government, feeling that the case was settled for all time by that slender majority of two.

Crisis Met Manfully

"I am not much of a historian. There are some things written large on the pages of Oregon history that make me feel mighty, mighty small and insignificant. And that division on the plains of Champeg on the second day of May, 1843, makes me feel very, very small. I know what I would have done had I been one of the fifty—I would have started then and there a movement to upset the recorded vote of 52. At least that is the way I feel about it, perhaps, had I been a pioneer of the 30's or 40's I would have acted just as they actually did that day."

BLOSSOM DAY IS CELEBRATED AT DUNDEE

ORCHARDS GOWNED IN BEAUTY

Mrs. E. S. Greer Tells of Day's Happenings in Red Hills and Describes Magnificent Scenes

Blossom Sunday! Such a wonderful world! Persons who had traveled extensively and who drove through part of the Willamette Valley and up into the Red Hills said they had never seen anything like it or anything more beautiful. Old residents of the vicinity pronounce it the most beautiful blossom time we have had, partly on account of the new acreages of prunes that are just coming into bloom, and partly because of the lateness of the season, bringing practically all the trees out at once, also giving a touch of green to the new leaves, just starting, a particularly lacy effect with the blooms that does not come when an early season brings only the snowy whiteness of the blooming trees.

Coming from either Newberg or Dayton one enjoys the patches of prune orchards with the grain fields and woodlands breaking the landscape, and then a turn into the road leading to the Red Hills west of Dundee where miles and miles of blossoming trees stretch away on both sides. The gray of the branches and tree trunks, the freshly turned red earth beneath, stretches of evergreen forest in the background, a glimpse of the river and the homes in the valley, with their diversified farming, and beyond all, the purple hazy slopes of the distant mountains make a wonderful color scheme. Mt. Hood and Mt. Jefferson, in deference to the glory of the orchards, refused to show their gleaming white sides on Sunday but one felt their presence, and in fact, every now and then the clouds, shrouding them looked as though they would part and let our Cascade giant friends shine forth in their grandeur. Dundee's beautiful farm homes, nestled among the trees, were never more attractive than on Sunday, the early spring flowers and lawns showing to advantage, dotted here and there in the midst of the larger beauty of the orchard scene. Wild flowers, too, did their best to add gaiety. Patches of pasture land, yellow with buttercups and in spots white-carpeted with wild strawberries, oriental rinks woven of the millions of tiny pink blooms of the alfalfa and the delicate leaves of this modest plant, dandelions, beautiful unweeome guests though they are, and the various other wild flowers, all gave variety of color and form. Nor must one forget the cherry orchards, the maple trees covered with their yellow tassels, the oaks with the tints of red in young leaves and the graceful lichens hanging from every branch and twig, an occasional apple tree showing pink, and the dogwoods just beginning to bloom.

Our western songbirds thrilled their appreciation of the scene and the bees hummed their thanksgiving in busy contentment. As is usual at this particular time of the year Dundee homes were open to week-end visitors from afar. Space forbids more than a mention of the words of admiration from various nature lovers who drank in the beauty. One young man from Portland was so impressed that he says he hopes to be able to buy some land in Dundee and go into the prune business. Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Marr were Mrs. Anna Stow, house mother of the S. P. E. Fraternity at Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. Hazel Willard, and Miss Litcher from Dayton. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Shannahan entertained Miss Vera Jones of McMinnville and Albert Baker of Newberg. At the home of Joseph Hollingsworth, Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Moore and family of Portland were enthusiastic sightseers. The doctor, who is a busy child specialist, found the change to our special kind of a world restful and inspiring.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Billich, Sr., entertained Misses Mary and Gertrude Ludashear and John Luda shear of Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson drove to McMinnville and brought Mr. Robinson's mother, Mrs. Simms Robinson, Miss Lizzie Handley, and Miss Mary Robinson up to the Red Hills for the week-end.

John Workman brought Mr. Milligan of Portland out to see Sylvanus Spring Farm in its blossom day beauty. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilson from Portland spent the day with William Wilson and family. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Lake and C. E. Murray of Portland and Mrs. C. F. Kuns of McMinnville were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morecroft. Mr. and Mrs. William Greenwell had a family gathering for Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hillinger of New York and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Dearborn of Dundee completed the family group. Misses Anna L. Christopher and Rose S. Young of Newberg enjoyed a drive into the Red Hills and a brief visit at Otterbrook.

Special services will be held in nearly all of the local churches next Sunday honoring Mother's Day.
