The inhabitants of a small village at last got a post office, with the grocer for postmaster, and their pride in their acquisition was at first unbounded. When complaints began to come in that letters were not being sent off, the post office department sent an inspector to investigate. "What becomes of the letters posted here?" the inspector demanded. "The people say they are not being sent off." "Of course they ain't," was the response as the grocer pointed to a large and nearly empty mail sack hanging in the corner. "Ain't sent it off because it ain't anywhere near full yet."

"Is a chicken big enough to eat when it is three weeks old?" "Why, of course not." "Well, how does it live then?"—Boys' Life.

George W. Epley

Candidate for Republican Nomination for County Commissioner

He has no pre-election promises to make as he believes public officials should be free and unpledged. He believes the interests of the whole county are of equal importance and especially so in the matter of lateral roads. Having no farm or other business, at the present time, he can and will give his entire time and attention to the county business in a business like way. As he has been interested in property and in business for many years in the county we know that he knows the desires of the taxpayers. HE IS A MAN WE CAN RECOMMEND TO THE VOTERS.

Respectfully submitted,

SHERIDAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

WILL PRESERVE HISTORIC FORT

Daughters of American Revolution Plan Reconstruction of Famous Fort Crawford.

ORIGINAL WAS BUILT IN 1812

Most Famous of Any of the Forts in the Northwest Has Fascinating History—Zachary Taylor Once Commandant.

Prairie du Chien, Wis.—Preservation and eventual reconstruction of historic Fort Crawford is forecast by the action of the Prairie du Chien chapter of the D. A. R. in securing an option on the property from W. R. Graves, its owner, in an effort to preserve it for historical purposes.

Fort Crawford was the most famous of any of the forts in the Northwest. The original post, Fort Shelby, was built during the war of 1812. Hardly had the first American troops taken possession of it, when a detachment of British troops, re-enforced by Indians, came down the Wisconsin river and laid siege to it. The garrison was forced to surrender and for a year the Union Jack floated over the frontier post and southwestern Wisconsin was a part of the British empire.

Buildings Ruined by Fire. At the close of the War of 1812 the fort was evacuated and shortly afterward most of the buildings were gutted by fire.

The American government then rebuilt the fort on the same site, calling it Fort Crawford. Later a new site was chosen a mile south on higher ground and a larger Fort Crawford was erected.

Zachary Taylor, later President of the United States, was commandant of it at one time. One of his lieutenants was Jefferson Davis, who led the southern Confederacy through the Civil war. Davis fell in love with Taylor's daughter and married her, to the great displeasure of the commandant.

The fort surgeon was Doctor Beaumont, whose assistant, Martin St. Alexis, had a bullet hole in his stomach. Through this hole Doctor Beaumont studied the processes of digestion. The experiments thus conducted still form the major part of the knowledge medical science has of the stomach and its functions. St. Alexis is mentioned in many school physiologies.

Other Notables at Fort.

Others stationed at the fort at various times were the historian, Henry Schoolcraft; the artist, George Catlin; and Gen. William Clark, Lewis Cass and Winfield Scott.

The treaties of 1826 and 1830, wherein the Indians deeded away the last of their lands east of the Mississippi river, were signed at Fort Crawford. The Black Hawk war centered about it, and Abraham Lincoln, then a young lieutenant, was stationed at the fort during this conflict. Chief Blackhawk was taken to the post as a prisoner after his capture by the Winnebago chiefs after the rout of the Sacs and Foxes at the Battle of Bad Axe.

Near the site of the fort is Fort Crawford cemetery, where those who died during their term of service were buried. The cemetery is government owned and well cared for.

7 MONTHS' GAIN, $15,000,000

Col. Humphreys Began in Mexia Oil District With "Shoestring"—Now Millionaire.

Mexia, Tex.—In a period of seven months the wealth of Col. E. A. Humphreys has increased from a few dollars to more than $15,000,000.

He began operating in the Mexia field when this was wildcat territory and he had no more than a "shoestring" to go on. The other day he incorporated into one company all of his holdings. This new corporation has a capital of $15,000,000, of which Colonel Humphreys owns 76 1/2 per cent. The remaining 23 1/2 per cent is held by the Pure Oil company interests.

Besides the oil holdings which Colonel Humphreys turned into the new company he has many other large private investments. It is stated. The two other companies, the Humphreys-Mexia Oil company and the Humphreys-Texas Oil company, which were merged into the Humphreys Oil company, will be dissolved, it is stated. The extent of the proposed operations of the new company is not as yet publicly known.

Wire Relic to Be Preserved.

Portland, Ind.—An oddity is on display in the office of Henry Martin, Jay county auditor. It is a piece of the first barbed wire ever made in this country and was brought to the auditor by L. P. Fenlag of New Corydon, northeast of this city. The wire is in links of a length of three or four inches instead of being one twisted piece as the wire is now made. The antique piece of wire will be placed in the museum of the courthouse.

Pig With Elephant Head.

Irrington, Ky.—Forrest Stith brought in a pig from a litter of eight that had an elephant head and snout and only one eye, which was in the center of its head; it had no hair. The mother came from the state fair at Louisville.

GETS MANY "REPEATS"

Presents of Princess Mary Show Remarkable Assortment.

Many Wonder What Newlyweds Will Do With 16 Jugs, 22 Clocks, 16 Silver Toast Racks and 28 Tea Services.

London.—The vast number and varied assortment of wedding presents to Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles displayed here caused many people to wonder what the newlyweds would do with the 16 jugs and bowls, 16 silver toast racks and 22 clocks in the offerings.

The late King Edward, after his marriage, found himself the possessor of 1,500 teapots of all types and descriptions, and of more than 800 cruets. It is reported that some of these are still stored in London.

Only persons who had been presented at court or who could claim personal acquaintance with either Princess Mary or her husband were permitted to tender gifts on the occasion of the recent royal wedding. Charitable and other public organizations and institutions were, of course, excepted.

This ruling perhaps saved Princess Mary the embarrassment over disposing of teapots and cruets suffered by King Edward.

A classification of the gifts exhibited at St. James' palace shows only 28 tea services were presented. Other items are 158 articles of jewelry, including bracelets, necklaces, pendants, tiaras, brooches, rings, caskets, fans and watches; a trayful of flawless, unset precious stones, 883 gifts made from precious metals, including 29 trays, 24 vases, 31 cups, 12 goblets, 18 inkstands, 25 statuettes, 14 card trays, 9 cigarette cases, 8 traveling cases and 7 workboxes; 197 books and manuscripts, 22 candelabra, 17 umbrellas, 14 lamps and shades, 17 rugs, 22 sets of cutlery, 8 wall brackets, 86 dinner services, 47 breakfast table services, 18 silver salvers, 70 pairs of gloves, 10 wedding cakes and 7 hunting crops.

While correspondents invited to a private view were being shown about the state rooms where the presents were on display, the 22 gift clocks all began the chiming at 6 o'clock at almost the same instant—and the newspaper party was ushered out as it had been invited to call "between 5 and 6 p. m."

IS CHAMPION ATHLETE

Miss Betty Schenkel, captain of the Pennsylvania railroad basketball team—the unbeaten "five" of the league, who shines in all branches of athletics and sports. She is out with a declaration that she challenges any other girl in America to a decathlon of sports for the world's championship. "Pick the sports and she will beat 'em all!"—the sports critics of Philadelphia claim. She holds all kinds of cups, medals, ribbons, certificates and other prizes for athletic accomplishments. Whether it is roller skating or bike racing—its all the same—Miss Schenkel leads all others of the fair sex when it comes to sports. She was born in Atlantic City, but now she lives in Philadelphia. She is an expert at billiards. She used to play football on a boy's team at Atlantic City, the only girl in a regular game. She captained a soccer team and is a really good boxer.

Ghostess Hurls Iron.

Meriden, Conn.—The ghost of Rheinhold Kirshtein's first wife became acutely aggrieved at his coldness and hurled a flatiron at him and Mrs. Kirshtein II, he claims.

A dent in the wall above the bed proves it.

Bombarded Wife With Rubber Bands. New York.—Dwight B. Hulings compelled his wife to sit in a chair for four hours while he shot rubber bands at her. Mrs. Hulings said in applying for a divorce.

For Senator

YAMHILL COUNTY

W. W. LUNGER

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

LAFAYETTE, OREGON

SLOGAN—Consistent reduction of taxes; eliminate unnecessary expenses; increase efficiency in public office.

VOTE 35 X

"W. W. Lunger, former representative from Yamhill county, is a formidable candidate against ex-President W. T. Vinton of the state senate, who seeks re-election to the upper house. * * * Lunger, is certain to make an impression throughout the county, irrespective of how many votes he finally carries, as he is one of the cleverest debaters in the state, and is especially capable when it comes to embarrassing an opponent. Lunger originally was the pivot man in the 1917 house, when the fate of the $5,000,000 road bonding bill hung in the balance. He saw what the measure could do for Yamhill county, and finally came out for it, and what he said in the house debate had more weight than anything said by any other speaker. Meanwhile he campaigned for the bonding measure and the good roads cause, being the most effective speaker in its behalf at grange meetings all over the state. About a year ago he became a critic of the state highway commission, due to wasteful methods followed in Yamhill county, mistakes made by the engineering force. He endeavored to secure correction of these mistakes but without avail, and then launched into criticism of the state highway engineer and of the legislature for permitting his salary to be raised a year ago. Should Lunger be elected, it is very likely that the state highway construction force would have to answer some shrewd and caustic criticism, as Lunger is a resourceful fighter and cross-examiner. Although he has been a farmer for many years, he formerly was one of the leading attorneys of the state of Iowa, whence he came. Vinton is very strong in Yamhill county, especially around the county seat of McMinnville, where he has resided and practiced law for years."—Oregon Voter.

Be sure to go to the primaries and make your choice for the fall election. Now is the time.

OREGON

O. H. FITHIAN

Republican Candidate

Williams a Joke as Vice Chairman

Fithian's opponent, Ralph E. Williams, has been sidetracked by the National Committee to a harmless vice-chairmanship and is useless to Oregon. Carrying kid gloves in one hand and a cane in the other, his hands are full and he has not been able to do a single thing for Oregon during the 14 years he has been on the Committee.

If the hours spent by Williams at Portland's swiftest club had been devoted to working for Oregon, he might have accomplished something for our people.

What is Wrong With Williams?

Williams has no chance of becoming National Chairman and running the presidential campaign in 1924, or even the Western end of it.

The reason is that the National Committee seems extremely unwilling to trust Williams with the management of even the Pacific Coast part of the national campaign. For instance, in 1918, when a Regional Director for the coast was selected, the Committee turned Williams down in favor of Raymond Benjamin of San Francisco. Then, in 1920, when Harding was running, Williams was again ignored and Elmer E. Dover of Tacoma was chosen to conduct the Campaign on the Coast.

What is wrong with Williams?

Is Williams Loyal to Nominees?

All over Oregon Republicans are discussing Williams' connection with the campaigns of certain Republican nominees for United States Senator, and are asking the question, DID WILLIAMS DO HIS FULL DUTY BY THEM? This question is being asked by friends of the late Senator Fulton in Astoria. It is being asked in Eugene by friends of Senator R. A. Booth, in Salem by friends of Senator McNary and in Portland by friends of Senator Stanfield.

VOTE FOR FITHIAN

FITHIAN is a successful business man, a live wire, a lifelong Republican who WILL BE LOYAL TO THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEES. FITHIAN WILL GET THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE AND THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT TO HUSTLE FOR OREGON.
