THE OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS WAS CLOSED HERE ON MONDAY

Visiting Delegates Attend From Distant Points—Reports Show Splendid Progress

Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends met at Newberg June 14 to 19 with members in attendance from Portland, Salem, and numerous small towns in Oregon and yet others from Washington and Idaho.

Visiting Friends were present from Ohio, Indiana, Kansas and California; notably Walter C. Woodward, general secretary of the Five Years Meeting of Friends in America; Evangeline Reams, prominent Friends rescue worker; Arthur Hendrickson, an evangelist; and Arthur B. Chilson and family, missionaries returned from Africa.

Epistles containing messages of friendship, encouragement and exhortation to service along particular lines were received from various American yearly meetings and from two recently founded European meetings, one held at Bilthoven, Holland, and one at Stuttgart, Germany.

President Levi T. Pennington was presiding clerk with Mrs. Frank Elliott of Salem, Oregon, as recording clerk, and Arthur Street of Greenleaf, Idaho, as reading clerk. Prof. Oliver Weesner was elected treasurer of the yearly meeting for the year 1922-23.

Missions

The various branches of church activity were considered. L. Clarkson Hinshaw, evangelistic and church extension superintendent, made his report a plea for great advances along evangelistic lines in the yearly meeting and for increased interest and investment in home mission work, which includes work in cities, among southern mountaineers, among southern negroes, and work for American Indians. It was he who urged upon friends here the support of the mission in Africa to which they have promised to pay, this year, $3,640.

Pacific College

The approach of Pacific College toward standardization was a matter of interest to assembled Friends. Dr. Zook, representative of the national board of education, has returned a report defining the improvements required for standardization and with these in consideration the following steps will be taken or are being taken: First, 2000 new books will be added to the library, making it, considering its size, one of the best and most serviceable in the state.

Second, the present amount of laboratory equipment will be doubled.

Third, the academy will be completely separated from the college, will have its own corps of teachers and will be housed in the old college building.

Fourth, there will be eight heads of departments on the college faculty and all will hold master's degrees and will receive larger salaries than heretofore paid.

The Pacific College board is hoping to pay for these improvements from sources other than income from the endowment.

Peace

Evangeline Martin, peace superintendent, arranged for the session for the consideration of peace, that cause in which Friends have ever taken particular interest and for which many of them have suffered in recent years. Cecil F. Hinshaw and Cecil E. Pearson gave the orations with which they represented the college in the two state oratorical contests held this year at Newberg. Cecil Pearson is to hold the office of peace superintendent in the yearly meeting for the year 1922-23.

Temperance

Mrs. Calva Martin is superintendent of temperance and had secured Mrs. Lottie Hannon of Newberg to speak. She pleaded for the support of the Volstead act through the election of trustworthy men to public offices. The greater part of her talk, however, was the presentation of the need of a home for Oregon's dependent children. At present, she says, children are being sent to the industrial school and the school for feeble minded children who do not belong there, but who have nowhere else to go. Only Catholics have made provision for dependent children, and they should not be expected nor allowed to care for homeless protestant children. She asked the support of those present for the colony of cottage homes being planned by the W. C. T. U. These homes will be situated on a farm, already in possession of the W. C. T. U., near Corvallis and their matrons will be motherly Christian women.

Mrs. Frank Elliott of Salem spoke of the need of a complete four year high school course at Chemawa Indian school. There is equipment available but at present Indians are required to go to Kansas for the last two years of work. She asked that Friends urge senators and representatives to work for a correction of this condition.

Cecil F. Hinshaw will have charge

SCHOOL ELECTION TAME

The school election which was held last Monday proved to be a rather tame affair. Very few people attended the business meeting which occurred earlier in the afternoon and only 78 votes were cast during the election. Two directors were elected the terms of W. H. Woodworth and Harlan Smith having expired. The word had been passed around that Mr. Woodworth would not accept the position but in spite of this fact, his ability was recognized and twenty voters gave him their preference on the ballot. Mr. Smith was re-elected and K. H. Sicksafoose was elected as the other director. The vote stood, H. Smith 52, K. H. Sicksafoose 41, Chas. K. Hubbard 11, W. H. Woodworth 20, and twelve scattering votes cast for seven persons. The clerk's report will be given next week.

SOME PROMINENT VISITORS SEEN BY A YOUNG FRIEND

Walter C. Woodward

Walter C. Woodward was an important visitor at Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends. To Friends in America he is Dr. Woodward, general secretary of the Five Years Meeting of Friends in America, editor of the American Friend, and president of the board of the largest American Friends college.

To his older friends in Newberg he is Ezra and Amanda Woodward's son, with much of his father's faithfulness and ability and much of his mother's gentle friendliness—one of the boys who was graduated from Pacific College with Thomas Hester in '98.

To younger friends here he is a friendly, kindly, christian gentleman, who remembers everyone, a sympathetic and well qualified public speaker—an alumnus who has made good and made Pacific proud.

Evangeline Reams

Evangeline Reams of Columbus, Ohio, was a speaker before the large Sunday afternoon audience. Her personal efforts and indomitable zeal in protecting and reclaiming unfortunate girls whose friends and relatives have forsaken in their need, those whom they have not guarded from ruin, have led to the founding of a Friends rescue home which cares for nearly four score girls.

The Chilson's of Africa

Arthur and Edna Chilson and their daughters, Esther and Rachel, all of Africa, were most honored and interesting guests. Both because of the remarkable work their station has done in providing, in a district where no written language existed, schools with native teachers who are also evangelists, in which there are ten thousand natives now receiving instruction and in performing other christian services, but also because that station is to be hereafter under the care of Oregon Yearly Meeting. With the exception of a few furloughs, Mr. Chilson has spent the last twenty years of his life in Africa. His sturdy football frame and courageous bearing at once won him the title of "Protector." And as one hears him casually mention giving medical attention to five hundred natives, protecting a native child from a brutal father, killing a predatory python, and shooting a hippopotamus for the natives' food, while discharging with his wife's help the responsibilities of the evangelization of the thirty thousand natives in his territory, one feels that his title was well chosen.

Mrs. Chilson is also a minister and sings well. She is tall and slender, with a quiet manner and a very sweet voice. She went to Africa as a bride fifteen years ago before much impression had been made on the savagery of the people, before motor-cycles and Fords made work easier and more profitable, before even bicycles could be used. She has endured the dangers and diseases while caring for her home and family and helping her husband with preaching and teaching.

Both she and her husband are eager to return to the people to whom the gospel of Christ is bringing enlightenment for degradation, purity for villainess, love for savage bestiality and happiness and hope

Sunday Services

The Sunday services were very well attended and were very impressive. The capacity of the church was severely taxed in the morning when Arthur Chilson preached. In the afternoon Evangeline Reams told of her work and received financial aid for its prosecution.

A Sunday school rally followed at which the junior choir of Newberg Friends church sang, and Mrs. Bryant of Portland, a prominent Sunday school worker, spoke.

Dr. Walter C. Woodward addressed the Christian Endeavor society in the evening, and owing to the courtesy of the German Methodists, that service was held in their church.

Frederick J. Cope, pastor of Lent's Friends church, spoke in the evening, making a special appeal to the young people to enter christian service. He received a remarkable response.

BERRIANS PLAN LARGE ENTRY IN ROSE PARADE

FLOAT IS NOW NEARLY COMPLETE

All Stores Will Close for the Afternoon and People Will Attend Parade in a Body

As the Graphic goes to press the Berrian float is about ready for its appearance in the Rose Festival parade in Portland tomorrow and in deference to this important community event, the merchants of Newberg have agreed to close their places at noon tomorrow for a half day to give everyone an opportunity to go to Portland and view the parade and boost for Newberg.

The central figure of the float's construction is a huge castle with arch openings on the four sides through which the queen and her attendants will be seen. The queen is seated on a high seat which like all of the other parts of the float is covered with flowers. At either end of the float are two giant arms bearing a mammoth loganberry and on each side are two other berries. The word Newberg appears at the top of the castle on each side while the word Berrians is worked out at the base. All of this done florally.

Red and white are the predominant colors on the float. The exterior of the castle and the ground work will be in white, while the lettering will be in red and the outline of the ground work will be traced in red. The inside of the castle will also be in solid red. The public have cooperated splendidly in furnishing flowers and helping with the work of decorating, etc. The boys of the community have also contributed generously of their time and effort in securing moss and flowers and it has been largely because of this cooperation that the float has been successfully completed.

It is perhaps too early to say what place will be given this float by the judges, but we understand that it has been entered in Class C where competition is not met with such cities as Salem and others of this class, and it is very probable that Newberg's float will this year win first prize in this class. The Berrian band and the drill team in full uniform will also add greatly to Newberg's participation this year, and the Whitney Boy Junior Berrians will also be an added feature to our part of the parade.

Whether we win any prize at all, or regardless of whatever prize we may win, Newberg is certain to get a great deal of very valuable advertising from this participation and the people of Portland cannot help but realize that the Newberg country raises berries and it should add to the rush of last year to this community for berries. The Graphic was among the first to espouse the Berrian movement and this paper takes great pride in the wonderful achievements of that organization during its first year's activity. Doubtless the present year will prove an even greater triumph for them in view of the start that has been made and the vantage point from which this year's activities commenced.

At any rate Newberg will turn out en masse tomorrow to see the great floral parade and witness the Newberg contingent in the parade and we feel sure that they are not going to be disappointed in our float, or our band, drill team or Junior Berrians.

MISSIONARY LECTURE WILL BE GIVEN AT DUNDEE

Dundee folk have a treat in store for them at the Dundee M. E. church Friday evening at 8 o'clock. An illustrated talk by a returned Chinese missionary on that interesting oriental country will be given. No admission will be charged. Come and bring the children.

Sunday will be observed as Children's Day with a special program in the Sunday school at 10 o'clock. And a special young people's theme, "A crown to the winner" will be considered at morning worship at 11 o'clock.

MISS EVAH HADLEY IS QUEEN OF BERRIANS

CONTEST CLOSED SATURDAY EVE.

Winner and Miss Eleanor Bassett in Last Hours

The contest for queen of the Berrians, who will have the honor of riding in the Berrian float in the Rose Festival floral parade at Portland on Friday of this week, closed last Saturday evening with the election of Miss Evah Hadley. The contest developed into a hard race between Miss Hadley and Miss Eleanor Bassett during the last hours of the campaign and it was only by a big flood of votes at the last count that Miss Hadley was finally elected. The contest had dragged during the week and little interest seemed manifested in the outcome until the last day when pools were formed by various friends of the contestants and when the count was tabulated at 6 p. m. Saturday it showed that Miss Hadley, who had jumped to first place, at 8:30 the count was recorded and showed Miss Hadley with 12,750 votes, while Miss Parrish had 11,855 and Miss Bassett 11,850. From that time on counts were made and posted every fifteen minutes. At 9 o'clock the score stood Hadley 13,265; Parrish 12,285; and Bassett 12,050. At 9:15 Miss Bassett had passed Miss Parrish and the votes stood Hadley 14,990; Bassett 13,550; and Parrish 12,825. At 9:30 the vote was Hadley 16,945; Bassett 14,850 and Parrish 12,935. At 9:45 Hadley 17,345; Bassett 15,050; and Parrish 13,095; and the final count was Hadley 33,060; Bassett, 22,555; and Parrish 13,535.

During the evening a parade was put on to increase interest in the contest. This parade was led by the band and following this came cars containing the various contestants and the "little attendants." The queen's robe and the attendants' dresses which were on display at the Fair store also attracted considerable attention during the evening.

On Monday Miss Hadley and a committee from the Berrians went to Portland and made all arrangements for the queen's entertainment there, including arrangements for gowns, etc. Miss Hadley is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hadley, who live on the Portland road east of town. She is a graduate of the University of Oregon school of music and is a very talented young lady in many ways. She is president of the Monday Musical club and has a rich soprano voice which has been heard in public at numerous local affairs. Because of this fact she was asked to sing for the Oregonian broadcasting on Wednesday evening in connection with the Berrian band concert which was also broadcasted by the Oregonian's radio service.

The contest grossed the Berrians about $500 which amount will go to help pay for the band uniforms after paying the expenses of the contest and the queen's expenses. This will be a big boost for the Berrians and they greatly appreciate the generous support which the public gave to this contest. The contest committee also wishes to thank the public for their cooperation in making the contest a success and they join in extending congratulations to Miss Hadley on her splendid race and the winning of the contest.

BABY DAY A SUCCESS

Last Saturday was Baby Day at the library. There were 27 splendid babies there during the day, and they were weighed and measured and examined by our local doctors and nurses. A fine exhibit of a baby's layette and bath and bassinets were on display. A large quantity of literature was distributed to the mothers. There will be another clinic held sometime this fall and we hope to have all the babies in Newberg with us. We thank the mothers for their kindly interest. Committee.

It will pay you to read the ads.

COOLEY-ALLEN NUPTIALS

The Baptist parsonage, 315 College street, was the scene of a beautiful and impressive wedding ceremony Wednesday at high noon, when Miss Carrie Lee Allen, daughter of Mrs. J. Allen of 1212 Sixth street, became the bride of Clarence N. Cooley.

The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Cox, pastor of the Baptist church. The bride was attired in a smart blue tulle of pique tulle and white hat trimmed with French flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Cooley left immediately for a motor trip to Portland, taking in the Rose Festival and proceeding to the coast where they will visit the bride's brother, Mr. Tom Allen.

STRAWBERRY PICNIC

AT THE A. HEATER HOME

About 120 members and friends of the Christian church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Heater for a strawberry feed on Sunday last. Beside those present from this neighborhood there were also Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie and Mr. and Mrs. Vest from Vancouver, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. Love from Dayton. A most enjoyable basket lunch was served after which everyone ate heartily of strawberries and cream, provided by Mr. Heater. It may be imagined with what degree of enjoyment they participated for it was learned that it took five crates of the finest of berries to accommodate the appreciative appetites of the guests. A half crate of special berries were on display and as each box contained not more than nine berries, the Vancouver visitors were much impressed with this part of the home of the Berrians.

BAND GAVE RADIO CONCERT

The Berrian band played for the Oregonian's radio broadcasting service in Portland on Wednesday night and made a splendid impression. A good program was rendered in the tower where the radio is maintained, and the band was assisted by Miss Evah Hadley, the newly elected Berrian queen, who rendered several solo numbers. The band then played on the streets of Portland and were very heartily received by a large crowd there. Newberg has a band of which all may well be proud and they will advertise our city to good advantage at the Rose Festival in Portland tomorrow, Friday. Mr. Hal Campbell, who is directing the band at the present time is proving himself to be a very capable director and the band has made a great advance during the past few months. Their playing is sure of an enthusiastic reception.

ENTHUSIASM FOR PICNIC

I desire to report that citizens of Mountain Top in the vicinity of Bald Peak are making fine response in the promoting of the picnic there next Sunday noon. I attended a meeting there Wednesday and the following were appointed on a committee to arrange grounds, parking places, rest rooms, grandstand, and to furnish wood, water, cream and camp kettles for the making of coffee: Sam Otto chairman; Henry Havelman, Ernest Gunther, L. Myers, Columbus Whitmore, George Ziegler, William Myers, Charles Taitman, J. A. Bronson and L. T. Proctor.

Something in the nature of a surprise is hinted for a part of the program after lunch. J. U. Smith, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

AT YEARLY MEETING

A great many former residents of Newberg, who have drifted into other localities, were in attendance at Friends Yearly Meeting. Among these were: Jeremiah Osborn from Antiat, Wash.; Jesse Hobson of Portland, brother of Mrs. A. T. Blair, and son of William Hobson, who was founder of the Friends church at this place, Newton Maris of Portland, Paul Maris, a graduate of Pacific College and now teaching at O. A. C. Owen Maris, who is now employed in the U. S. Bank of Portland, and John Ritchie and wife of Scotts Mills, Oregon.

WHITNEY BOYS NOTICE

We have been asked to announce that the Newberg Whitney Boy Junior Berrians will assemble on east Sixth street, between Hawthorne and Belmont streets, Portland, Friday for the floral parade. Every citizen who can make room for a Whitney boy in their auto going down, is urged to do so.

H. M. WALLACE DIES FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

WAS AN EFFICIENT NIGHT OFFICER

Military Funeral Was Held from M. E. Church Thursday Morning—Stores All Closed

A very sad accident occurred on the Newberg-Portland highway last Friday, which resulted in the ultimate death of H. M. Wallace, Newberg's efficient night marshal. Mr. Wallace, in company with Earl Hutchinson, was riding north in pursuit of an auto which was considered suspicious in view of the bank robbery which occurred that afternoon. The report which came to Newberg was that a bank at Salem had been robbed and that the robbers were headed this way in an auto. Mr. Wallace had been stationed at the bridge to watch traffic and he had sent Earl Hutchinson, who was with him, up town after his gun. Hutchinson was told of the auto passing and notified Wallace who asked him to accompany him in the pursuit.

They were hot on the trail and after topping the Rex hill, Mr. Hutchinson states that Wallace's machine did not seem to respond as it should, but he kept coming along and when they went to turn the corner near the union house a short distance beyond Six Corners, Wallace, who had been behind, caught up and in making the turn on the inside of Hutchinson, ran into the latter's motorcycle. Hutchinson saw that he could not save himself and so let go, sliding along for about two hundred feet and wearing a hole in his clothes, bruising his hip and skinning one arm very badly. However, Wallace endeavored to stay with his machine and after a futile effort at keeping it in the road it shot across the road and into the ditch on the opposite side, throwing Wallace. Somewhere in the accident, he struck his head, causing concussion of the brain.

Dr. Utter, who came up, started to take Wallace back to Newberg, but at the top of Rex hill they were met by Dr. Rankin, who made a quick examination and advised taking him to a Portland hospital. He took him in his car and started out. In the meantime word was sent in to Portland for an ambulance and this met them on the way and took him the rest of the way. He was taken to the St. Vincent's hospital but never fully regained consciousness and passed away at 5:50 p. m. on Monday.

Mr. Wallace came to Newberg with his family in September, 1919, when he entered the employ of S. E. Winchester at his barber shop. Two years later, in September, 1921, he took the position of night marshal for the city and in this capacity made good in every way, proving himself to be an exceedingly efficient officer.

One of the saddest features is that Mr. Wallace leaves a widow and two little daughters, Jane aged four and Maxine aged about two. The father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, live near Newberg, as do also two brothers, Paul and George, and a sister, Olive.

The Wallaces came to Newberg from Gardiner, Oregon, but had previously lived at Halsey, Oregon, where Mrs. Wallace's people live. Mr. Wallace enlisted in the service at Albany, Oregon, a short time before war was declared and served with the coast artillery during the war. He was a member of the Lester C. Rees Post American Legion at this place.

A military funeral was held from the M. E. church at 10 a. m. Thursday under the auspices of Lester C. Rees Post American Legion. Rev. Reynolds, an old friend of the family, spoke at the services, and Rev. Chas. E. Gibson, pastor of the local church, also spoke. Evangelist Ross led in prayer. The procession to the cemetery was led by the band, following which came the legion men, colors, firing squad, casket with guard and pall bearers, all being Legion men. The city council and various city officials all attended in a body and the mayor issued a proclamation asking all business houses to close during the hour of the funeral, which was quite generally complied with.

CANNERY RUNS ON CHERRIES

The local cannery has finished their run on gooseberries, and strawberries will probably be finished this week. They are now running on soft cherries such as Rockfort, Governor Wood and some of the larger white seedlings. Major Francis, Ox Heart, Eltons and pie cherries will be ready to pick next week.

Be sure your campfire is dead, then bury it.
