Meade Elliott left last Saturday evening for Seabeck to attend the boys' conference at that place. The conference lasts for two weeks and Meade expects to return here after that.

F. D. Warner of Sherwood is opening up a tract of land along the west side of the highway west of Newberg and will sell this off in small tracts, from a half acre up. He is building a bungalow on one of these tracts and is offering some attractive buys in this issue of the Graphic.

D. J. Wood of Huntington Park, Calif., passed away on July 2 at the advanced age of nearly 80 years. Mr. Wood is known to the old settlers of this community, having come here in 1876 and lived here until 1887. He was one of the founders of this community and helped A. T. Blair haul the lumber for the first church in this neighborhood.

Walter C. Woodward, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Woodward, and who made the commencement address at Pacific College this year and also addresses at the Friends Yearly Meeting, left last Saturday for his home at Richmond, Indiana. He was accompanied on his trip here by his little daughter, who also returned with him.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McFarland and son, Percival, and daughter, Helen, arrived Wednesday morning from St. Louis, Missouri, and expect to remain until next Saturday. They are visiting at the home of Mrs. McFarland's sister, Mrs. Oscar Huddleston. Both of the young people are talented along musical lines and they are hurrying back home to take part in a big musical affair to be given there soon.

L. Oldenburg and family left Monday for Santa Rosa, California, where they will locate. Mr. Oldenburg has traded his residence property just east of the bridge for 2 1/2 acres of land near Santa Rosa. There are grapes, prunes, cherries, peaches, apples and other fruits on his newly acquired place. A Mr. J. W. White has taken the residence property here in the exchange and will live here. The deal also included all furniture.

Miss Du Paul, county nurse, spent Wednesday afternoon in Newberg.

Paul Irvine and mother of Portland drove up to Newberg Monday to visit friends here.

Mrs. Jennie Krohn visited Tuesday and Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. A. Williams at McMinnville.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Evans returned home Tuesday evening after a ten days' fishing trip to Dr. Hester's camp.

James McCane and Walter Ricks made a trip to Amity Tuesday. Mr. Ricks is a representative of the Ellison-White company.

Rev. and Mrs. N. Welter are moving to Portland today (Thursday), where Rev. Welter has been appointed as pastor of the St. Johns Free Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pinney and children are spending two weeks with Mrs. Pinney's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Myers, at Woodburn. Mr. Pinney is having his annual vacation at the post office.

The state highway commission will open bids on the 25th and 26th of this month on quite a number of projects, among them being the widening and resurfacing of the West Side Pacific Highway from Newberg to the Multnomah county line.

Gus Gianopoulos left last Sunday morning for Spokane, Wash., where he met his wife and returned with her, arriving here Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Gianopoulos is just returning from Greece where she has been for the past two years. They will make their home in the Clarence Butt residence on the corner of Hancock and River streets.

The Newberg Motor company reports the sale of the following: George W. Smith of Lead Hill a new touring; Van Damm a new touring; Billy Sullivan of West Chehalis, a new touring; Arthur Ranzau, a new roadster; Yamhill Electric company; a new roadster; Joe Porter, a new coupe; S. S. Vincent, a new truck; and R. W. Staley a tractor and implements.

The Commercial Hotel has again changed hands. Mrs. Margaret Clow and Mrs. Marie Nyborg, who have operated this hostelry for the past three months have sold their holdings to X. St. Jacques of Port Albina, B. C., who took possession on Wednesday of this week. Mr. St. Jacques expects to rent out furnished and unfurnished housekeeping apartments and also supply board and rooms.

Roy L. McDougall, who lives on the mountain north of Newberg, won the first prize at the Berry Festival on strawberries. Mr. McDougall raises some very fine berries and has quite a record on his patch. This year with three-fourths of an acre in strawberries he secured 345 crates of berries. He averaged $1.52 a crate for them making him $522.40 on the three-fourths acre, or at the rate of $696 an acre.

Hugh D. Rundell and wife of Portland are visiting at the home of Mr. Rundell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Rundell. In reply to the query as to how long they would visit here, Mr. Rundell remarked that his son was employed as a fireman on the logging train which runs into Newberg and that they would probably remain with them until he gets "bumped," which is the railroad man's way of stating the situation when he is transferred because of someone's else seniority over him.

Former members of the Canadian army, now residing in Newberg, were guests Tuesday evening at the cozy bungalow home of Mr. and Mrs. James McWhannel, when a dinner party was held in honor of "Private" Peat, who appeared that evening on the chautauqua platform as a peace orator. Mrs. McWhannel proved herself a charming hostess and won the hearts of the ex-canucks with the meal she served. Covers were laid for Messrs. Harold Peat, David B. Smith, John Fawkes, Kenneth Kinney, and the hosts of the evening.

J. T. King and wife returned last Sunday from a week's trip to Snohomish, Washington.

Mrs. E. H. Foster of Columbus, Ohio, is spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Eva Hummer Hull.

Miss Hattie B. Fletcher arrived from Zealandia, Sask., Canada, on visit with Mr. and Mrs. Phillips of Fulton street.

Henry Morris, who was taking treatments at Shepherd's Mineral springs, came home last week to attend the Berry Festival.

Miss Jessie Newlin, of the telephone company, returned yesterday from a two weeks' vacation, during which time she visited in Portland, Seaside and other places.

Charles Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Chapman of Salem came over last Sunday bringing with them Mr. Parker's niece, Miss Fidelia Parker, of Richmond, Indiana. Mr. Parker and the Chapmans returned to Salem that same evening, but Miss Parker remained over until Tuesday morning when she started on her return to Indiana. They were all guests at the L. M. Parker home while in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Balsizer, son of Wendell and daughter, Elva, of Ione, Oregon, visited at the home of Mrs. Balsizer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. McNay. A family reunion was held and three daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bartlett and little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Balsizer and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holcomb and son of Woodburn were in attendance. Mrs. Balsizer and daughter will remain in Newberg a week or two before returning to eastern Oregon.

Miss Margaret Garrison, who appeared on the chautauqua here Tuesday afternoon is a cousin of Mrs. K. H. Sickafosse of this place and her grandfather was one of the earliest pioneers locating south of McMinnville on the Yamhill river in 1846. Miss Garrison has the honor of being the only lady who ever won a national oratorical contest. She won the national contest held in Iowa while attending Willamette University at Salem. Miss Garrison has signed a contract to appear in lyceum courses throughout the east next winter.

Among the out of town people in Newberg on Berrian day were Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Ross and son, Louis, who spent the day as guests of Mrs. Minnie W. Cooper and mother, Mrs. Wood, old time friends. The Ross family has recently come to Portland from Denver. Mr. Ross has charge of the Oliver plow interests in the northwest, including the branch houses in Seattle and Tacoma, with headquarters in Portland. Louis Ross is a young sculptor, whose work attracted favorable comment in Denver, where he studied. He hopes to spend a few years studying in Paris and other European cities.

Chet Hannegan took Mrs. Howard Sherlock and children and Mrs. Sherlock's mother, Mrs. Poe, on a trip to the coast last Sunday, going by way of Tillamook and making the round trip by way of Seaside and Portland. On the return trip they had a bad accident near the church between Bertha station and Multnomah. They had rounded the curve and were coming up over the hill towards the church when the car got out of Mr. Hannegan's control and instead of following the pavement turned off into the field and turned completely over, smashing off one wheel, and completely demolishing the top. Several of the occupants were injured slightly in the accident, but none seriously. They were all brought home by an ambulance. The car was Mr. Sherlock's Overland.

Ernie Duncan, who has been employed by the Yamhill Electric company for a short time on the line construction gang, met with an accident last Tuesday which might have been more serious than it proved. Mr. Duncan was climbing a pole in the city of Amity and was at the top when his foot slipped and fell, falling he struck a high power wire. The shock knocked him unconscious and he was taken to a private home in Amity where there was a private nurse and a local doctor was summoned. The accident occurred at about 11:30 a. m. At latest reports Mr. Duncan was doing nicely and the effects were not considered as serious as at first. In fact it is thought that he will be brought home today (Thursday) or Friday, and although he will be in some pain, he will soon be over the worst effects. He was burned on the head and otherwise the only injury was the severe shock.

The Ford caravan, comprising some twenty or more cars, trucks, tractors, etc., arrived in Newberg Friday evening and were met at the edge of the city by the Berrian band and escorted into town. They quickly set up their equipment on the vacant lot on the corner of First and Edwards streets and here they soon had a large crowd gathered to watch them. Demonstrations of various pieces of their equipment were given and a radio outfit tried to pick up some concerts for the crowd, but were unable to get much. The moving picture outfit met with better success and showed quite a number of reels of pictures. All day Saturday and Saturday evening demonstrations were given and various stunts were put on by this aggregation. This affair proved to be quite a feature of the festival, both in the parade and in the way of entertaining the crowds. The Newberg Motor company are to be congratulated upon bringing this caravan to Newberg for this occasion.

F. W. Houser and family expect to leave Friday of this week for Gearing, Nebraska. They will drive through in their car. Mr. Houser has some large property holdings back there and wants to dispose of them so that he can return to Oregon. He will retain his property in Newberg.

It was a fine act of courtesy which the Berrians showed in routing their parade so that it would pass the residence of E. H. Woodward and enable him to enjoy it, as he could not otherwise have done because of his physical condition. Mr. Woodward has been one of the builders of Newberg and his thirty-one years at the editorial desk of the Graphic has enabled him to wield a powerful force for the upbuilding of this city. He was certainly entitled to the consideration.

Virgil Hinshaw, who was attending summer school at the University of Oregon at Eugene, was taken sick the latter part of last week and last Sunday had to go to bed. His trouble seemed to be of a spinal nature and although the doctors are still in doubt, they seem to think that he has spinal meningitis. A blood test has been sent to Portland but no return has been received on it as yet. Mr. and Mrs. Hinshaw were called to Eugene to be with their son and Mrs. Hinshaw remained there, Mr. Hinshaw returning here Wednesday evening. Virgil has been running a temperature of 104 and Tuesday night was out of his head for the first time. The doctors say that it is a case of life and death with him for a few days. His many friends here will hope for his recovery.

Y. V. Gould has quite a unique window display at his jewelry store. The main object is a reproduction of the famous northeast tower and gate to the city of Cairo, Egypt. This is a work of art and exemplifies in its great antiquity a living memorial of scenes in the Bible. Around this wall, which is over 5000 years old, the romance of our early civilization has been woven. Only ten miles northeast of this spot is Mellopolis, "the city of the sun," where there was an obelisk of red granite 68 feet high, and erected previous to the visit of Abraham to the land of the Pharaohs. Formerly the obelisks of Cleopatra stood here also. It was probably here where Moses received his education, where Herodotus acquired most of his skill in writing history, and where Plato studied. The scene displayed in Mr. Gould's window is typical of the present day life around the ancient wall to the city of Cairo with its colorful characters—the camel driver and his camel, the ever present street beggar, the water girl and the veiled lady—all this gives the scene a touch of realism.

Dispose of that junk around the place by advertising it in the Graphic.
