PLANS INDICATE EXCELLENT COUNTY FAIR

Over $1200 is Available from State for All Kinds of Premium Awards

DATES SEPTEMBER 19, 20 AND 21

McMinnville Legion Post Will Furnish the Entertainment Features for the Fair

The plans for the Yamhill county fair and the second annual legion encampment at McMinnville, Sept. 19, 20 and 21, are fast developing, and will soon be completed, when the program and list of prizes will be published. The county fair board, consisting of Wm. V. Dolph of Newberg, W. R. Bunn of Yamhill, Elijah Corbett of McMinnville, and County School Supt. Duncan, have been holding at least one meeting a week for the past several weeks, and have met several times with the committee from the McMinnville commercial club, and also in conjunction with a committee from the county federation of commercial clubs.

It is realized that owing to the lack of time and previous experience the fair this year will not be as pretentious as the resources of the county would warrant, but it is enthusiastically anticipated that the efforts put forth this year will lay the foundation for an annual county fair and encampment in this county which will within the space of a few years develop into one of the biggest exhibits and entertainment features of the state. The exhibits this year will be limited to such as can be conveniently handled in the limited space available, but in another year arrangements will be made for exhibiting every form of agricultural and commercial commodities. There is between $1200 and $1300 available from the state to be used as prize money, and liberal prizes will be awarded on hogs, poultry, dairy cows, agricultural, fruit and horticultural, and art and fancy work exhibits. The fair board is at present working on the preparation of a premium list which will soon be published, and everyone in the county is invited to exhibit their products in the respective classes. The prize winning exhibits at the county fair will be collected together and with additional ones will be taken to Salem and entered at the state fair the following week as the Yamhill county exhibit. This method of selection should give us one of the best exhibits at the state fair. In addition to the money available from the state to be used as prize money, the business men of McMinnville have pledged themselves to raise an additional $1500 to take care of all incidentals and expenses in connection with the fair. The following chairmen have been named as responsible for the various departments of the exhibits: H. H. White, hogs; county poultry association to choose a man for chairman of poultry; Frank Brown, dairy cattle; Elijah Corbett, agriculture; the Newberg Berrians have chosen F. A. Morris as chairman for small fruits and horticulture; the federation of women's clubs of the county to choose the chairman of art and fancy work exhibit; Dr. H. L. Toney program; and Gordon Baker, advertising. Mr. Duncan, secretary of the fair board, announces that there will be no special prizes this year for children, except on pigs, due to the lack of time and finances, but this feature will be given due prominence in the future.

The American Legion post of McMinnville, holding its second annual state encampment during the fair, will have full charge and responsibility for the entertainment features. There will be a program in the armory each afternoon, and in addition to this several special events, among those already assured being a casting tournament, similar to the one held in the park last year, a tennis match between McMinnville and Hood River, a rod and gun club shoot, including a special event for Elks only and another for Legion men only, and a free for all. There will also be a fine boxing card one night, and dances every night. In addition to these features there will probably be a baseball game for a purse between the crack Legion team from Sheridan. The plan is to make as many of these entertainment features as possible free to the public, and in all probability the only admission fees to be charged will be to the ball game, the boxing bouts and the dance. An effort will also be made to keep the entertainment as clean as possible, and to protect the public from the indignities of fake carnival companies and cheap side shows.

More complete details, together with programs and premium lists will be published as soon as they are definitely decided upon.

WRITES OF EARLY LIFE NEAR ST. PAUL

Fred Lockley Tells An Interesting Story of Earliest Days in This Part of Oregon

Fred Lockley, who writes those interesting biographical sketches for the Journal under the heading "Observations and Impressions of the Journal Man," has written an article about some of the early history of St. Paul and Champeog which should be of special interest to our readers.

"Recently I made a trip by automobile to French Prairie, between Aurora and Salem. From St. Louis I drove on to St. Paul, seven miles distant. St. Paul is on historic ground. Father Blanchet established a mission at St. Paul early in January, 1839. After arriving at Vancouver he visited the French settlers near St. Paul and held services there. Among the settlers who were most anxious to have him establish a church there were Joseph Gervais, Louis Labonte and Etienne Lucier. Lucier had settled a few miles north of Champeog in 1830 and the other two men had taken up places the following year.

"In the old parish register at St. Paul you can get the history of the people of pioneer days. There is recorded the death of Francis Quenel, who died in 1844, and that of Phillip Degie, born at Sorel, Canada, in 1729 and who died on French Prairie February 27, 1847, at the age of 108 years. Degie came to Oregon with Lewis and Clark in 1805. Another man who came to Oregon with Lewis and Clark and is buried at St. Paul is Lewis Rivet, who died September 15, 1852, at the age of 95 years. William Cannon, who was born in 1785, is also buried there. He was 99 years old when he died in 1854. The death of Etienne Lucier is recorded as having occurred March 16, 1853. Louis Labonte was 80 years old when he died in 1860. Joseph Gervais died July 13, 1861, at the age of 84 years. Francis Duprat died in 1858 at the age of 99. Andrew Longtain, who was born in 1782, lived until 1879. His grandson, Francis Xavier Moisan, now lives at Brooks.

"As you look at the name of Etienne Lucier on this old register it takes you back to the officers of the Hudson's Bay company and to Donald Manson, who lived for so long at Champeog and who married Fellicite, eldest daughter of Etienne Lucier, in the fall of 1828. Etienne Lucier had taken up his claim two miles north of Champeog the preceding fall. When Father Blanchet came to French Prairie first in 1839 he found the former employees of the Hudson's Bay company living with the Indian women and having numerous children. There had been no opportunity, on account of the lack of priests, to have marriage ceremonies, so he performed the rite of the church and married many of the Catholic settlers he found living on French Prairie.

"Here on French Prairie was opened the first Catholic school in Oregon. The Sisters of Notre Dame moved into the convent in 1844. In the summer of 1844 Captain Bailey of the British frigate Modeste, with some of his officers, attended services in the chapel at St. Paul. On February 1, 1861, the Sisters of the Holy Name reopened the school at St. Paul which had formerly been conducted by the Sisters of Notre Dame.

"Champeog, St. Paul, St. Louis, Gervais and scores of other places on French Prairie are rich in historical lore, and to one who is interested in Oregon's early days they will prove exceedingly interesting."

CITY COUNCIL RE-COMMENCES ACTION FOR PAVING STREETS

The city council met Monday evening and took up the question of paving Fifth and Sixth streets again. This had to be started all over again because of errors in the former resolutions and in the engineer's specifications. New resolutions were introduced at this meeting and Wednesday, August 16, was set as the date for hearing remonstrances.

Three new applications for night marshal were received, they being Roy Riley, Wesley Boyes and Ernest Stevens. The council postponed action on this matter and will hold an executive session to take final action later in the week.

The regular bills were allowed and some minor matters given attention.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE MEETING

Held at McMinnville Wednesday Evening—Many Attend From Newberg

TO SELECT NEW COUNTY CLERK

Dean Calkins of Newberg Received Highest Vote on Ballot Taken But Action Was Postponed

A political meeting of considerable importance was held at McMinnville on Wednesday evening of this week when the republican county central committee together with other interested republicans gathered for the purpose of discussing the selection of a new county clerk to succeed Chas. B. Wilson, who has resigned to accept the position of postmaster at Newberg.

The county court some time ago signified that it was their intention of leaving this up to the county central committee and so the committee held this meeting to consider candidates. Quite a delegation was present from Newberg and vicinity, among them being: R. A. Butt, Herbert G. Crocker, Dean Calkins, N. P. Nelson, U. S. Bryant, Frank Lutz, Roe Robinson, S. L. Parrett, S. M. Calkins, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hoskins, John Rees and Wm. V. Dolph.

A poll of the committee brought out the following candidates: Dean Calkins of Newberg, Louis Hadley of Dayton, Elijah Corbett of McMinnville, Lynn Lancesfeld of Carlton, Wm. Nichols of McMinnville, Peter Olds of McMinnville and a number of other scattering ones. Of this group Dean Calkins received the highest vote of any, getting nine votes to his nearest competitor's four. However, no elimination vote was taken up as W. B. Dennis moved an amendment to the motion to proceed with balloting, to the effect that the executive committee together with the chairman of the county central committee and the secretary should be empowered to investigate various candidates and make recommendations at a later meeting. This amendment carried.

The county chairman is Sam Laughlin of Yamhill and the secretary has not been chosen as yet. The executive committee is composed of W. B. Dennis, Carlton; S. L. Parrett, Newberg; Henry C. Patty, Amity; Chester Mulkey, McMinnville; Otto Helder, Sheridan; G. S. Wright, McMinnville; and Ross S. Carr, Dayton.

In view of the fact that this end of the county has absolutely no representation at the county seat and that the office to be filled is that vacated by a Newberg man, many Newberg people feel that this community is entitled to the choice. However, some of the members of the committee point out that the selection must be a man who can qualify so that his re-election will be possible. The appointment will be for the unexpired portion of Mr. Wilson's term, which is approximately two years.

BERRIANS TO PRESENT DUNDEE CUP TROPHY

Berrian Drill Team and Band Will Go to Neighboring Community Wednesday Eve, Aug. 16

An official presentation of the silver cup won by the Dundee women's club for the best float in the parade at the Berry Festival this year will be made by Chief Black Cap R. A. Butt at the Dundee community hall at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, August 16. This will be made the occasion of a very pleasant entertainment in which the Berrian band and the Berrian drill team will participate and Mayor Calkins and other prominent citizens will assist.

It is understood that the Dundee ladies will serve light refreshments and the band will give a short concert. The Dundee ladies certainly showed a splendid spirit in their participation in the festival parade and their float was a beautiful one. It is all the more a matter for congratulation when it is considered that these ladies were compelled to get up their float almost over night and at a very busy time of the year for them too.

Such cooperation tends to cement the friendship of the various communities and the making of this formal presentation should do much to accentuate this friendship. The Berrians certainly appreciate the cooperation of the various communities and only hope that future festivals will bring out a continued support from them. The old saying that in union there is strength has surely been exemplified in the Berrian movement. It is for the mutual good of all that community friendship and cooperation should be promoted and extended. So the slogan next Wednesday night will be "On to Dundee."

BERRIAN BAND TO ASSIST PORTLAND BAND

Will Give a Concert in One of Portland's City Parks on Sunday Afternoon

FINE PROGRAM IS TO BE GIVEN

Hal Campbell, Leader of Both Bands, Arranges for Joint Concert—May Repeat Same Here

The Newberg Berrian band and the I. O. O. F. band of Portland will give a joint program in one of Portland's parks at 3 p. m. next Sunday under the leadership of Mr. Hal Campbell, who is the director of both of these organizations. The park committee is to select the park in which this concert will be and at the time of going to press had not given out the information. However, this will be published in the Portland papers before Sunday.

This arrangement will give the local band an opportunity to demonstrate their ability before a large Portland audience for the park band concerts are popular in Portland. The arrangement for a joint concert also promises to be a happy one in giving the public the benefit of the combined ability of two good bands.

Mr. Campbell has proved to be an exceptionally good leader for the local band and his position as a leader in Portland and his connection with the large music house of that city also gives him an opportunity to place the local band in concerts where Newberg and the band will derive much beneficial advertising. Later the I. O. O. F. band will probably be brought to Newberg for a joint concert here.

The program to be given in next Sunday's concert will be as follows: 1.—March, "Stars and Stripes Forever." (Sousa.) 2.—Overture, "Lustspell" (Kela-Bela.) 3.—Valse, "Rosaria" (Hal Campbell.) 4.—Selection, "Daughter on the Regiment" (Donizetti.) 5.—Reverie, "Waves of Memory" (Blanchard.) 6.—Popular, "The Sheik" (Snyder.) 7.—March, "Cyrus the Great" (King.) 8.—Intermission. 9.—March, "Invercargill" (Lithgow.) 10.—Overture, "The Enchantress" (Dalby.) 11.—Selection, "Floradora" (Stuart.) 12.—Serenade, "A Night in June" (King.) 13.—Valse, "Lion du Bal" (Gillet.) 14.—Selection, "Faust" (Gounod.) 15.—March, "National Emblem" (Bagley.)

"Star Spangled Banner."

Mr. Campbell has asked us to request the band members to be at the local band room in time to start so as to reach Portland at 1:45 p. m. on Sunday.

FRED STRONG UNCONSCIOUS 91-1-2 HOURS

Knocked from Ladder by 1500 Volt Electric Shock While Working for S. P. Co. at Dayton

After lying unconscious for 91 and a half hours, Fred Strong, who was knocked off a 12-foot ladder when he came into contact with the high power wire at the Dayton station while working for the Southern Pacific company, last Friday, regained consciousness to a slight degree on Tuesday of this week. Mr. Strong, whose home is in this city, was helping put up a new semaphore and was working on a ladder and in some manner hit the wire with his hand. This wire carries a 1500 volt direct current. Mr. Strong's hand was burned and his face singed. His eye was blackened and he sustained a large welt on the back of his head where he fell.

He was brought to Newberg on the 1:21 electric, the accident having happened at just about 1 o'clock. During his unconscious state a consultation of local doctors was held and although the railroad company had wired to have him removed to a company hospital, the local doctors agreed that it would be dangerous to move him.

On Wednesday morning Mr. Strong opened his eyes and recognized some of those around him and from that time on his condition seemed to improve slowly. However, he is still not out of danger by any means and it will be only by great care and a long siege of nursing that he will be brought safely back to a normal condition.

Mr. Strong is a man of about 45 years and has lived in Newberg for quite a number of years. He was married to Miss Tillie Tyndall about five years ago, and his employment with the railroad company has kept him away from home with the exception of Sundays most of the time.

P. C. PEOPLE SIGN LYCEUM CONTRACT

Mary Adel Hayes Opera Singers to Be Headliners on List of Attractions This Season

THE CONTRACT HAS JUST BEEN SIGNED BY PACIFIC COLLEGE AUTHORITIES FOR THE COLLEGE LYCEUM COURSE FOR THE SEASON OF 1922-23.

The contract has just been signed by Pacific College authorities for the college lyceum course for the season of 1922-23. The finest and most expensive course ever offered here has been selected, in the confidence that the Newberg lyceum public desires and will patronize the best.

There are three musical numbers on the course as arranged. The opening number, which will come not later than the early days of November, will be the Mary Adel Hayes Opera Singers. This company was heard here once some time ago at the Chautauqua program, and Mary Adel Hayes herself has been in Newberg three times and is very popular. There has been no little call for them for a return engagement in the lyceum program. They are one of the highest priced attractions ever brought to Newberg, and there should be a full house to hear them. The second musical number will be the Garner Jubilee singers, and those who heard them in the program three years ago will be eager to hear them again. The third musical number will be a concert by the musical faculty of the college. So delighted were the audience with the program given last year that the management has felt fully justified in placing the Halls on the program again this year.

The program aside from the musical attractions is also excellent and varied. The great impersonator, Francis Joyner, one of the very best in America, will give one of his delightful entertainments in costume and make-up. Frank Branch Riley will give his now famous illustrated lecture on Oregon and the Northwest country, a feast both for the ear and for the eye. And Allen D. Albert has been secured for this year's course, for his great lecture on "The Young People of 1922." Those who know of Albert will be delighted to have the opportunity to hear him. For those who have never heard him before there is a real treat awaiting.

30TH BIRTHDAY OF EARLY PIONEER IS CELEBRATED

Tuesday, August 8, a large group of relatives and friends celebrated the 30th birthday of Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, or "Grandma" Jones, as she is known in the community.

As Elizabeth Shuck she crossed the plains in the days of '47, when only five years old, and has lived near Newberg all her life. She is the mother of a characteristic pioneer family composed of thirteen children, nine boys and four girls.

The group came together at her home on Chehalum mountain about seven miles north of Newberg. The day was spent in visiting and at noon a bountiful dinner was spread on the lawn. Those who were present report an excellent time. They were, sons and daughters, Frank Jones, M. J. Jones, Wilber Jones, Jacob Jones and Mrs. C. M. McCormick. Other relatives and friends were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moore, Miss Dessie Jones, Audrey Jones, Willie Jones, Arlin Jones, Arlita Jones, Mrs. Lee Jones, Miss Ha Howard, Harold Jones, W. N. Parish, Mrs. D. E. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Jones, Henry Etzweiler, C. M. DOESN'T LIKE 'EM

Quotations from the Bible are in place always when in proper place and it is the opinion of many property owners on First street that their plate glass windows are not proper places for said quotations. Some owners were really more religiously inclined before poster quotations were stuck on than after they were discovered.

M. J. NEWHOUSE GAVE TALK TO THE GROWERS

Meeting Held in the Growers' Building on Last Friday Night Well Attended

PRUNES AND LOGANBERRIES TOPIC

Speaker Recommends Advertising Campaign—Will Hold Meetings Monthly—Next August 25

The Oregon Growers cooperative association held an unusually good and interesting meeting in their hall in Newberg Friday night. There was a good attendance, and the audience gave the speaker their closest attention from start to finish. M. J. Newhouse, assistant general manager of the association, is unexcelled as a talker on cooperative organizations, being intensely interested in the work. He has had quite a lot of experience in this line of work and knows what he is talking about. In fact, he was a born cooperator, his father being president of one of the organizations in Holland. He was county agent of Clarke county, Washington, for more than a year, organized the Farm Bureau there, from which grew the Clarke County Prune Growers' association, and later served as manager of this association for two and a half years. His success there is well known by the prune growers of Oregon, and without doubt the Oregon Growers have secured one of the most competent men to be found in the northwest.

The question of dried prunes and loganberries was the main topic of the evening. Some startling revelations were brought out in the discussion. One of them is the fact that the Italian prune industry has been losing ground for a number of years due to the fact that we have been putting up such poor stuff that we can't compete with the California prune which is raised under more ideal conditions for good quality, and to the further fact that California through its wonderful system of cooperation is advertising their Sun-sweet prunes on a scale that has never been duplicated elsewhere.

The acreage is steadily increasing in Oregon, and unless we can improve our quality, and do a greater amount of advertising we are likely to see the same condition that existed here fifteen or more years ago.

The next question brought out in this connection is, "Who is going to do this improving and advertising?" Will the independent buyer who as a rule is interested only in the commission he gets for handling, go to this expense when his competitors get the most of the benefit? It is evident that only a state wide organization or one that goes even further and includes all of the Italian prune growers of the northwest can undertake such a proposition. It is further evident that every grower who refuses to join and help in this work is hindering his own progress as well as that of every other grower. He may get a little temporary advantage but only at the expense of his neighbors.

One member brought out the point that a grower recently lost $1000 on his prunes in the process of grading, because he did not deliver his 27 acre crop to a certain cooperative organization. This does not mean that the independent buyer was dishonest, but merely that in the grading the packers can often gain in the process. They also gain to some extent in the weight gained in processing.

The speaker said the loganberry outlook is just about as serious as the prune business, in fact, more so at the present time. The juice business is practically stopped, and loganberry acreage has increased immensely due to the high prices of a few years ago. This year with a small crop things have moved along fairly well, but with a large crop and the juice business dead it is hard to foretell what is in store for the future. There are only two ways out. We must broaden our markets or dig up our vines. We are now working on the first method. Its success depends largely on how many growers join and back up the undertaking.

It was voted to hold meetings every month, the next one being the night of August 25. Any person in any way interested in the development of the fruit industry of Oregon should not fail to attend these meetings.

FINE WINDOW DISPLAY

Later Forkner has fixed up a window display at the Newberg Motor company which is both unique and attractive. The display consists of a Ford coupe surrounded by camping equipment and is set in a grove of fir trees. Every detail is complete and the window is attracting considerable attention.
