Paving Controversy Calls Out Peppery Utterances From Mayor and Councilmen

OTE FAVORED PAVING 5 TO 2

In Any Way Possible-Council To Meet Again on 24th

The dull routine of council meet-ing was broken into last night (Wednesday) when the subject of paving Fifth and Sixth streets came up for the hearing of remonstrances. At this meeting Mayor Calkins came out in open opposition to the paving of these two streets. He called upon any persons desiring to speak on the subject and T. E. Miles and Rev. Rounds spoke in opposition and R. P. Gill in favor of paving. The mayor stated that he was opposed to the paving and that the council had agreed not to pave unless the property owners were unanimously in favor of it. Some of the council took exceptions to some of the mayor's statements and the argument was statements and the vitriolic at times. At one juncture the mayor is reported as having said the council would have to get another mayor to sign the contract to have replied that that would not

A remonstrance was read and showed that out of a total of 2076 front feet on Sixth street there was 644 feet signed up in remonstrance, making about 31 per cent. On Fifth street the percentage of remon-

However, Councilmen Blanchard, Moore and Zumwalt were not present and as it requires a two-thirds vote of the tomeasure over the mayor's veto, the outcome is still uncertain. The next meeting will be held on Thursday, August 24.

Oregon Agricultural College, Cor-Splendid Premium List Has Been valles, August 15.— Farmers should use more printer's ink. Those who have used it, both in advertising in their home paper, and in letterheads, envelopes, posters and catalogues find that it increases their business and offers a convenient way of marketing their produce at home.

obtain samples of successful adver-tisements and printed matter used by Oregon farmers. The department asks all rural newspapers to submit samples of other printing for far-mers as well as advertisements. The material will be used to build up an exhibit at the college to stimulate the use of printer's ink by Oregon farmers, and to assist farmers who ask the college for suggestions on advertising and printing.

That the business farmer is beginning to realize that he must use the columns of his local ginning to realize that he must use the columns of his local paper to advertise his produce is indicated in a contest for rural newspapers of Oregon which was conducted at the recent convention of the state press association at Corvallis. In the papers which carried the largest amount of rural news service the farmers were users of advertising space. Not only well as serves as a trademark.

MARRIED AT MCMINNVILLE

A very pretty wedding occurred at the Baptist parsonage at McMinnville at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when Miss Mabel Lueders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lueders of North street in this city became the bride of William Elmer Thomas, son of Mrs. J. H. Brown, also of this city. The pretty ring ceremony was used and was performed by the Rev. Trawin, paster of the McMinnville Baptist church, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Miss Clara Lueders, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Henry Thomas, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Both young people are well and favorably known here. The bride has been a student at the Newberg high school and had just completed her junior year. The groom was one of the first five boys from Newberg to answer his country's call during the late world war and was also one of the first to get overseas where he saw active service and was wounded and given a citation for bravery. This happened when he was shot in the arm while driving a ration wagon at the front and the wound re-sulted in an injury to the bone which has refused to completely heal. At the present time he is taking training in agriculture at O. A. C. under government supervision as a result of this.

Following the wedding ceremony. the happy couple left on a wedding trip to Dallas where they will stay at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Rollie Brown for a short time and will then return to Newberg and take up their residence here for the present at least. Mr. Thomas has been employed by the Allen Fruit company here. The best wishes of their many Newberg friends will go with them throughout their married life.

DUNDEE WALNUT GROWERS CO-OPERATIVE ASS'N ORGANIZED

After ten years successful operation of the Dundee Fruit Growers and Packers, a prune growers' association, a new organization has been formed in Dundee to handle the other principal crop of this and adjoining districts the Dundee Walnut Growers cooperative association. Since many of the prune growers are also walnut growers, the plan of organization and marketing followed by the local prune growers association has commended itself as a model for walnut cooperation.

However, the walnut growers association is organized under the Oregon cooperative law and is not a stock company. Any walnut grower may become a member by the payment of a two dollar membership fee, and the signing of a crop constock to its members as it is purely a marketing organization, and will rent as a warehouse and headquarters in which to conduct its business. the plant of the Dundee Fruit and Walnut Co., owned by W. H. Bentley, and operated by him commer-cially as a wainut drying establishment. Here the nuts are sorted, graded and sacked for shipment on a cost basis for association members. The present association is the offspring of a selling pool in which 30 walnut growers participated last year. This pool handled 35 tons of nuts, from the proceeds of which about $17,000 was distributed to the members; final returns reaching their pockets by January 1, 1922. The membership included growers in Sheridan, Amity, Chehalem Valley and Dundee. W. H. Bentley acted as salesman, and was assisted by an advisory board composed of W. S. Allan, E. S. Greer, F. W. Meyer, H. Holzmyer and R. A. Olmsted.

On Saturday, August 26, at 2:00 p. m. a meeting of the members of this pool, and other growers interested in forming the new association, will be held at the community hall in Dundee. Regular directors will then be eleceted for the coming

SPLENDID PROGRAM PLANNED FOR A MISSIONARY SOCIAL

Ten ladies of the women's foreign missionary society of the M. E. church will join in giving a social at the church on next Tuesday. A very fine program is being arranged and refreshments will be served. Not only are all ladies of the church invited but they are urged to come and help in this cause. A charge of 25c is to be made.

The program has not been com-pleted but as it is outlined at pres-ent it will include the following numbers: Piano solos by Miss Har-riet Baldwin and Miss Helen Robertson; vocal solos by V. V. Gould, Mrs. Ralph Otis and Mrs. Richard Williams; readings by Mrs. J. B. Hollingsworth and Miss Anna Deach, and a talk by Mrs. M. C. Wire.
