There will be an old students' reunion at Pacific College at 7:30 p. m. on Friday of this week. Anyone who has ever attended Pacific is urged to attend. There will be a basketball game between the old students and the varsity team, after which there will be a short program and business meeting.

The board of directors and employees of the U. S. National Bank enjoyed a banquet at the Imperial hotel last Saturday evening. After the splendid banquet all adjourned to the parlors of the bank where a Christmas tree was in evidence and here speeches were made and presents distributed to the employees. There were sixteen present on this occasion.

The city council met on Tuesday night and discussed the matter of truck licenses. After some discussion the question was left in the hands of a committee, consisting of Councilmen Dixon, Reid and Huddleston. The council also decided not to bond the city at this time to take up the warrant infidelity. The next regular meeting of the council will be held on Tuesday evening, January 2.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Riddle and children departed last Friday morning for Riddle, Douglas county, to spend Christmas with relatives. A delightful Christmas was spent at the home of Mr. Riddle's father with all members of the family present. Mr. Riddle returned Tuesday morning but Mrs. Riddle and the children will not return until the first of next week. Douglas county people have been enjoying exceptionally fine weather, with warm sunshine and barely enough rain to make plowing practical. Only one frost had visited the Riddle section so far this winter, when the temperature was down to 27 above zero.

Robbers visited Newberg again last Saturday night and paid their respects in at least four homes so far as known. These were the homes of President Pennington, R. J. Moore, Mrs. L. M. Parker, and S. M. Calkins. Evidently it was the same bunch which rifled several homes here a year ago, judging by their methods. All of the houses entered into were two story buildings and in all cases only the lower floor was ransacked. At President Pennington's they took $20 in money, leaving the purse in which it was contained and a wrist watch belonging to Miss Pennington, which lay beside it. At R. J. Moore's they secured a fine overcoat, leaving a rain-soaked one on the window. At Mrs. Parker's they apparently took nothing of value. Evidently the Calkins home was the last one visited. Mr. Calkins was sitting up at the Woodward home and Miss Calkins was keeping her mother, who was not well, company. Mrs. Calkins was sleeping lightly and heard a noise and warned her daughter. They sounded a signal bell which frightened the intruder and he jumped out the window, leaving it open. This was at about 2:30 a. m. Sunday. The officers were called and they made some search but evidently the robbers had become frightened and doubtless left town at once. McMinnville was visited last week, we are informed and it will be remembered that at the time of last year's house-breaking, other towns all around were visited either shortly before or just afterwards.

FARM BUREAU MEETING TO BE HELD JANUARY 6
Mrs. Jessie D. McComb, leader of home economics, and C. L. Long, horticultural specialist, both from the Oregon Agricultural College will be with us for our Farm Bureau meeting to be held on January 6. Mr. Long will discuss pruning and early spring care of berries. Mrs. McComb will announce her subject later. This will no doubt be something of special interest to women.

whether living in town or on the farm. The men are invited to this also.

The women's committee wish to announce that they will superintend the lunch at this meeting. Each family is asked to bring sandwiches, pickles, salad, and little cakes, or as many of the items listed as possible, but no others. Coffee, sugar and milk will be furnished to those who bring dinner. The committee urge all members, and as many others as possible, to bring dinner and enjoy a social hour with us at noon. They have made plans to form an organization of the women at this meeting.

Mr. Long needs no introduction to many of us, having given two addresses on fruit subjects in this locality, one at West Chehalis, and the other at Springbrook, that were considered unsurpassed by those who were fortunate enough to hear them. Bring your questions on all kinds of berries, also specimens of plants for discussion. If those who saved berry

HOBERG MEMORIAL AT HILLSBORO ON SUNDAY, DEC. 31

Mrs. Verona Nelson went to Portland today (Thursday) and will go on to Hillsboro to attend a memorial service at the Hillsboro M. E. church on next Sunday. Mrs. Nelson's father, the late Rev. Joseph Hoberg, was the first pastor of the M. E. church at Hillsboro and fifty years ago on New Year's eve the bell in the church at Hillsboro was rung for the first time by Albert Tozier. Mr. Tozier has rung the bell every year since that time. Mr. Hoberg was instrumental in securing the bell while pastor of the church. The memorial service next Sunday was originally intended to be a celebration, but after Rev. Hoberg's death it was changed to a memorial. Mrs. Anna Wiley McDonald was a resident of Hillsboro at that time and has been a friend of Mrs. Nelson ever since that time. The following letter written to Mrs. Nelson explains the event:

Portland, Or., Dec. 17, 1922.
My dear friend Verona:
Have intended for some time to write you relative to the memorial given to your father at Hillsboro on Sunday, December 31, at 2:30 p. m. We had so anticipated having your dear father present and make it a celebration, but now it will be a memorial. The address of the day will be given by Dr. Everett Hammond of Salem, whose father, Rev. John Hammond, came as pastor in the fall of '72. This Everett was then a little boy. Other speakers will be Bishop Shepard, George H. Himes, Frederick V. Holman, Rev. Walters and Albert Tozier. I spoke to Frank relative to you "children" presenting to the Sunday school a picture of your father—not a photograph enlarged—not a crayon or any other than a photograph, say about 8x12 inches, with glass and just a rim frame. This to be presented to the Sunday school by the children of Rev. Hoberg, and one of you, whoever you select, to present it, probably Frank. It should not cost more than three or four dollars.

There will be a special seat reserved for you folks, then another seat for those who were members of the Sunday school. Mrs. Jane Wiley Edwards is planning to attend. I wish you would see Annie Wiley McDonald, I want her to be sure and come.

At six o'clock there will be a supper at which we old-timers will all be at one table. Many are counting on going from here, and a reunion it surely will be. I wish you would give an item to the Newberg Graphic and I will send something to the McMinnville papers.

And will you write your sisters and brothers and try to have as many of you as can go. The roads are good, if there will not be a deep snow. The Oregon Electric stops right by the church and the S. P. a block away. They go and come often; then there are the auto stages. Now, Verona, do help me to make this an occasion long to be remembered. The local pastor, Rev. Milton Marcy, is greatly interested in having this a success. I would like to see a goodly number there from McMinnville.

With many good wishes, your "auld lang syne" friend,
Edyth Tozier Weathered.

Brighten Your Child's Future Outlook

Most eye troubles begin in childhood. A little strain and abuse in school days mean much more in later years.

Good eyesight means much to success. Defects of sight are more easily corrected in youth and action now may save your child from wearing glasses later.

See us and see better.
