A GREAT ACQUISITION.

The most important accomplishment of the Creek country irrigation congress, which was organized in Prineville last fall, was the appointment of a committee of several of the most brilliant minds of the United States to go to the body to gather material and embody the ideas already expressed in a report, regarding a question of utmost importance to the inhabitants of the Central Oregon Valley.

The necessity of Dehoming Hydraulic Rights.

The committee has prepared an analysis of the highest character on this subject and has proposed a plan of organization and a body of their labors.

The committee does not feel that it can be accepted of any court without the famous editor of the Farmer's Guardian only doubled along the mashes of this momentous question, while the C. C. I. C. committee has explored every portion and fashioned every word of this great ocean of public interest.

This report is to be submitted to the next convention of the Oregon Irrigation Congress, where the people and votes will be counted by James W. Wilson and Maj. Alfred F. Sears, A. B. C. etc., under the supervision of the Oregon legislature.

The report is to be submitted to the next convention of the Oregon Irrigation Congress, where the people and votes will be counted by James W. Wilson and Maj. Alfred F. Sears, A. B. C. etc., under the supervision of the Oregon legislature.

The committee has prepared an analysis of the highest character on this subject and has proposed a plan of organization and a body of their labors.

The committee does not feel that it can be accepted of any court without the famous editor of the Farmer's Guardian only doubled along the mashes of this momentous question, while the C. C. I. C. committee has explored every portion and fashioned every word of this great ocean of public interest.

This report is to be submitted to the next convention of the Oregon Irrigation Congress, where the people and votes will be counted by James W. Wilson and Maj. Alfred F. Sears, A. B. C. etc., under the supervision of the Oregon legislature.