WE WANT THE TRADE

of everyone at Bend and in the vicinity, and are willing to meet you all more than half-way in trade.

We know that after trading with us there will be nothing to worry about securing your subsequent orders.

We will give you

MAIL ORDERS

The same attention and prompt shipment that we would give you in person.

Vours for business,

ELKINS & KING,

PRINEVILLE, OREGON.

Local Events of the Week.

Arlo C. Hampton, our popular local editor, visited Prineville last Sunday.

A young lady from the school of Misses Marion Witt, in West, M. A. Vanfier and Mary Noble of Ovid Riley’s ranch Monday.

Mr. L. D. Wiest, accompanied by his daughter Pauline, left for Prineville yesterday, where he has a three weeks’ visit. A unmarried girl by an outsider, her eyes having been affected with a slight weakness in the eye.

The Reception Saloon, Shainko, gives a dance tonight, and arrangements have been made to include riders going through the woods. The very best bands of whiskers, such as Cyrus Noble, Old Heater, Baltimore Rye, and other standard goods, always to be had here. Call at the Reception.

The Misses Mildred Vanderbilt and Ethel Philbrick returned home to Prineville on Monday, after a stay of three weeks. They are housed at Luna, Mrs. Mary Vanderbilt is in charge, and will take them home. The young lad’s compartment were colored the popular pastel shades of this season, a hand sole leather, each of them having gaiters and a different shade, except for stress of circumstances neither would have gone home sooner.

The Bulletin office staff have acquired a brand-new, quick-drawn hash-making outfit, and as soon as we are settled we invite every young lady in the neighborhood to come and get some pointers in the culinary art. The editor is a cook of several years’ experience on the U. S. geological survey through Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, and can boil beans artistically at any time. There is not a better hand in a hash in this vicinity, and that is a lightning dishwater and delights the neighbors with his feats of resurrection.

Dr. W. H. Houblad and his fa- ther, Mr. Charles, were on their way to Shasta on Sunday, returning next day. Their greatness live at Bucktail Wash, in the timber belt of the Snake county, and after returning from the hot pine region, they are enjoying an ex- cretive mood in contemplating our wonderful scenery, especially when told we were only in the fringe of the tall pines. They Injector take up a timber next year. I am sure of this while here, but finding that the average of temperatures around favored us, give up the project for the present and live for home.

Miss Eliza McKeevors, who is one of the pretty young ladies of Prineville, Buske Inn, has enjoyed a pleasant trip up river last Sunday.

It is rumored that C. J. Winters, the Prineville drug war, will short- ly establish a drug store and furniture and grind store.

Dad West fumigated and cleaned his barn Tuesday evening for Mrs. Hcock, by the barn at the home of the bride’s parents. The Bulletin extends to Dr. West and his associates warmest congratulations.

Mrs. W. J. Hockenberry, the happy young couple all the same, is on her way to San Francisco, and will return by the first opportunity. We shall call to see them in their new home.

Fred Wallace, former editor of the Antelope Herald, postmaster at Shasta, and general all around utility man to the charge of the Hay Creek Store. Mrs. H. D. & Co. may not realize it, but they have cer- tainly secured a diamond in the rough. The Misses Lizzie Ketchum, Effie Drucker and Beatrice Will featured in the town as usual yesterday and enjoyed the shape of food and some crackers and nuts.

Gentlemen over it and under go, look out for John Wiseman. John, so mad as a hatter for the district, is looking for an able-bodied man.

The family of George Bruster- house is expected to reach here from their Dakota home Monday. We are expecting a pleasant visit from this village their permanent home.

A large brand new store, with Prineville prices, will be a most well- welcomed addition to Bend business. We have been open for two or three weeks, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Bray, formerly of the J. S. & L. Co.’s store at Hay Creek.

According to dispatches Judge Taft is coming forward as a pre- paration for his campaign. It will be hard for anyone to dispute President Roosevelt from the top of the political ladder and popularity with the masses.

There is little of our local interest, however, but that the corporation will try to down him, by fair or foul means.

The “smallest” cases at Prineville have become conversational. It seems as there is some doubt as to who the culprit is. It appears to be a sort of German man, and has grip-like symptoms. However, a man lost at sea or two days or they cannot infest any part of the country.

Mr. D. F. Smith, the afore men- tioned street cleaner, has returned his high-bridged boots and went out for Prineville Tuesday. Mr. Smith has added examination to his catalogue of accomplishments, but he can’t get his health from the town.

Mr. Michael Morrison and wife, Grand Rapids, Minn. arrived here Wednesday. As a soon as a houseboat can be obtained they will go home to snowshoeing and make Bend their permanent home. At present they have taken quarters in the town.

Mr. Kline. Smith & Bird’s mill construction foreman, left on Sunday for a six weeks’ visit to his old home. He took a great interest in the reader to as- sure that it is in the proper condition. He will retro- spective that he will not return to Bend alone.

Bever Clark and Hotchkiss, both Methodist ministers, held a delega- tive meeting in the schoolhouse on Wednesday evening, upon their return from Sisters, where they had been holding revival meetings.

The attendance here was more- than large and the services greatly appreciated.

Visitors are always welcome at our office. The proviral tallow- bacher, Misses Marion Witt at her home, Misses Marie and Mary Noble of Prineville.

Miss Anna L. Mason, receiver of The Bulletin’s office, and the only woman United from the Indian in the United States.

A half-ton of good corn corn is on the way to the lady just now.

Miss Eliza McKeevors, who is one of the pretty young ladies of Prineville, Buske Inn, has enjoyed a pleasant trip up river last Sunday.

It is rumored that C. J. Winters, the Prineville drug war, will short- ly establish a drug store and furniture and grind store.

Dad West fumigated and cleaned his barn Tuesday evening for Mrs. Hcock, by the barn at the home of the bride’s parents. The Bulletin extends to Dr. West and his associates warmest congratulations.

Mrs. W. J. Hockenberry, the happy young couple all the same, is on her way to San Francisco, and will return by the first opportunity. We shall call to see them in their new home.

Fred Wallace, former editor of the Antelope Herald, postmaster at Shasta, and general all around utility man to the charge of the Hay Creek Store. Mrs. H. D. & Co. may not realize it, but they have cer- tainly secured a diamond in the rough. The Misses Lizzie Ketchum, Effie Drucker and Beatrice Will featured in the town as usual yesterday and enjoyed the shape of food and some crackers and nuts.

Gentlemen over it and under go, look out for John Wiseman. John, so mad as a hatter for the district, is looking for an able-bodied man.

The family of George Bruster- house is expected to reach here from their Dakota home Monday. We are expecting a pleasant visit from this village their permanent home.

A large brand new store, with Prineville prices, will be a most well- welcomed addition to Bend business. We have been open for two or three weeks, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Bray, formerly of the J. S. & L. Co.’s store at Hay Creek.

According to dispatches Judge Taft is coming forward as a pre- paration for his campaign. It will be hard for anyone to dispute President Roosevelt from the top of the political ladder and popularity with the masses.

There is little of our local interest, however, but that the corporation will try to down him, by fair or foul means.

The “smallest” cases at Prineville have become conversational. It seems as there is some doubt as to who the culprit is. It appears to be a sort of German man, and has grip-like symptoms. However, a man lost at sea or two days or they cannot infest any part of the country.

Mr. Michael Morrison and wife, Grand Rapids, Minn. arrived here Wednesday. As a soon as a houseboat can be obtained they will go home to snowshoeing and make Bend their permanent home. At present they have taken quarters in the town.

Mr. Kline. Smith & Bird’s mill construction foreman, left on Sunday for a six weeks’ visit to his old home. He took a great interest in the reader to as- sure that it is in the proper condition. He will retro- spective that he will not return to Bend alone.

Bever Clark and Hotchkiss, both Methodist ministers, held a delega- tive meeting in the schoolhouse on Wednesday evening, upon their return from Sisters, where they had been holding revival meetings.

The attendance here was more- than large and the services greatly appreciated.

Visitors are always welcome at our office. The proviral tallow- bacher, Misses Marion Witt at her home, Misses Marie and Mary Noble of Prineville.

Miss Anna L. Mason, receiver of The Bulletin’s office, and the only woman United from the Indian in the United States.

A half-ton of good corn corn is on the way to the lady just now.