Local Events of the Week.

Max LePage went to Prineville Wednesday.

John McTaggart passed through here on his way to Silver Lake Thursday.

D. P. Rea and Frank Glass were looking over the Tumello country last Saturday.

A. M. Drake and wife reached home Wednesday evening, after an extended visit in Portland.

Miss Gertrude Sharp is visiting Iva West. Miss Sharp will be with us about ten days before she returns to her home in Prineville.

Engineer Johnson of the P. B. D. Co.'s mill, and his family have taken rooms in the company's bunk house, where they will remain until some cottages are built.

A splendid opening for various health food companies will be had at Bend upon the arrival of the railroad. Already we have saved up for them 75 tons of the very finest quality of yellow pine sawdust.

The Oregonian of the 9th brought news of the death of Miss Elizabeth J. McKeown, who spent the spring at the Pilot Butte Inn. She had consumption in its advanced stage, but left Bend about ten days ago full of hope and was planning a trip to Southern California this summer. She had many warm friends here who were shocked to hear of her sudden death, and the sympathy of the community is extended to her mother and relatives in Portland.

Reed & Steidl's sawmill started yesterday, but owing to an accident to some of the machinery was obliged to stop. A new saw has been ordered from Portland, and as soon as it arrives the mill will be run at its full capacity.

C. S. Benson, a lawyer from St. Paul, is here looking around, and he may decide to locate. It may seem rather early for professional men to start business here; but this is a growing community and the early bird will surely catch the worm.

The ferry belonging to the Lytle Navigation Co. broke its moorings last Saturday and was smashed into kindling on the rocks in the rapids just below the crossing place. This is a serious loss to the owners, as the craft was not insured; but they will rebuild immediately. Their new boat will be operated by a treadmill, which will be turned by Mr. Richardson.

The recital held at the Pilot Butte Inn last Friday night was a very unusual affair for Bend. The honors of the evening belonged to W. Jasper Shaw, who performed every number of his repertoire with absolutely faultless touch and finish, and his celebrated etude in Ab was something grand, and drew tears from the eyes of many. His work shows painstaking care and perseverance, and deserves much commendation.

Miss Mary Riley celebrated her 17th birthday on Monday evening. A large party of invited guests was present at the Pilot Butte Inn and "surprised" the young lady, who entertained charmingly until nearly midnight. Miss Wiest and Mr. Kennedy contributed the musical part of the program, while George Schlecht and Sammy Riley did a keen stunt of dancing. The evening's entertainment closed with refreshments and games.

A number of new ads appear elsewhere in our columns this week. If this keeps up much longer we shall be compelled to issue a 10-page paper.

When you are at Shaniko, remember the Pioneer Saloon is the place to get fine liquors. The best is none too good for you, and we dispense the very best.

Miss Maude Vandevort and her brother Will returned Tuesday from The Meadows and will finish the present term of school here. Mr. and Mrs. Vandevort came down and helped to establish them in the Hollinshead residence.

It would surprise some of the Doubting Thomases of this precinct to go down to the Deschutes Lumber Company's mill and watch the wheels go round. The water wheel works to perfection, and the company has power to spare.

Dr. Chas. S. Edwards arrived in our town Wednesday evening, and will locate here. He intends to have a drug store, and the people in this vicinity will be able to get their medicines on demand instead of waiting two or three days for the goods to come out from Prineville.

The Reception Saloon, Shaniko, offers the most tempting inducements to timber locators going into the woods. The very best brands of whiskies, such as Cyrus Noble, Old Pepper, Hunter Baltimore Rye and other standard goods, always to be had here. Call at the Reception.

E. A. Shores, a lumberman from Wisconsin, left for Portland last Saturday after having made an inspection of the timber resources of the Deschutes valley. Mr. Shores was very favorably impressed with Bend, and the natural advantages of the country surrounding it, and predicts a great future for this section of Central Oregon.

Several large freight wagons loaded with ditching machinery passed through Bend on Sunday evening. The outfit was a small part of the material which will be used on the Columbia Southern Irrigation Co.'s ditch, and gives us ample evidence that the gentlemen who have charge of the work on the west side of the Deschutes mean business and are going to fulfill their promise that they would have water on the desert this year.

Today's stage brings news of a revival of the smallpox scare in Prineville. Charley Dennison—a recent citizen of Deschutes—was taken sick in the Hotel Prineville, and the first symptoms are said to resemble those of smallpox. It is reported that about fifty persons were exposed, and the Hotel Prineville has been quarantined until the exact nature of the disease can be determined. We trust that this will not be serious, as Prineville has certainly had more than its share of trouble and the business men have lost a great deal of trade this spring.

The latest Quarterly of the Oregon Historical Society has reached our editorial table. It contains a chapter on the early Railroad History of Oregon by Joseph Gaston, an old newspaper man and at one time editor of the Oregon Statesman; History of the Press of Oregon from 1839 to 1850, by George H. Himes; an article on the Archives of Oregon, by Prof. F. G. Young, editor of the Quarterly; Documents relating to the Organization of Early Immigration Parties; Review of The Conquest, the true story of Lewis and Clark; and a Sketch of the Historians of the Northwest, by William A. Morris. Every article has a distinct historical value, and the Quarterly deserves a place in every library in the state.

Miss Mabel Baldwin is over on her homestead this week.

Billy Brock and Barney Lewis journeyed towards the pine timber on Thursday.

Don't forget the baseball Saturday night at the schoolhouse. There will be a meeting hereafter every Saturday night.

Barney Lewis, the artist, came in Tuesday from the Matoes river country, where he has been cultivating a watermelon patch.

The townsites of Bend will be staked off very soon, and as soon as plats are filed with the county clerk the lots will be on the market.

The force at the P. B. D. Co.'s mill is busy sawing out timbers for repairing the bridge across the Deschutes here. This is a timely improvement in view of the heavy loads which are being taken across it by the Columbia Southern Irrigation Co.

Dr. Edwards will have temporary quarters for his drug store and office in the building opposite the P. B. D. Co.'s store. He will occupy the rooms at the north end of the building, jointly with Mr. Lawrence, and is prepared to attend to all business in his line.

The Mongolian vanguard arrived on Wednesday's stage. It will not be long now until Bend will be the happy possessor of more celestial brethren than the one now here. They always have a keen scent for money and business opportunity, and this field will not be vacant long.

Ed. Boyd and family returned Wednesday from Prineville where they have been held during the smallpox trouble. Mr. Boyd's little daughter had the smallpox and her face still shows the effect of the disease but she is young and the traces of smallpox will disappear with time.

Attention Fans!

When the Bend Baseball Association was organized, almost three weeks ago, thirty young men of the vicinity uncorked their enthusiasm and signed articles of organization and a few donated the 50 cents on the spot. But now the spirit seems to have departed from them and it is hard to drum up a quorum. There is business to be transacted at the next few meetings which will be of great importance to the people of Deschutes, Lytle and Bend, and it is the duty of every member to, not only turn out in force at the meetings, but to get his neighbors by the slack of his trousers and bring him along willy nilly. The Fourth of July celebration as planned by the Association will do more to advertise Bend and surrounding country than any event which has heretofore taken place, and it is the simple duty of every man, woman and child in the neighborhood to pitch in and help the good cause along.

Growth of Lytle.

Our neighboring town of Lytle is steadily coming to the front. A solid, substantial bank of ample capital has been organized and will start business as soon as the Deschutes Lumber Co. can get out the building material. A first-class hotel will be constructed soon. A hardware and implement store is a certainty for the near future and a large general merchandise store will be built and stocked as soon as the necessary lumber can be sawed out. All these business concerns and many others have been delayed thus long on account of the lack of building material; but now that Reed & Steidl's mill is almost ready, building of all kinds will receive a great and lasting stimulus, and Lytle will not be the least important of the several, at present embryo, Deschutes cities.
