Natural Icehouses.

The cold in a cavern in France is so great, no matter how warm the external atmosphere may be, the visitor cannot prolong his stay without inconvenience unless wrapped in winter clothing. There are not less than a score of these natural icehouses in France and probably half as many in Italy.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

An Unkind Suggestion.

"You love my daughter?" "She's all the world to me, sir." "Then I don't suppose you'll want a settlement."—Exchange.

Modern Conveniences

The Abilene Democrat tells of a man who stopped over night in a small town near there and registered at the hotel pointed out to him by the conductor as the best in town. In the morning he wanted to take a bath and consulted the proprietor about it. The proprietor shouted back to the rear: "Here, Tom, this here gent wants to take a bath. Bring the fixin's." Tom soon appeared, carrying a cake of yellow soap, a towel and a pick. "What's the pick for?" asked the guest. "Why," said the proprietor; "you'll have to dam up the creek."—Kansas City Star.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

The doctors seem to think that the "Sick Man" needs exercise.—Minneapolis Journal.

The effect of fruit juice on the health is well known. It has recently been discovered that lemon juice will destroy the germs of typhoid fever and other diseases. While it is doubtful whether lemon juice could be taken into the stomach of sufficient strength to destroy disease germs, there is no doubt that the effect of fruit juice is good, having a tendency to free the stomach from disease germs, and being beneficial in other ways. Most people need acids of fruits in order to be healthy; even those who are troubled with sourness of the stomach are sometimes relieved by a little lemon juice taken in a glass of water, since the acids of fruits often counteract the acidity of the stomach. Most fruits are made up largely of juice. If we extract the juice from a lemon, orange, apple, peach or grape we have not much substance left, therefore when you drink a glass of unfermented grape juice, or other fruit juice, you secure nearly all the healthful and nourishing properties of the fruit itself.

Health Notes.

Fever blisters can be gotten rid of by the use of powdered alum.

For bronchitis, take the dried leaves of common mullein plant; powder and smoke in a clay pipe.

Liquid carbolic acid, one-half drachm to four ounces iodine will prevent the discoloration of the skin.

A little carbolic acid added to the water in which burns, bruises and cuts are washed greatly lessens the soreness.

Sulphur is a system regulator, especially when the skin shows a need for such, and is particularly adapted for old chronic cases.

Camphor is generally considered as a depressant, and being an anti-spasmodic, is useful in colic, and is always the first remedy thought of in cases of cholera.

A simple remedy for softening and whitening the hands consists in the use of almond meal, cornmeal or oatmeal instead of soap, and then rubbing them with lemon juice.

Refrigerants.—The cooling properties of lemons, limes and apples are well known. These are useful fruits for hot weather and to protect against heat-stroke. Apples are also laxative and diuretic as well as refrigerant.

Diuretics.—For the kidneys, the following fruits have diuretic properties and are therefore used in kidney diseases: Grapes, peaches, strawberries, whortleberries, prickly pears, black currants, and pumpkins and melon seeds.

PORCELAIN OF GERMANY.

Flourishing Industry in the Kingdom of Saxony.

The manufacturer of porcelain has taken deep root in different parts of Germany, according to the report of E. L. Harris, United States commercial agent at Elbenstock. This is especially the case in the Kingdom of Saxony, wherein the cities of Meissen and Dresden produce porcelain that is exported to almost every country in the world. Porcelain industries on a smaller scale are also to be found in Chemnitz, Plauen and Aue. The Waldenburg district in Silesia is also noted for its fine grade of porcelain. In Thuringia, Bavaria, as well as in some districts on the Saar and Rhine, porcelain is manufactured in considerable quantities.

One of the most noted porcelain factories in Germany is that which is operated by the Saxon government at Meissen. It exports about $50,000 worth of porcelain goods to the United States every year. There are 700 workmen employed in the factory, and it is worthy of note that this number has remained about the same during the last 150 years. Girls earn, when skillful, about 75 cents a day, and the skilled workmen who can model and paint earn $2.50 a day.

There is an industrial art school in connection with the factory, where pupils and apprentices are taught drawing for two years. When this course is completed they pass on to the modeling and painting department for another two years. At the completion of the course the most skillful are sent to Dresden, Berlin and other cities to study the fine arts. On their return to Meissen they are sure to find life employment, either in the porcelain factory of the government or in some other factory of the city.

There are four primary industrial schools in Saxony—namely, in Chemnitz, Dresden, Meissen and Zwickau. The number of pupils at present in all four schools is 241. These pupils are all apprentices, who are compelled to spend four years in learning their trade, and four months each year are spent in some of these industrial schools.

According to Gothlen's Deutsche Ausenhandel, in 1900 Germany exported 20,643 tons of white Chinaware and painted porcelain goods to foreign countries, valued at $9,900,800. The United States is far in advance of all other countries in buying china from Germany, importing 10,463 tons, or 20 per cent of the total exports. Great Britain holds second place, importing only 5,722 tons.

In 1900 Germany imported from France, Austria-Hungary and Japan 796 tons of porcelain ware, valued at $300,400.—Washington Star.

Melinda West.

One of the old Governors of the Carolinas was a man who had lived a farmer's life most of the time until he was elected; and his wife having never seen a steamboat or a railroad and having no wish to test either one, refused to accompany her husband to the capital.

When the Governor reached his destination he found that almost all the other officials were accompanied by their wives, and he sent an imperative message to his brother to "fetch Melinda along."

The brother telegraphed, "She's afraid even to look at the engine."

The Governor read the message and pondered over it for a few moments. At the end of that time he sent off the following command:

"Bill, you blindfold Melinda, and back her on to the train."

"Melinda" arrived at the capital with the victorious "Bill" twenty-four hours later.

Mint Report.

The government mint report puts the gold production of the world since the discovery of America at $9,811,000,000.

PISCO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION

The Innocent Suffer With The Guilty

The world to-day is full of innocent sufferers from that most loathsome disease, Contagious Blood Poison. People know in a general way that it is a bad disease, but if all its horrors could be brought before them they would shun it as they do the Leprosy. Not only the person who contracts it suffers, but the awful taint is transmitted to children, and the fearful sores and eruptions, weak eyes, Catarrh, and other evidences of poisoned blood show these little innocents are suffering the awful consequences of some body's sin. So highly contagious is this form of blood poison that one may be contaminated by handling the clothing or other articles in use by a person afflicted with this miserable disease. There is danger even in drinking from the same vessel or eating out of the same tableware, as many pure and innocent men and women have found to their sorrow. The virus of Contagious Blood Poison is so powerful and penetrating that within a short time after the first little sore appears the whole system is infected and every drop of blood in the body is tainted with the poison, and the skin is soon covered with a red rash, ulcers break out in the mouth and throat, swellings appear in the groins, the hair and eyebrows fall out, and unless the ravages of the disease are checked at this stage, more violent and dangerous symptoms appear in the form of deep and offensive sores, copper colored spots, terrible pains in bones and muscles, and general breaking down of the system.

BLOOD POISON IS NO RESPECTER OF PERSONS

S. S. S. is a specific for Contagious Blood Poison and the only remedy that antidotes this peculiar virus and makes a radical and complete cure of the disease. Mercury and Potash hold it in check so long as the system is under their influence, but when the medicine is left off the poison breaks out again as bad or worse than ever. Besides, the use of these minerals bring on Rheumatism and stomach troubles of the worst kind, and frequently produce bleeding and sponginess of the gums and decay of the teeth. S. S. S. cures Blood Poison in all stages and even reaches down to hereditary taints and removes all traces of the poison and saves the victim from the pitiable consequences of this monster scourge. As long as a drop of the virus is left in the blood it is liable to break out, and there is danger of transmitting the disease to others. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and can be taken without any injurious effects to health, and an experience of nearly fifty years proves beyond doubt that it cures Contagious Blood Poison completely and permanently. Write for our "Home Treatment Book," which describes fully the different stages and symptoms of the disease.
