Trespass Notice.

Notice is hereby given that I have purchased the well-known Sisemore place, a short distance south of Deschutes post-office, and that all forms of trespass thereon, including fishing and hunting, are strictly forbidden under the penalties of the law. Particularly do I wish to give public notice and warning that the path along the river bank to the north end of the county bridge is no thoroughfare and is not open to public use and all persons are cautioned to refrain from using that way.

The Bend Literary and Debating society will meet next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock sharp at the B. M. hall. A special effort has been made to make the programme interesting that evening. The public is cordially invited to attend. The debate will be upon the Russo-Japanese war.

E. C. Stickel, the stonemason, is preparing to erect a stone and brick building on Wall street next to Merrill's drugstore. It will be the full width of the lot—56 feet. Mr. Stickel and his son left yesterday for Paisley, the family home, expecting to adjust affairs there so the family will come and make its home in Bend.

L. H. McCann reached home Wednesday night after spending the past four and a half months in Minnesota. He concluded not to move his ginseng plants to Oregon this year but brought some seed to plant here. With Mr. McCann came his daughter and her husband, W. R. Wilkinson, from Minneapolis, who will take land and make their home here.

The Bend Mercantile Company has been exhibiting some rare vegetables this week that were raised at the Sisemore place. Among them was a turnip weighing 24 pounds and measuring 43 inches in circumference and a radish 18 inches long and 18 inches in circumference. People who are fond of saying nothing will grow in the Bend country, please take notice.

J. O. Fry, of Albany, Oregon, has purchased an acre of the Sisemore place, adjoining T. W. Triplett's, paying $200 therefor, and is building a residence 16x30 feet two stories. Truelove and Roy Ferguson, who came over from Linn county with the Frys.

Warren Glaze left Tuesday for Eugene, Oregon, where he will spend the winter studying music. Mr. Glaze is highly commended by the band boys for the way he has brought the Bend Cornet Band to the front. It is only three months since the band was organized, and now it is able to appear creditably before the public. At the time they were organized two thirds of the members did not know one instrument from another.

Adam Kotzman arrived Tuesday from Haycreek, where his son Harry died three weeks ago of consumption. The young man was 22 years old. His death interfered materially with Mr. Kotzman's plans for work at Bend and he is uncertain just what he will do. He is now working on his homestead northeast of town and will make extensive improvement there next season if he can make arrangements for water service.
