FRIDAY NOV. 11, 1904

Four years ago eight votes for presidential electors were cast in Bend precinct. Four of these were republican and four democratic. Last Tuesday 180 votes were cast, of which 129 were republican and 34 democratic. The democratic vote of the precinct increased 750 per cent while the republican vote increased 3125 per cent. In other words, the democratic vote is 8 1/2 times as great while the republican vote is 31 1/4 times as great as in 1900. This indicates the extent of the growth and also its political trend.

It will be interesting to Bend people to know that Vice President-elect Fairbanks, Senator Foraker and W. E. Guerin, sr., were classmates in the Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, in the later '60's, and that Miss Cornelia Cole (who afterward became Mrs. Fairbanks), Miss Julia Bundy (afterward Mrs. Foraker), and Miss Martha Reynolds (afterward Mrs. Guerin) were mates in the succeeding class in the same institution. The men have continued warm friends from their college days, and the women were chums in college and through life, the death of Mrs. Guerin four years ago being the first break in this remarkable company. These facts are the more notable when it is understood that the young people came from different parts of the state.

One incident of the closing days of the presidential campaign is of more than passing note—the direct reply of President Roosevelt to personal attack upon him by the democratic candidate, Judge Parker. This was quite unprecedented, as was the condition that called it forth. And, characteristic of the man, it came "straight from the shoulder," pointed, unstudied, vigorous and effective. It was so weaving of pretty phrases for politicians to juggle with, Parker's statements were false and the president said so, bluntly and circumstantially. Then Parker took refuge in words and tried to parry the stunning blow by saying the president had ignored the real points. But the people saw the points, if Parker did not. Such conduct as Parker was guilty of, entirely aside from the partisan politics of the case, is proof of a very low standard of personal honor, and the most plausible explanation is that by the New York Sun—the voice is the voice of Parker—the methods are those of Dave Hill.

Apparently with the notion that it is justifying the Prineville knockers, the Prineville Review sagely and ambiguously observes that "there are knockers everywhere, even fight at Bend." If this is so let us have their names. With that peculiar bias characteristic of the Review, which never had a soul of its own and is never so amused as when thugs and scoundrels assault decent citizens and never so shocked as when decent citizens take steps to protect themselves, whose every sympathy is with the crooked and characterless elements of human society, from the lowest dregs to the top-most scum—with that peculiar bias it doubtless regards the efforts of Bend people to develop this country in the face of Prineville hostility as most reprehensible knocking. Let us have the names and then we can form a better judgment as to the facts. Bend people are for the advancement of this whole country, and their energy will eventually pull Prineville out of the hole in spite of herself. We have no use for people who have no faith in the country; such are but parasites wherever they are. We want no penal colony, no person confined here against his will. People of clear heads and sound muscles, who do not expect of a sprouting community the characteristics of one gone to seed, who have sense and faith in themselves and their brethren and the country are the ones we want, and they are not knockers.

THE NEWS OF LAIDLAW.

New People Locating There, New Buildings Going Up.

LAIDLAW, Nov. 10.—W. W. Long's family, from Walthburg, Wash., arrived last week to take charge of the new hotel.

J. C. George is erecting a good-sized barn on his lot.

Miss Burrell, niece of Mrs. G. L. Simmons, arrived a few days ago and will make her home with her aunt this winter.

G. W. Hinshaw, brother of Mrs. J. J. Cook, drove over from the Willamette valley and will live on his land near Cline Buttes.

Fred Wallace, with his wife and three children, drove in Tuesday evening from Antelope, and will live on their land north of town.

Religious services are held every Sunday afternoon at three o'clock by our resident minister, Rev. J. C. George. All are invited to attend.

A party of Willamette Valley people consisting of W. A. Rice and family, G. W. Hinshaw, Calvin Blair and F. M. George and family, arrived a few days ago and will make their homes near Laidlaw this winter.

Mrs. J. C. Tullars and children are here from Wisconsin. They are staying with Mr. Thorpe and family until their building is completed. The Thorpes have moved into their new building, one room of which will be used as a barber shop.

Tumalo Items.

TUMALO, Ore., Oct. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Hightower and Mrs. Boone drove over to Laidlaw last Saturday, and attended church in the afternoon. Mr. Hightower was glad to see the improvements at that place.

The sawmill closed down for a few days last week while the roof was being built. It is now all under cover and in running order.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Smith drove up to the Squaw Creek country last week.

Mr. Hightower has the foundation laid for his dwelling and expects to have it completed in two or three weeks.

Death of George Kever.

George, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kever, died at the family home in Deschutes shortly after noon Sunday, aged 11 years, 8 months and 5 days, after suffering five weeks from typhoid pneumonia. The funeral occurred Tuesday morning from the new Baptist church, the Rev. W. P. Jinnett, of the Methodist church at Prineville, conducting the services. The burial was in Pijot Butte cemetery. The school of which the deceased boy has been an active member, was dismissed during the time of the funeral and the school bell was tolled. The pall bearers were from among his school mates.

The family expresses its thanks for numerous courtesies and the sympathy of the community as manifested in various ways.

One Improvement in the Mail.

There has been a change made in the mail schedule on two days of the week. Mail going south will leave Bend early Sunday morning instead of Saturday afternoon as now, and the stage carrying this mail south will return Sunday evening, bringing the mail from the south so it will not have to lie over at Bogue's. Then there will be a stage going north from Bend at 6:30 Monday morning, which will connect with the Shaniko stage at Prineville so that matter mailed here Saturday and Sunday will go straight through to Shaniko on Monday. But that is the only day of the week that it will. This new schedule will commence next Sunday.

Telephone to Forest's.

H. C. Ellis, of the Deschutes Telephone Company, returned Sunday from his trip to Prineville and Forest's in the interest of a telephone line between those points. He made arrangements for the construction of the line and the poles are already delivered along the route of 13 1/2 miles. Upon completion of the auto road the telephone will be closed between Forest's and Bend, thus giving two lines between Bend and Prineville.

Water, Light and Power Company.

The Bend Light, Water & Power Co. with authorized capital of $10,000 was incorporated by A. L. Goodwillie, W. H. Guerin, jr., and Geo. C. Steinemann, this week. Its objects are indicated by its name. Its place of business is, of course, Bend. The new company will organize when the formalities of incorporation are completed and will get to work at once on projects for water and light service.

Vice president and General Manager Johnston, of the D. I. & P. Co., cast his first vote in Oregon last Tuesday, the family having decided last Summer to make its home here. President Turney, of the same corporation, Wednesday came to the conclusion that he, too, would make his home in Bend, but it was too late for this year's voting. Hitherto Mr. Turney's home has been in Columbus, Ohio.

The Pilot Butte company, clearing a large tract of land near the old school house for crops, has changed the road leading across the bridge so that it runs straight from the bridge to Wall street, past the Stickel brick kiln. A lane to the old Deschutes road has been fenced off. The D. I. & P. Co.'s buildings have been enclosed by a separate fence so the field to be cropped will not be open on either side.

The Columbia Southern Irrigation Company has closed down for the season. Construction work has been pushed forward during the past season until now, and the water is within a mile of Cline Falls. Farmers are now on the ground clearing the land and many of them have already sown grain. Water will be kept in the ditch during the winter when the weather will permit it. Next spring the ditch will be further extended and work will be continued until fall.—Cline Falls Press.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Johnston and H. D. Turney arrived in Bend last Monday evening, driving in direct from Shaniko. Since returning west from Ohio Mr. and Mrs. Johnston have made a visit to Alaska. Mr. Johnston had expected to remain in Bend a considerable time but is called away by business, and will leave Sunday morning for Portland. W. E. Guerin jr., will accompany him. Mr. Turney left yesterday morning for Columbus, Ohio, on receipt of a message announcing the serious illness of his wife with typhoid fever.
