Bran, shorts and chop, Mulag & Becker.

Something new was realized from the holiday sale of fancy articles displayed in the Bend Mercantile Company's window for the benefit of the church building fund. This is a very creditable showing considering the short time the sale was in progress. Mrs. Ellis had charge of the entire enterprise.

Thomas E. Roberts, who spent a few weeks here last year on the Pilot Butte flume construction and has since been millwrighting in Idaho, returned last Friday and will engage in a lumbering enterprise near Bend with his brothers, Millson and Elwood. He has built some of the biggest sawmill plants in Idaho and Washington.

FOR SALE—Two houses and lots. Enquire of The Crook County Realty Co.

The Christmas dancing party given by the Royal Neighbors last Friday evening was one of the most pleasant happenings in Bend. The gathering was large and congenial and every one seemed to partake of the happy time of Christmas festivities. The hall presented an attractive appearance, being decorated with hunting, mistletoe and society emblem. The ladies served a light and delicious luncheon. The lodge cleared about $35 by the party.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker this week moved back to town from camp No. 2 to the Orcutt building.

One Week of Snow.

Wednesday of last week a little flurry of snow fell here and on Friday a more generous quantity came and by Sunday the earth hereabouts was covered with a white blanket eight inches thick. Mercury went down to zero one morning and on two other mornings the atmosphere was crisp and the snow creaked under the wagon wheels. A few sleighs ran two days, but the ground under the snow was soft and sleighing was unsatisfactory. Wednesday of this week there began a perceptible softening and at night it rained and the warm wind blew briskly. The rain continued yesterday and the snow has almost entirely disappeared. In a few spots frost prevents sinking of the moisture but most of the earth is entirely fresh and spring-like. There was a notable rainbow in the west yesterday morning.

Woodmen of America.
