HUNDREDS AT WORK

All Forces Now on Central Oregon Canal.

MOVING TOWARD RIVER BED

Water Turned Into the Finished Pilot Butte Canal--Hardening the Banks.

About 400 men and 250 teams are now at work on the Central Oregon canal of the D. I. & P. Co. The camps are strewn along the canal line to a point about a dozen miles east of Bend. Flume work is suspended because of lack of lumber, but the rock work and excavation of earth for the canal is crowded forward with energy. The plans contemplate delivery of water into the old river bed early in May, after which time the construction forces will go at the system of laterals.

Water was turned into the Pilot Butte canal last Sunday and it is now down about 15 miles. But small volume was turned in at first, in order that the soft banks might get moistened and packed before the strain of a full channel is put upon them. Gradually the amount of water is increased and its effect on the canal banks watched, and it may be a week or two before the full volume will be running. It will be a much larger stream than ran last year.

A sink hole has been found on the Central Oregon canal a short distance below the flume. At first the water thus lost came out into the Pilot Butte canal, the altitude of which is considerably lower. There have been several attempts to fill the hole with rock and earth but it has not yet been made water tight. The frost line prevented proper reinforcement of the bank. Now that the frost has gone the leak will soon be stopped. Several other small leaks have been found but they will be easily stopped.

Last spring there was a big drop in the Pilot Butte canal not far from the present leak in the Central Oregon, and large pine trees and stumps were washed out in an hour. That was temporarily flumed and now the canal bottom there is as tight as if made of cement.

The problem of getting water out to the construction forces is one that proves not to be easily solved, in view of the delay on the flume. Eighteen teams are regularly employed night and day hauling water to the camps. For this reason the flume will be pushed to completion soon as the lumber is available, so the water may be led out in the canal near the camps.

The projected big canal from the head of Benham falls to water land beyond Powell Buttes is resting until the government shall act upon the company's segregation in that region. That is not expected for some time yet.

THE WATER WORKS PLANT

Materials Ordered and Construction Will Soon Begin.

About three miles of main pipe for the Bend water works system were ordered some time ago and the pipe is now being manufactured. These pipes are to be of staves wound with wire. Staves for a 30,000 gallon storage tank are also bought.

A Phillips double acting ram with capacity for pumping about 30,000 gallons a day has also been ordered.

The necessary T's, valves and connections are included in the order now being filled and will be ready for rapid work on the ground when the materials arrive.

The plan for the water works contemplates taking water in an open ditch from the Pilot Butte canal and using it in a ram at the river near the old saw mill site. The water in the service mains will be taken from the river there, not from the ditch. Eventually it is expected the town will get its supply from the irrigation flume, but while the irrigation plant is in process of construction more or less interference with that channel is expected, and it is deemed best to provide otherwise for temporary service.

The water company will prepare for fire-plugs on Wall street at the corner of Nevada, Minnesota and Ohio, and on Bend street at the corner of Oregon and Ohio. There will be a main, on Wall and Bond between Nevada and Ohio, out Greenwood avenue to Thirteenth, out Oregon street and Ironwood avenue to Thirteenth, on Tenth between Ironwood and Greenwood avenues and out Hawthorn avenue to Thirteenth. East of Tenth street the mains will be 6-inch pipe, west of Tenth they will be 4-inch pipe. From the reservoir to Oregon street the main will be of 8-inch pipe. Dead ends will be connected with small pipes so as to give circulation.

New Station on the Desert.

A. C. Lucas and George Hobbs are building a feed station on the Prineville road about a mile east of the Busselt place. The first load of lumber for building went out today. Others will follow immediately and a carpenter will begin work at once. A big water tank will be erected, to be supplied from the Vandeventer spring a mile and a half away. There will be stables and feed for animals and sleeping and eating accommodations for travelers. About 50 tons of hay have been secured. Two new milk cows and some hens will be taken there. George Hobbs, who is a good cook, will have immediate charge of the station, which will be upon his homestead where the present stage road crosses it. It is expected that travelers may be accommodated there by March 15. It may also be made a stage station, the present drive of 30 miles being too long.

Fingers Trimmed by Saw.

J. S. Baker, son-in-law of G. W. Wimer, was working in the Hightower & Smith sawmill at Tumalo, last Friday when his left hand was caught by the edger and the ends of three fingers and the thumb were trimmed off. Mr. Hightower brought the young man to Bend and Dr. Coe dressed the wound. Nearly half of each digit is lost. The little finger was unharmed.

"All Over."

Hereafter we will have our representative visit each canal camp daily to solicit orders and deliver goods. Our spring stock is now arriving and will soon be the largest and most complete in Central Oregon, enabling us to suit all, either in quality or price. Any order placed with us will be filled at exactly the same price as if purchased over the counter--small orders will have the same careful attention as large ones. We want your orders, no matter how small.

Respectfully,
THE BEND MERCANTILE CO.

Swalley Ditch Election.

The annual meeting of the Deschutes Reclamation & Irrigation Company (Swalley ditch) was held in Prineville last Saturday. Frank Glass, William Birdsong and C. B. Swalley were chosen directors. Mr. Glass was re-elected president of the corporation, William Johnson was chosen secretary and treasurer and C. B. Swalley superintendent. It was agreed that an 80-rod flume should be built across a depression near Forked Horn butte, about eight miles below the headworks, and there will be considerable extension of the canal during the coming year.

Cougars Numerous.

H. W. Morrill and J. E. Mecker were driving over to Meeker's claim toward Sisters the other day and when on the hill a mile beyond the Tumalo found a big cougar crouching by the side of the road. They had a gun in the wagon but before it could be unlimbered for action the beast had crept out of reach. They followed him half a mile but could not get a shot. This is the fifth panther seen in that vicinity recently. W. P. Vandeventer, Will Brock and two Indians each got one and at least this one is still at large.

Notice to the Public.

Interments of deceased persons near Bend have been made on private land owned by the undersigned. I do not wish a cemetery located there and this is to give notice that no further burials will be permitted there. E. F. BATTEN.

IS ON A NEW BASIS

Organization of Bend Library Association.

STATED MEMBERSHIP FEES

Board of Trustees to Manage Affairs of the Institution--The Present Financial Condition.

A score of people interested in the Bend reading room attended the meeting Wednesday evening for permanent organization. P. L. Tompkins was chairman and J. H. Overturf secretary. There was a full and free discussion of the proposed organization. It was finally voted to organize a voluntary association to be known as the Bend Library Association, which should have a board of five trustees to conduct its affairs and be patterned after the style of a legal corporation, subscribers being stockholders and the trustees choosing the executive officers of the association.

L. D. Wiest, Mrs. E. F. Batten and J. M. Lawrence were appointed a committee to nominate the five trustees. They could not agree on five, so reported eight. The selection of the five was then left to ballot of the subscribers present, which resulted in favor of the following:

J. H. Overturf, Mrs. E. F. Batten, Mrs. J. F. Circle, J. M. Lawrence and P. L. Tompkins.

It was decided that the library year should begin July 1 and that membership fee should be $2 a year, with proportionate reduction by quarters for memberships beginning late.

The trustees are to present by-laws and a definite scheme of operation at a meeting of all the members to be held next Wednesday night at the reading room.

The report of the treasurer showed $98.36 to have been collected from subscriptions, $34.55 net from the Prineville theatrical performance, and $5.65 from fines for magazines kept over time. Expenses included $71.87 for magazines and 70 cents for a rubber stamp, leaving a cash balance of $60.24 in the treasury. Besides this Mr. Overturf has $16 of rent paid for cabin turned over to the club by the Pilot Butte company, from which some deduction is to be made for expense incurred in fitting up the new quarters.

Reward for Horses.

I will give a reward of $10 each for the return to me of a dark bay mare, with star in forehead, and black gelding with white specks, both branded with A K connected, with bar underneath, on left side. The mare has a stone bruise on the right hind leg. Adam Kozman, Bend, Oregon.

Pilot Butte Mill to Resume.

The sawmill of the Pilot Butte Development Co. will resume operations Monday morning with a force of 35 men after having been closed down since about January 15.

During the time the saws have been idle a new engine and boiler and other machinery has been installed, which will double the output of the mills. Heretofore the daily runs produced from 15,000 to 20,000 feet of lumber, while the present equipment will make the daily output between 35,000 and 40,000 feet.

Farquhar McKee, who has for some time been Prineville's best barber, has come over to Bend and taken a position in Triplett's shop.

R. B. Mutzig has bought of N. P. Weider the north half of lot 2 in block 10, where the old Bend Furniture Company was located. He may move the present building back on the lot and erect a more substantial structure in front.

Upon receipt of the resignation of W. H. Staats as postmaster at Deschutes the department instructed that notice should be posted to see if some one else would not apply for the position rather than have the office closed. Thereupon J. M. Hodson applied for the office, his application going forward today.
