FRIDAY - MAY 12, 1905

Let the wagon road come over the range from the Corvallis & Eastern. Also let the railroad come in from Shaniko. There'll be use for both of them.

Some people think every novel idea must be enduring truth and they are always chasing rainbows. Others think a truth cannot be a truth unless it wear dad's pants and have whiskers a yard long. Neither of these look into the quality of truth but only at appearances, which are often deceitful.

QUACK REMEDIES WON'T CURE.

"The present social scheme is all wrong" declared the Rev. Dr. C. H. Chapman at a Portland rally last Sunday night. And then he launched a harangue on socialism, saying that business should be under the direct control of the government and men should not be discharged or resign without permission.

Dr. Chapman has fallen into the very common error of finding an admitted fault and then applying his own fanciful remedy. No one will say that the fault he mentions is not real. The present social scheme is wrong. No sane man would be diabolical enough to invent such a system. But will socialism be any better? If men should not be discharged or resign without permission, whose permission should they get? Present evils are apparent enough; it requires no expert, no fine theorist or inspired dreamer, to point them out. But to find and apply the remedy is the puzzle.

The fundamental error in the socialist theory is that it assumes our present social system to be a sort of patent adjustable device, invented or created by somebody or some set of bodies, along preconceived lines, and that it is only necessary to loosen a screw here, tighten a nut there and apply oil over yonder to change the working of the whole scheme. Our social structure is not of that sort. It was not built on anybody's plans and specifications. It is a growth, a slow and uncertain development of human society. We are now at a certain stage of this development, which is marked by many blemishes. These are as plain to be seen as a knot on a tree or a wart on a pretty nose. But how are they to be cured without doing more harm than their presence does? Burn out the wart and a scar is left that is worse. Make the tree symmetrical and it will probably die.

Human society will not be adjusted with a thumbscrew or a monkey-wrench. It will not be set, like an alarm clock or an infernal machine, to act on a prearranged programme at a given time. The great body of humanity makes progress very slowly. It is more likely to follow a low leadership than a high one, by the simple force of gravity. There is improvement, very slow but tolerably steady, because truths will endure through all the swamps of error that humanity flounders in. Redemption will come by gradual growth rather than by revolution, and the salvation human society will work out for itself will not be that now brewed by the socialist propaganda—nor, for that matter, by any other of the theorists with ready-made, quack remedies for all ills.

The News of Tumalo.

TUMALO, Or., May 10.—F. F. Smith has gone to Portland and Aberdeen, Wash., on business.

Colonel Smith is doing some fine work building laterals for the Columbia Southern Irrigation Co. in this neighborhood.

Postmaster and Mrs. Grant and babe, of Bend, were visiting with Postmaster and Mrs. Wimer at this place yesterday. They were well pleased with this country. Wm. Downing, our mail contractor, and Mr. Jensen, sr., also took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Wimer yesterday.

Gibson & Pulliam have water running in their new ditch. They will not want for water from now on, as they have a fine ditch and plenty of water.

Hightower & Smith are doing a good business with their sawmill. They turn out a good quality of lumber and shingles and sell their products reasonable. They are good people to deal with.

Messrs. Spaugh and Jensen and Charles and John Wimer are busy on their Tumalo ditch, getting it in shape to turn in the water for irrigating purposes. They will have quite a lot of irrigating to do this summer.

Dorrance Bros. are sawing fine lumber in their new mill on the Melvin place.

There are quite a few new comers to this neighborhood. We are glad to see them come.

James Patton and brother will put in a good big crop this spring. They are kind of people we need as they are rustlers from away back.

Mrs. Jane W. Wimer, formerly of Post has taken up her residence on her homestead near this place. Her son, Ira E. Wimer, will locate on his land near here soon. They have some fine land.

We are glad to see the town of Laidlaw forging ahead so nicely.

The Laidlaw Neighborhood.

LAIDLAW, Or., May 9.—The farmers are very busy at present clearing for the spring seeding, and prospects are for a good acreage being seeded in and around west of town. Many new settlers are arriving now and the country is fast changing from sage and desert to nice homes.

George Updike arrived a few days ago with intention of making this his future home.

Walter Walker and W. May have returned after two weeks' absence surveying.

William Diener was a Cline Falls visitor this week.

The boys declare that if ammunition holds out they will surely get that hawk.

Some of the young bachelors are building new houses. We wonder why.

Everyone is glad to see water coming down the new ditch, and are making ready to have nice lawns. So do not wait for your neighbor, but start at once yourself.

Several of the young people were enjoying the society of Sisters, Friday.

John Hammond, the Cline Falls surveyor, was here on Friday.

Cal Blair returned from Redmond on Saturday.

Mrs. J. Coen's many friends sympathize with her on account of the sickness of her father.
