

My Hair is Scraggly

Do you like it? Then why be contented with it? Have to be? Oh, no! Just put on Ayer's Hair Vigor and have long, thick hair; soft, even hair; beautiful hair, without a single gray line in it. Have a little pride. Keep young just as long as you can.

"I am fifty-seven years old, and until recently my hair was very gray. But in a few weeks Ayer's Hair Vigor restored the natural color to my hair, so now there is not a gray hair to be seen."—J. W. HARRON, Boulder Creek, Cal.

Barren of Life.

If the two simple tests of gravitation and temperature be applied to the habitability of the planet Mars, for example, it will be seen that it is futile to discuss the kind of life that may exist upon Mars, for the reason that the physical conditions necessary for the existence of life are not present in that very interesting planetary neighbor that revolves around our sun between the orbit of Jupiter and the earth. It has been calculated that the temperature of Mars is too low to support metabolic change. In other words, Mars is too cold for life to exist upon it.

But even were this objection surmounted, the small mass of Mars would still stand in the way. It has been calculated that the mass of Mars is not great enough to exert an attractive power capable of holding the vapor of water to the surface of the planet. The vapor of water would fly off into space from Mars, as free hydrogen flies off into space from the earth. If this be true, there is no life on Mars.

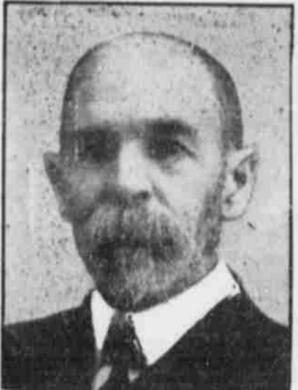

The other planets of the solar system are not seriously to be considered in this respect. If Jupiter is not yet cool; if Venus looks with but one face to the sun; if Saturn is a molten mass; if Mercury's temperature is above the boiling point, why imagine, then, that life of any kind can exist on these planets?—National Magazine.

And That's No Joke.

"Error notice it?" queried the man who asks questions on the installment plan. "Did I ever notice what?" asked the party of the dense part. "That the ball player who hits the most 'balls' at night always hits the fewest in the next day's game?" continued he of the prologues.

Last year 39,490 Swedes left their native land, most of them to make new homes in the United States.

LIEUTENANT BOWMAN

IN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS PE-RU-NA CURED HIM

Cold Affected Head and Throat—Attack Was Severe.

Chas. W. Bowman, 1st Lieut. and Adj. 4th M. S. M. Cav. Vols., writes from Lanham, Md., as follows:

"Though somewhat averse to patent medicines, and still more averse to becoming a professional affidavit man, it seems only a plain duty in the present instance to add my experience to the columns already written concerning the curative powers of Peruna.

"I have been particularly benefited by its use for colds in the head and throat. I have been able to fully cure myself of a most severe attack in forty-eight hours by its use according to directions. I use it as a preventive whenever threatened with an attack.

"Members of my family also use it for like ailments. We are recommending it to our friends."—C. W. Bowman.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit.

ROMANCE OF GARIBALDI.

His Wife Anita Clung to Him Amid Many Hardships.

There is in the life's history of every man of great and true achievement one passage which outvies all the rest in its beauty and passion. For Garibaldi that supreme romance came in the love of his youthful wife, Anita, says a writer. Their companionship endured through the most remarkable hardships, for twenty years, and there does not seem to have been a cloud between them from the time he first met her in Brazil (in 1839), until her death on the shore of the Adriatic, after the siege of Rome. Garibaldi was 32 before he thought of marriage.

He had been three years in South America fighting with the revolutionists of Brazil, and had seen his earliest and best friends slain in battle. His heart empty, isolated and feeling the need of companionship, he met the lovely Anita de Silva, the 19-year-old daughter of a good family, near Rio Janeiro, and they were married.

Anita accompanied her warlike spouse on his naval expeditions along the Brazilian coast, assisting in several severe engagements, distributing weapons during the fight, and even pointing the cannon. In the struggle for Montevideo liberty she was, on one occasion, taken prisoner by a band of the enemy, and carried to the interior. Escaping, she rode on horseback for four days, a cup of coffee being her only nourishment, and during her escape swam a deep river, holding the tail of her horse.

After they returned to Italy, in 1848, she lived for a time with his mother at Nice, but when the revolt at Rome broke out the next year, she insisted on joining him during the conflict. When, finally, the soldiers of Napoleon III. drove Garibaldi from the Sacred City, he retreated with 4,000 soldiers into Tuscany, taking Anita with him. She was to poor health, but would not leave her husband in danger. They retreated to the little republic of San Marino, among the Apennines, and there the Austrians, with overpowering numbers, broke Garibaldi's little army to pieces. Continuing their flight, Garibaldi, with a few companions and at times carrying Anita in his arms, hastened through the mountains to the Adriatic coast. Here they found a few boats and embarked, although the weather was stormy. Anita grew rapidly worse, and they landed again near the mouth of the Po.

Here for a day, with the pursuing Austrians all about, they lay amid the tall sheaves of a corn field, and Garibaldi watched the life of his companion ebb slowly out. Late at night they bore her in a rude cart through the hills to a little cottage, and the next morning she expired, her head resting on Garibaldi's shoulders. In after years Garibaldi erected a beautiful memorial to Anita at the spot where she died and was buried. And thereafter he gave his love to none but to Italy.

Strange Underground Noises.

A singular phenomenon occurs on the borders of the Red Sea at a place called Nakous, says the Philadelphia Record, where intermittent underground sounds have been heard for an unknown number of centuries. It is situated at about a half mile distant from the shore, whence a long reach of sand ascends rapidly to a height of 200 feet. This reach is about 800 feet wide, and resembles an amphitheater, being walled by low rocks.

The sounds coming up from the ground at this place recur at intervals of about an hour. They at first resemble a low murmur, but ere long there is heard a loud knocking something like the strokes of a bell, and which at the end of about five minutes becomes so strong as to agitate the sand. The explanation of this curious phenomenon given by the Arabs is that there is a convent under the ground here and that these monks ring for prayers. So they call it Nakous, which means a bell.

The Arabs affirm that the noise so frightens their camels when they hear it as to render them furious. Philologists attribute the sound to suppressed volcanic action—probably to the bubbling of gas or vapor underground.

Cholly Sapprey—Such an odd girl, don't y' know. When she was introduced to me she burst out laughing. Miss Pepprey—Yes, she's hysterical. Cholly Sapprey—Aw—really? Miss Pepprey—Yes, she frequently laughs at nothing.—Philadelphia Press.

In the German Army.

The noted soldier and historian, Theodore Ayrault Dodge, was educated in Berlin, and at a dinner party, apropos of German military discipline, he once said:

"The German soldier must never appear in public except in uniform. Even when he is on furlough he must not, under any circumstances, wear civilian dress.

"Well, Swartz, a young lieutenant of cavalry, during my residence in Berlin was one day engaged in some adventure or other, and put on, to disguise himself, a suit of black cloth. Dressed in this suit, he was passing down an unfrequented street when he came face to face with his colonel.

"Detected in so grave a misdemeanor, Swartz proved himself the possessor of a resourceful mind. He said to the colonel in a bass voice, different from his own:

"Can you tell me, sir, where Lieutenant Swartz lives? I am his brother from the country and I have come on to pay him a visit."

"The colonel readily and politely gave the required information and passed on.

"The lieutenant congratulated himself on his escape. He hurried home and put on his uniform. Duty late that afternoon called him before the colonel again. He saluted with confidence. The colonel regarded him oddly.

"Lieutenant Swartz," he said, "I wish you'd tell your brother from the country that if he pays you another visit I'll put him in close confinement for ten days."

Who Owns the Railroads.

H. T. Newcomb, of the District of Columbia bar, has compiled statistics showing that 5,174,718 depositors in savings banks of six eastern states are directly interested in the joint ownership of $424,354,086 of steam railroad securities, that insurance companies doing business in Massachusetts hold $845,889,038 of steam railroad stocks and bonds, and 74 educational institutions depend on $47,468,327 invested in similar securities for a portion of their income. Other fiduciary institutions own enough railroad securities to bring such holdings up to more than a billion and a half dollars, about one-sixth of the entire capital invested in railroad property. These investments represent the savings of the masses, there being twenty million holders of life insurance policies in the country as many more of fire insurance policies, and an even greater number of depositors in banking and trust institutions, where investments are largely in railroad securities.

No Wonder.

"The speed limit," said the sad-faced man, "should be removed from automobiles."

"Do you own a machine?" asked the stranger within the gates.

"No," replied the gloomy party. "I'm an undertaker."

He Thought It Might Do.

When Patrick received an order he followed it implicitly as far as he could—sometimes even farther than his Celtic brain realized.

"He wants a pane o' windy-glass tin inches by fourteen," said Patrick one day, as he entered a shop where his employer, a master carpenter, traded.

In the shop was a young clerk, who never missed a chance for a little joke at the Irishman's expense.

"If we haven't any ten-by-four-teens," he said, "I may have to give you a fourteen-by-ten."

Patrick rubbed his head thoughtfully. Then he stood pondering for a moment, and at last remarked:

"He's in the great roosh for it, and there's no other place near to get it. Give me wan o' thim fourteen-by-tens, and if he turns it sideways and oopside down, there's not a soul would know the difference."

SSS FOR THE BLOOD

"S. S. S. for the blood" has grown to be a household saying. When the blood is out of order, or needs treatment from any cause, this great remedy is the first thought of and used by thousands of people all over the country, because it is superior to all other blood purifiers. It is a purely vegetable remedy, and while it penetrates the circulation and forces out all poison and morbid matter, it also builds up the entire system by its fine tonic effect. During the winter months the natural avenues of bodily waste have become dull and weak and failed to perform their full duty, the blood has been sluggish and an extra amount of poisons and waste matters have accumulated in the system and been absorbed by it. With the coming of Spring and warm weather the blood is aroused and stirred to quicker action and in its effort to throw off these acids and poisons the skin suffers. Boils, pimples, blotches, rashes and eruptions break out and continue until the blood is cleansed and made pure. S. S. S. is the ideal remedy for this condition; it clears the blood of all impurities, makes it rich and strong and these skin troubles pass away. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other diseases of the blood are cured by S. S. S. Book on the blood and any advice desired, free of charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

I was suffering from impure blood and a general run-down condition of the system. I had no appetite, was losing flesh, and an all-gone tired feeling that made me miserable. I began the use of S. S. S. and my blood was restored to its normal, healthy condition. My appetite returned, I increased in weight, that "tired feeling" left and I was again myself.

Worth Winning.

"Say, Harker," began Pemberton, "did you ever win a prize by smoking cigarettes?"

"No," responded Harker, the sensible young man, "but I won a prize when I stopped smoking them."

"You did? Where is it?"

"In the hammock over there—my wife, you know."

Practical View.

"Summer," remarked the bunch of feminine loveliness who was taking on a load of oysters at the young man's expense, "is my favorite season. It's so delightful to sit under the trees and listen to the concert by nature's feathered songsters."

"Isn't it, though?" exclaimed the young man, enthusiastically, "and it doesn't cost a cent, either."

Asked and Answered.

"Why don't you get your life insured, my dear?" asked Mrs. Newed.

"I'm afraid people might say I was afraid to take chances on your cooking," replied the gallant young band.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles could never be used except on precarious occasions, and are then to be feared because they will do tenfold the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and acts in the blood. Sold by druggists, price 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.
