FRIDAY - SEPTEMBER 1, 1925

The latest railroad move—incorporation of the Oregon Eastern Railway Company by men connected with the O. R. & N., to build across Oregon from Natron to Ontario, and putting a crew of surveyors immediately in the field—fits in very well with the story from Boise which appears in another column of this paper.

A delegate from Klamath Falls was speaking in the irrigation congress of the prosperity which reclamation of arid lands had brought to his section, and incidentally mentioned the fact that his town had given a bonus of $100,000 for a railroad coming up from California, whereas a Portland member chided the Klamath brother for lack of loyalty to Oregon.

Samuel S. Johnson who was largely interested in Deschutes timber lands and is well known here, died in Berkeley, Cal., last Tuesday, of Bright's disease. It was in view of this outcome of his illness that he recently organized the Deschutes Lumber Company, of Minneapolis, to take over the property in this section he was interested in.

The melancholy days are here. The nights are a little crisp. The harvest bonanza. The camping season is over. The boys have gathered away from home and striveth mightily for fun.

President Roosevelt has at last decided to settle the case of the Japanese waving entirely their claim for indemnity. No other ruler on earth could have done this. Both sides knew he meant what he said and gave him confidence that they never would have given any "lip" to him.

J. C. Perry is now located at Princeton, Idaho, where he has a good position with a Weyerhaeuser mill.

For Sale. House and lot on Eleventh street and Ironwood avenue. Also sewing machine, large range, and other household goods.

FOR SALE—A new, wide track, Bain 3 1/2 inch, coast wagon. Inquire Sherwood Bros., on Laidlaw Forest road, six miles south of Redmond.
