The Bend schools opened Monday with large attendance and promise that a third room will soon be needed.

The Madras Pioneer last week came out in enlarged form and now the size of The Bend Bulletin. These are the largest papers in Oregon of the railroad.

The state land board ought to treat all arid land applicants alike. The Columbia Southern Irrigation Co. had its lists approved for patent on the same showing that has been made by the Deschutes Irrigation & Power Co.

Last year the Bend school district, (inclusive of the present Laidlaw district) had 85 children of school age. This year in the same territory 260 were enumerated.

Two persons in Bend have been very assiduously lying for several weeks past about the conduct of the U. S. commissioner here.

Notice to Water Users: Charge for water service in Bend will begin September 15, instead of September 1, as previously understood.

VERY UNFORTUNATE: The Bend Bulletin was not in existence at the time the offense charged against Williamson, Gestor and Biggs is alleged to have been committed.

the whole thing would be on a rational basis.

The friends and neighbors of the defendants admit that they were engaged in just the work which the government says they did. The only room for question is upon the point of criminal intent.

The whole community was honeycombed with land graft. Some of this was mere carelessness, much of it was worse.

Numbers of the partisans of the defendants say their intent was not evil, to support which position they go to the extent of denying the facts of local history.
