Hugh McGreer passed east of Bend this week with 4,400 sheep. Enroute from the mountains to Antelope. Tuesday he camped out on the desert and came to Bend to get a sack of salt for the sheep. He strapped the salt to his pack mule and mounting his horse started for camp. When a short way out of town the mule decided he did not like his burden, so began bucking, and kept it up until he had the sack of salt off and well tramped into the ground. McGreer returned to town, in no pleasant frame of mind, for a new supply.

Hayride Party.

Last Friday night a party was given by Miss Mary Riley at her home five miles north of Bend, in honor of her guest, Miss Alice Gregg, of Portland. The guests were young people of Bend and made the trip in a wagon filled with hay.

Bob Zevely was driver and pilot. Members of the party say he did not hold the lines and that the craft went to starboard when it ought to have gone to larboard. When the party got nearly to Laidlaw it hove to and after consultation sent three persons out to find the course. These took their reckoning from the stars and a dead juniper tree and started back on the right road to the house. Upon arriving they were charmingly entertained with music, games and refreshments and reached home about 2:30 a. m.

Those attending were: Mrs. B. F. West, of the Meadows, as chaperone; Mrs. Ora Poindexter, Misses Shell and Rilla McReynolds, Violet Reed, Mabel Hunter and Bessie Donkle; Messrs. Robert Zevely, Tom Reed, Guy McReynolds, C. M. Triplett, T. W. Zimmermann and Barney Lewis.
