into the world last week to make and wants is always quickly taken. honey for Les. N. Kelsay, recently There are many opportunities of the Silver Lake Central Oregonian. ----

Freighters bring news of the movement of an unprecedented number of settlers to the reclaimed lands of the Deschutes. The roads are strewn with these outfits moving in for new homes.

Stamp cancellations at the Bend post office for October amounted to $16 more than for September, notwithstanding the removal of the D. I. & P. office and the establishment of the new post office of Redmond. Bank deposits in Bend increased about $7000 in the month, and there was an increase of about 25 per cent in telephone business. More than 100 children are enrolled in the Bend schools. toward Bend from all points of the very pretty situation. And this is as follows: built without advance news getting such papers. I trust that it is appropricant land that people are turning up a ton. their noses at. A year or two hence they will be fighting for the same land which they now spurn.

Turn a heap of $20 gold pieces out into the street. They would be fully developed bonanzas $1.50 of the the present moment. Their value would appeal to the whole world and they would be snapped up in a jiffy. A less number of people, but still many, would take rather promptly the grain or potatoes which bring the gold. Fewer men would rush for the land that produced the crops and still fewer would care to invest the labor neccessary to turn the soil and climate into gold pieces. Your frugal, industrious, patient citizen who can see gold pieces to come from labor and land, took last year or to years ago the land upon, which towns are being built now. Such long-headed, far-sighted men are today taking tracts which land-mad people reject as worthless, And many of them will get rich from these 'worthless" lands.

Everybody can see the opportunity that lies full-blown and waiting The Shaniko Bee came buzzing today, and what everybody can see that are not flaunted before everybody's eyes, which require industry or money or special treatment of and one kind or other to develop them. He who has the vision and the talents to see and seize these is the man who makes a success, and he also avoids the crowd. For all such there was, is and will be plenty of vacant land.

Appreciation of The Bulletin.

The following voluntary commendation from a correspondent in the thriving community of Tumalo shows that the Prineville view of land graft has not corrupted all of Crook county:

The people of Turnato and surround-ing country are glad to see The Bulletin take such a bold stand against the land frand swingliers.
