

FOR CATARRH OF HEAD THROAT LUNGS STOMACH KIDNEYS BLADDER FEMALE ORGANS

Colonel Arthur L. Hamilton, of the 7th Ohio Volunteers, 259 Goodale street, Columbus, O., writes: "As a remedy for catarrh and stomach trouble I can fully recommend Peruna." Mrs. Hamilton, wife of the gallant Colonel, is an ardent friend of Peruna also.

Somewhat Different.
"I suppose that old chap with the long white whiskers over there is one of your old settlers, isn't he?" said the grocery drummer.
"I reckon he's what you might call a old resident," rejoined the village merchant, "but he ain't no old settler. He's been a'owin' me for nigh onto thirty years."

Healthy Children.
Without good health life is not worth living. Sickly, peevish children are a source of endless trouble and anxiety to their parents, yet the children's condition is frequently due to their parents' ignorance or thoughtlessness, or both.
To make children healthy and to keep them in that condition it is necessary to feed them proper food and to see that they get plenty of exercise and fresh air. Meat is very bad for children. It should be avoided and food rich in phosphates, such as Pillsbury's Vitas, should be given in its place.
This food is truly the "meat of the wheat." It is made by the world's greatest millers and it is free from artificial coloring or adulteration. It is not especially a child's food. Your whole family will enjoy this common sense cereal. It makes a wholesome, substantial breakfast or an appetizing dessert, and can be prepared in one hundred different ways.
Every good grocer will supply you with Pillsbury's Vitas. Large package—enough to make twelve pounds of strength-building food, 20c. Ask your grocer about it today.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages. That is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

"Papa, what's a man who runs an auto called?" "It depends on whether he is being called by his employer or by the man he has just missed."—Houston Post.
"I promised to make a call to-night," said the man, preparing to go out. "Very well," replied the wife; "but don't call unless you have the cards."—Houston Post.
The Writer—I see you've got my latest book there. What do you think of it? The Reader—Oh, I've only had time to read the last few pages of it as yet.—Tid-Bits.
"Who is supporting Starleigh this season?" "His wife." "His wife?" "Why, I never knew she was on the stage." "She isn't; but she takes in washing."—Baltimore American.
Singleton—Have you decided what you are going to call the baby, old man? Wedderton—Certainly, I'm going to call him whatever my wife names him.—Chicago Daily News.
Little Willie—Papa, why does the railway company have those cases with the ax and saw in every car? Father—I presume they are put in to use in case any one wants to open a window.—Puck.
Hardupp—Have you a five-dollar bill you don't know what to do with? Smyke—Yes, here is one, Hardupp.—Thanks—but, I say, this is a counterfeit! Smyke—Well, you asked me for one I didn't know what to do with.—Tales.
"You haven't married me just to spite somebody else, have you?" she asked, looking anxiously up into his honest blue eyes. "No, dear," he absent-mindedly replied. "I took you for your money alone."—Chicago Record-Herald.
"Ma," exclaimed Bobby, "do you like any one to bite you?" "No, dear, why?" "Well, Mr. Buttin just bit sister on the mouth, and she put her arms around his neck and tried to choke him. I guess she doesn't like it, either."—Puck.
"How did you like my talk last night?" asked the beginner in the lecture field. "Well," replied the candid critic, "you didn't take advantage of your many opportunities." "I didn't." "No, you had a number of opportunities to quit before you did."—Philadelphia Press.
"Say," queried the sporty-looking man as he entered the intelligence office, "can you procure a clerk for me with a voice exactly like mine?" "Don't know," replied the manager; "what's the object?" "I want him to stay at the office every night and answer the telephone when my wife rings up," explained the party of the sporty part.—Chicago News.
"As I was coming in just now," said Mrs. Oldenstie, "your footman used an opprobrious epithet." "My goodness," replied her hostess, "I must speak to James about that. I simply won't put up with it. Josiah says unless there's less of them used around here he'll have to gettin' them by the wholesale. I never seen the way servants do waste things when they ain't the ones that have to pay for them."—Chicago Record-Herald.
"Mr. Rangle," said the book agent, "can I sell you a history of Menard County?" "Why, that happens to be the county I was born and grew up in," said the lawyer; "what is the book worth?" "Four dollars a copy." "I'll take one." To Mr. Rangle's intense surprise the caller burst into tears. "What's the matter, young man," he asked; "was the shock too great for you?" "It—it wasn't what I expected!" sobbed the book agent; "I had made a bet of five dollars you'd kick me out!"—Chicago Tribune.

IDENTIFYING JONES' BODY.

The Verifying Examination Scientific, Painstaking and Conscientious.
On April 7 the coffin was opened in presence of Colonel Blanchard, M. Welas, M. Geninet, superintendent of the work, the foreman, several workmen, and myself. The lid was so firmly soldered that it was removed with some difficulty. There was a strong alcoholic odor, but the alcohol in which the body had evidently been preserved had nearly all evaporated, doubtless through the hole made in the lid by the pick and a crack in the edge of the coffin near the foot caused by the pressure of the earth after the wooden coffin had rotted away. However, the earth which covered these holes was hard and black, having evidently become indurated by the action of the escaping alcohol, so that the process of evaporation had doubtless been exceedingly slow. The body was covered with a winding sheet and firmly packed with hay and straw. A rough measurement indicated the height of Paul Jones. Those engaged upon the work had been furnished some time before with copies of the admiral's congressional medal showing his bust in profile. Half a dozen candles were placed near the head of the coffin, and the winding sheet was removed from the head and chest, exposing the face. To our intense surprise the body was marvelously well preserved, all the flesh remaining intact, but slightly shrunken and of a grayish brown or tan color. The surface of the body and the linen were moist. The face presented quite a natural appearance, except that the cartilaginous portion of the nose had been bent over toward the right side, pressed down and completely disfigured by its too close proximity to the lid of the coffin. Upon placing the medal near the face, comparing the other features and recognizing the peculiar characteristics—the broad forehead, high cheek bones, prominently arched eye-orbits, and other points of resemblance, we immediately exclaimed, "Paul Jones," and all those who had gathered about the coffin removed their hats, feeling that there was every probability that they were standing in the presence of the illustrious dead—the object of the long search.
There now took place one of the most scientific, painstaking and conscientious examinations conceivable for the purpose of verifying beyond all doubt the identification of the body submitted for this purpose.
The official and professional responsibility of those engaged in the task, their disinterestedness, and the fact that their established reputations were at stake, gave abundant guarantee that the labor would be faithfully and impartially performed. Twelve American or French persons officially took part in or witnessed the work of identification, and their affirmative verdict, after six days passed in the application of every possible test, was positive and unanimous, and was formally certified to under the official seals of their respective departments.—From General Horace Porter's "The Recovery of the Body of John Paul Jones," in the Century.
APES AS CASHIERS
Wise Animals Are Now Employed to Test Coins in Siam.
In Siam apes are now employed as cashiers. A year or two ago much base coin was circulated by a clique of coiners, and the tradesmen found that it was a very difficult matter to discriminate between good and bad money, says the Lahore (India) Tribune.
One large store kept a pet monkey, and one morning he was seen to take a coin from the cashier's desk and put it between his teeth. After biting it for some moments he threw it on the floor with a solemn grimace of dissatisfaction.
The proprietor of the store then handed the monkey another coin, and after testing it with great deliberation he laid it on the cashier's desk.
Apparently the creature could tell a counterfeit coin from a good one, and in order to ascertain whether other monkeys had the same extraordinary gift a couple of apes belonging to a zoo were given the test, with satisfactory results. From that day the majority of the business houses in Siam have kept monkeys as cashiers, and the gifted creatures have developed the faculty of discrimination between good and bad coin to such perfection that no human being can compete with them.
A little while ago a monkey employed by a firm of clothiers died, and his coffin, which was of polished oak, and conveyed to the cemetery in an open hearse, was followed by all the cashier monkeys in Siam.
Ghastly Curiosities.
Guajuato, the ruined city of Mexico, which was destroyed by a cloudburst, furnishes one of the ghastliest curiosities of the world. In one of the vaults of the Pantheon are preserved many mummies which were dug from the soil. They afford a curious evidence of the natural embalming properties of the earth.
Provoking.
"Woman just dropped dead in the bargain crush at the ribbon counter," cried the floorwalker, excitedly.
"How inopportune!" exclaimed the head of the firm. "Our undertaking department won't be opened until next Monday!"—Catholic Standard and Times.
We have noticed that if a resolution to be patient and cheerful doesn't trip over the rug in the bedroom, it catches its foot on the railing in going downstairs.

RHEUMATISM

BODY RACKED WITH PAIN

No other bodily suffering is equal to that produced by the pain of Rheumatism. When the poisons and acids, which cause this disease, become entrenched in the blood there is hardly any part of the body that is not affected. The muscles become sore and drawn, the nerves twitch and sting, the joints inflame and swell, the bones ache, every movement is one of agony, and the entire body is racked with pain. Rheumatism is brought on by indigestion, stomach troubles, torpid liver, weak kidneys and a general inactive state of the system. The refuse matter instead of passing off through nature's avenues is left to sour and form uric acid, and other acid poisons which are absorbed into the blood. Rheumatism does not affect all alike. In some cases it takes a wandering form; it may be in the arms or legs one day and in the shoulders, feet, hands, back or other parts of the body the next. Others suffer more seriously, and are never free from pain. The uric acid and other irritating substances find lodgment in the muscles and joints and as these deposits increase the muscles become stiff and the joints locked and immovable. It matters not in what form the disease may be the cause is always the same—a sour, acid condition of the blood. This vital stream has lost its purity and freshness, and instead of nourishing and feeding the different parts with health-giving properties, it fills them with the acids and salts of this painful and far-reaching disease. The cold and dampness of Winter always intensify the pains of Rheumatism, and the sufferer to get relief from the agony, rubs the affected parts with liniments, oils, lotions, etc., or uses plasters and other home remedies. These are desirable because they give temporary ease and comfort but have no effect on the real trouble which is in the blood and beyond the reach of such treatment. S. S. S. is the best remedy for Rheumatism. It goes into the blood and attacks the disease at its head, and by neutralizing and driving out the acids and building up the thin, sour blood it cures the disease permanently. While cleansing the blood S. S. S. tones up the stomach, digestion and every other part of the system, soothes the excited nerves, reduces the inflammation, dissolves the deposits in the joints, relieves all pain and completely cures this distressing disease. S. S. S. is a certain cure for Rheumatism in any form; Muscular, Inflammatory, Articular or Sciatic. Special book on the disease and any medical advice, without charge, to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

About fifteen years ago I had a severe attack of Rheumatism and could not work with any satisfaction. My legs were badly swollen and drawn so I could scarcely walk. I tried many remedies but could get no relief. I was finally recommended to try S. S. S. and it soon cured me sound and well. I am now 74 years old and have never had any return of the trouble.

Sometime ago I had Rheumatism and had to quit work. The pains in my back and between my shoulders was so intense I could not rest or sleep. I tried everything but nothing did me any good till I heard of and took S. S. S. This medicine cured me sound and well. It purified my blood and made me feel like a new man.
