TIMBER LAND WANTED

I have completed arrangements whereby I can handle a number of good timber claims, in the Deschutes timber belt, at once. Title must be perfect. I have special inquiry just now for land in Tps. 21, 22, 23 and 24 S., R. 11 E., and if parties owning land there will communicate with me, it may result to the advantage of all concerned.

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Election Tuesday Arouses Moderate Interest.

SOME BUTTON-HOLING DONE

Contest for Control of City Council Is Decided by Voters in Favor of the "People's" Candidates.

Tuesday's election for the choice of city officers passed off in due form, and the People's ticket won, with the exception of the candidate for marshal. All but the aldermen are re-elections. Following is the record of the votes:

For Mayor:
A. L. Goodwillie	84
For recorder:
J. M. Lawrence	47
T. W. Zimmerman	36
Plurality	11
For treasurer:
F. O. Minor	85
For marshal:
C. M. Weymouth	48
Floyd Lobdell	35
Plurality	13
For alderman full term:
J. Frank Stroud	61
Millard Triplett	54
S. C. Caldwell	47
D. McMillan	40
E. A. Sather	3
For alderman to fill vacancy:
E. A. Sather	47
John H. Overturf	45
Hugh O'Kane	39
C. D. Brown	39
elected.

There was comparatively little interest in the election, four of the nine officers going uncontested. The only fight was for the control of the council. J. M. Lawrence was on both tickets for recorder, but news of his appointment to the Roseburg land office unsettled the recorder-ship, and an independent polled a goodly vote.

Two tickets were in the field, the People's and the Citizens', and were as follows:

- PEOPLE'S TICKET.
For mayor—A. L. Goodwillie
For recorder—J. M. Lawrence
For treasurer—F. O. Minor
For marshal—Floyd Lobdell
For aldermen—two years, J. Frank Stroud, Millard T. Triplett and Samuel C. Caldwell; one year (to fill vacancy), E. A. Sather and John H. Overturf.

- CITIZENS' TICKET.
For mayor—A. L. Goodwillie
For recorder—J. M. Lawrence
For treasurer—F. O. Minor
For marshal—C. M. Weymouth
For aldermen—two years, J. Frank Stroud, D. McMillan and Millard T. Triplett; one year (to fill vacancy), Hugh O'Kane and C. D. Brown.

Eighty-four voters registered during the day and cast their ballots, but when it came to canvassing the vote, 85 ballots were found in the ballot box. As there was no telling how the extra ballot got in and as each of the successful candidates had more than a majority of one, this slight error would cause no difference in the result, and under the law the election is considered valid.

Owing to the fact that C. D. Brown was a candidate for alderman he did not serve on the election board, the remaining judges, Ralph Sheldon and Creed Triplett, choosing H. R. Satchell to fill the vacancy. The clerks were H. P. J. McDonald and F. Milo Lobdell.

The council met Wednesday evening, canvassed the election returns and declared the result as recorded above. The election judges and clerks were each paid $3 for their service.

FOXY COUGAR AT LYTLE.

Imitates the Cry of a Child and Ladies Rush to the Rescue.

A cougar in the vicinity of Lytle is up to some rather unpleasant tricks. A few weeks ago Mrs. John Steidl and a lady friend heard what they supposed was someone calling for help down by the river, as it flows not far from the Steidl home. Fearing that some child had fallen into the stream and was drowning, the ladies hurried to its assistance. What was their surprise, however, upon reaching the river, to see over on the other bank, high up on the rim rock, a large cougar standing there and uttering the cries which they had supposed was the call of a child for help.

Again the latter part of last week, Mr. Steidl's two little boys noticed a flock of ducks passing overhead, and about the same time heard the report of some hunter's gun as he fired into the flock. Boy like, they ran down to the river to see the fun. But what they found was not the hunter. Instead, they also noticed across the river, a good-sized cougar skulking along on the opposite bank. It is needless to say the boys' ardor in pursuit of game was immediately cooled. In their haste the boys had hurried down stream some distance but on catching sight of the animal were more anxious to get home than they were to find the hunter. Retracing their steps they came to the point where the path left the bank of the stream and diverged toward their home. As they turned from the stream, they heard the cry of the cougar apparently about opposite them, the animal having followed their retreat on the opposite bank. The next day, Millard Triplett happened to be on the west side of the stream, noticed in the snow tracks of a large cougar skirting the bank from the point where the boys first saw the animal to where they left the stream on their hurried flight homeward.

PROTESTS TO LAND BOARD

The Bend Council Takes Action

Sends in Resolution--Public Meeting Is Called -- Three Ordinances Passed at Last Session.

At the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday night the following preamble and resolution was unanimously adopted and ordered sent to the state land board:

Whereas, The Deschutes Irrigation & Power Company has entered into contract with the State of Oregon for the reclamation of certain lands in the Deschutes valley, water from which is to be diverted from the Deschutes river below the city of Bend, and

Whereas, The said company now proposes to divert such water for the Deschutes river at a point about three miles above the city of Bend, and

Whereas, Such proposed diversion will greatly injure the city of Bend and important riparian rights tributary thereto; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Common Council of the City of Bend hereby protest against such proposed diversion from the contract of said Deschutes Irrigation & Power Company with the State of Oregon, and urges the State Land Board not to sanction such change, inasmuch as important interests are dependent upon the fulfillment of the contract as now in force and no benefit will result to the state by the proposed departure therefrom.

The council directed the recorder to give notice that a public meeting would be held in the B. M. hall on Saturday evening of this week to consider means for promoting the interests of the community, particularly with reference to the controversy between the D. I. & P. Co. and A. M. Drake.

The ordinances previously introduced, for reducing recorder's salary from $300 to $120 a year, abolishing treasurer's pay and reducing saloon license from $500 to $400 a year were passed. Alderman Merrill sought to have the license ordinance tabled, but there was a tie vote and the mayor voted against tabling. Then it carried unanimously.

Educational Meeting.

The Crook County Educational Union has arranged to hold a meeting in Bend at the B. M. hall, on Saturday evening, December 16, for which the following programme has been arranged by the committee in Prineville:

MUCH NEW BUILDING

Many Improvements Being Made Hereabouts.

COUNTRY IS PROSPEROUS

Much Money Is Being Put into New Structures--Bend's New School House Heads the List.

All things taken into consideration, one of the safest ways to gauge the prosperity of a section is to keep an accurate account of all building operations in the vicinity. With this view in mind, The Bulletin has prepared a partial statement of the building that is in progress in Bend and the surrounding country.

First and foremost in the list is our own handsome new school house, for the erection of which the taxpayers of this school district have voted the sum of $6,500. The plans call for a structure 65x70 feet, two full stories high with attic. The three rooms on the ground floor will be made ready for use at once, but those of the second story will remain unfinished at present. However, they can easily be made ready for use, whenever the growing needs of the district demand it, and that promises to be at no far distant time.

Contractor Jarvis commenced work on the building Monday morning and will push it to completion as rapidly as possible. The building is contracted to be finished in February.

John Sisemore is erecting a fine new barn on his lots on Oregon street. Mr. Sisemore was asked when he commenced the building of the stable why he went to such an expense in putting up so large a structure. He replied that he liked to see good buildings going up in the town and therefore his barn measures 30x36 feet with 20-foot posts. This gives him ample ground room and also a fine loft. The cost of the barn will be about $250.

Another man putting up a barn is W. P. Vandever over by the building formerly occupied for an office by the D. I. & P. Co. Mr. Vandever's stable will measure about 25x30 feet with 8-foot posts. It will furnish him ample stable room.

Henry Hedges is one of the many homesteaders in this vicinity who is building this winter. Just recently he hauled sufficient lumber to his homestead about a mile northeast of town to build a dwelling 14x16 feet with an L, 12x20, and a barn 40x60 feet. The dwelling was recently completed and Mr. Hedges and family are now making their permanent residence there.

C. H. Erickson has a fine new barn just completed. It measures about 16x30 with 12-foot posts. Over at Lytle, G. L. Moore is building a commodious residence. The main part is 16x32 feet, 10-foot posts. Mr. Moore figures the cost of the residence when completed will be close to $400.

In the same neighborhood George Bates is planning a fine residence, with a basement 14x24. The building will be 24x28 feet with 12-foot posts, which will make a pleasant home. Mr. Bates figures the cost at $1,000. It is his intention to build next spring.

Henry Linstner expects to put up a fine residence across the river from the mill. The building will be in the form of a cross with the dimensions measuring 18x36 and 18x18 feet, two stories high. This residence will cost close to $1,200.

Down at Redmond, J. B. Jackson is erecting a two-story store building, the upper story to be occupied with a stock of furniture, the lower one with a supply of sash and doors for retail trade.

At the same place John Circles and V. J. O'Connor have each completed a fine five-room cottage.

On his homestead in 19-12, H. W. Morrill is building a barn. William Bates is repairing the house that he recently purchased of T. W. Triplett on one of the Sisemore acre lots. He contemplates building a barn in the near future.

Laidlaw has recently let the contract for a new school house, two rooms, to cost $1,500. A livery barn is being built at Redmond 60x92 feet, 24-foot posts.

Pasturage for horses, 50 cents a week, $2 a month, near Bend. H. W. MORRILL.
