Fred Hesse of Portland was again in town the first of the week. Mr. Hesse has the work of installing the pumping plant for R. M. Morris on his ranch at Trail Crossing on Crooked River.

Nothing adds so much to the appearance of business correspondence as neatly printed stationery. It is indispensable in the estimation of up-to-date business men. The Bulletin Job Office can supply your needs in this line.

C. W. Embold of Portland; M. T. Dickson and Wm. Gregory of Bridal Veil; A. J. Spillers, Falls City; E. E. Roberts, Gresham, and H. S. Eddy of Shaniko, all this state, stopped in Bend Monday and Tuesday on their way to the Silver Lake country.

A. C. Lucas reports that the work of clearing the Johnston ranch is progressing nicely. There are eight men in the employ of those who have the contract for clearing, and the D. I. & P. Co. people also have fourteen at work clearing off the sage brush and junipers.

Frank Glass was in town Tuesday in company with P. E. Smith of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, who is inspecting the D. I. & P. Co.'s lands along the Deschutes. Mr. Smith expressed himself as well pleased with the prospects herenabouts, and will undoubtedly invest.

Our readers will remember a few weeks ago mention in the Bulletin that Dorsey Heising had broken his arm. A week ago Friday it was considered healed, and the splints removed. As the little fellow was playing at school last Tuesday, one of his playmates ran up behind him and pushed him over, causing him to fall on the injured arm and break it again.

It is a matter beyond dispute that Bend has a very talented cartoonist. If you doubt it just step into the White & Hill market on Wall street and take a look at the latest endeavors of "Murphy" Lobdell. Mr. Lobdell has drawn some eight or ten sketches of the attorneys and prominent witnesses in the case of Kotzman vs. Erickson et al, and the skillful work of his pencil is attracting much favorable comment and causing a great deal of humor.

Dr. C. S. Edwards of Prineville has a daughter born last week.

The young wild cat which J. Frank Stroud caught and tamed and had for a house pet last summer recently became afflicted with fits and it was necessary to kill the animal.

C. C. Bennett and S. H. Dorrance transacted business in Bend Tuesday while enroute to Mr. Dorrance's ranch. They expect to spend a few days hunting in that vicinity.

Mrs. E. F. Batten entertained the Thursday Evening Bowling Club after their meeting last evening. Taffy-pulling and pop-corn balls helped to pass away the time pleasantly.

J. C. Perry, formerly superintendent of the Pilot Butte sawmill, who has been for some time at Bridal Veil, Idaho, writes that he will be hereafter located at Palouse, Wash, and is "getting along fine."

E. D. and Glen Hedrickson recently sold their ditch lands back to the D. I. & P. Co. and have moved to their homesteads near Pilot Butte. The ranches sold were situated near last season's experimental farm.

Dr. Coe, while attempting to ride down a ravine that he had shot and wounded last Wednesday, met with an accident. The horse that he was riding slipped and fell and the doctor came out of the mix-up with a badly sprained ankle.

One traveling over the route from Biggs to Bend cannot help being impressed with the fact that the irrigation projects in this vicinity are attracting homeseekers from all parts of the country. Last week as we rode from Biggs to Shaniko, we noticed two ladies from Iowa who were coming to join their husbands on ranches recently purchased between Redmond and Cline Falls. In the same party was a Mr. Benson from Indiana, coming to Bend to look over the field with a view to investing here. W. McMinn and L. Sanford, young farmers from Princeton, Minn., were also members of the same party, and were on their way to the Silver Lake country. They will undoubtedly investigate Bend on their return trip. A prosperous young farmer of North Dakota stopped off at Prineville, but expected to visit Bend a few days later. Thus in spite of the knockers, the opportunities here for wise investment are attracting the attention of the people.

Dr. A. A. Burris and E. E. Lyons of Hillsboro, and S. E. Grof and Fred Schütz of Bethany, Oregon, arrived in Bend Thursday evening on their return trip from land viewing in the Silver Lake and Christmas Lake countries. They expressed themselves as very much pleased with Bend and the surrounding country. Mr. Lyons remarked that Bend looked the best to him of any town he had seen on his way south from Biggs.

WHITE & HILL GOT THE HOGS.

Now the Livestock & Produce Company is in Circuit Court.

The case of Adam Kotzman vs. C. H. Erickson et al, involving the right to 53 hogs that had been sold by the Bend Livestock & Produce Co.—by the president and general manager to Adam Kotzman and by the secretary and treasurer to White & Hill—was tried Monday and resulted in a verdict for the defendants. Delivery had been made to Kotzman by one officer, subsequently the other officer took forcible possession of the animal and delivered them to White & Hill, Adam Kotzman appealed the stock and White & Hill gave a re-delivery bond and retained the property. The cause came on for trial before Justice Lawrence and a jury composed of Millard Triplett, Carlyle Triplett, A. W. Pope, P. L. Tompkins, J. H. Oneil and W. H. Staats. C. S. Benson appeared for the plaintiff and G. W. Barnes of Prineville for the defense. All the afternoon was devoted to hearing testimony. In the evening the arguments were submitted, the court adjourned to the 11th day and in about half an hour the verdict for the defendants was returned in court. It is understood that an appeal will be taken to the circuit court.

The troubles of this corporation got into circuit court this week through a new suit filed in Prineville, upon which an order for the books and another portable property of the concern was made. When Deputy Sheriff J. S. Smith went to serve the process he was resisted by Charles Boyd, president and general manager of the company, but got part of the property after a lively and somewhat bloody tussle in Boyd's house.

THIRD SCHOOL OPENED.

Miss Wiest the Teacher—More than 100 Pupils.

A third school room in Bend was opened last Tuesday in the Hedges building on Bond street with Miss Marion Wiest in charge, 36 pupils being in attendance. The district pays $8 a month salary for this building until the new schoolhouse shall be ready to use.

There were three applicants for the position of third teacher, Miss Wilkinson, Mrs. Wiest and F. M. Lobdell. Miss Wilkinson, just coming from Minnesota, concluded not to make the attempt to get legal qualification here, where she would be at great disadvantage on all matters pertaining to the state—state history, state geography, state civil government, etc.—and withdrew her application, though she holds a Minnesota high school diploma. Mr. Lobdell on the same when he learned that the funds available would amount of paying the emergency teacher only $30 a month for the present. Of course no public money can be paid to any teacher until she is legally qualified to teach.

This leaves Miss Reid, with the grades above the 5th, 26 pupils; Miss Wiest the intermediate grades, with 36 pupils, and Miss Jones the primary department with 40 pupils—a total of 102.
