TOUCHES EAST SIDE

Railroad Line Skirts the Townsite of Bend.

A FINE LOCATION FOR YARDS

Oregon Eastern Engineers Are Heading for the Gap between Pilot Butte and Horse Ridge.

The railroad line being surveyed by the Oregon Eastern crew reached Bend the first of the week and skirts the townsite on the eastern side, running on practically a north and south line.

The line comes into Lytle due north. At a point about 500 feet north and east of Hotel Orcutt it takes a very slight angle to the southeast, from which point it moves on to the eastern side of Bend. At the L. D. Weist home it misses the porch to his residence about a foot, then passes on southward following very closely the line between sections 32 and 33, township 17, range 12. For two miles north of Bend the survey follows this section line with very little digression.

The intention of Chief Graham is evidently to run as near a due north and south line through this region as possible. This will take the survey, by veering a little to the east, through a natural pass lying between Lava Butte and Horse Ridge further east. By referring to your map, it will be seen that this line from Madras to Bend runs a trifle west of south; south of Bend a trifle east of south in order to follow the low ground at the foot of Lava Butte.

Any location east of Bend, on the line as now surveyed, would make a good site for railroad yards.
At no place is it distant further than half a mile from the business portion of the town, and with the development that is coming Bend would soon grow to and beyond the present line.

The crew are now working about a mile and a half east and south of Bend.

Railroad News Notes.

Grading was commenced last week on the Vale & Malheur Valley railroad in Eastern Oregon.
This road is supposed to be a link in the Harriman line from Natron to Ontario.

The Chicago & Northwestern railroad is building through Wyoming at the rate of three miles a day.
The route runs west to Boise, hits the Snake river at Nyssa, and then runs through Oregon on a line heading for Bend. The Northwestern has acquired terminal grounds at Coos Bay, and is determined to have an outlet on the Pacific coast.

LOST IN THE WOODS.

A Hunting Party of Bend Men Were Unable to Find Camp.

A hunting party composed of J.
Frank Stroud, George Whitsett, Sr., and Albert and Emery Seales started for the timber southeast of Bend last Friday morning and met with several interesting experiences during the trip.

First, Whitsett lost his rifle out of the wagon, and of course immediately started back over the road to look for it when the loss was discovered. After he had been gone some little time one of the men ran back over the route but a short distance and found the gun lying in the road and hidden by the sage brush. Whitsett had walked right over it. A horse was then put into service and a messenger started after the fleeing Whitsett, who was overtaken about five miles back on the road, still looking for the lost gun.

Albert Seales and Stroud were riding horses, the other two men driving in the wagon. The two horsemen left the party and started to circle a butte distant a few miles. Stroud was to ride around one side, Seales around the other. The understanding was that the four men should meet at a certain point and camp for the night.
Seales and Stroud failed to meet on the far side of the butte. It developed that there was a misunderstanding as to the camping place, and both horsemen, like the old-time babes, were, for a few hours, lost in the woods. Stroud fortunately found the tracks left by the wagon and soon located the camp Seales, however, was not so fortunate. Darkness came on and he covered many miles wandering through the timber before he finally located the rest of the party late that night. He tells that after finding the road, he followed the wagon tracks in the darkness by keeping lighted a torch of pine needles, and says the only thing that saved him from a cold and lonely death was a pocketful of matches.

It was an unsuccessful trip. Emery Seales was the only one to see any game—three deer—and was unable to get either of them. The party returned to town Sunday.

MASQUERADE PLEASSED MANY

B. M. Hall Filled with a Jolly Crowd on New Year's Night.

A great success was the masquerade ball at the B. M. hall in Bend last Monday evening. The hall was filled at an early hour with a goodly number of masquers and many spectators. The costumes were varied and some amusing, the music good, everybody in good humor, and all enjoyed themselves.

Two prizes of $2.50 each were offered for the most original and best sustained characters. Miss Maggie Aune, as a Norwegian peasant girl, received one, and F.
Milo Lobdell in the character of—well, of an Irish lassie—secured the other. The costume of the Norwegian girl has won three prizes at Bend dances. George Brosterhaus, Ora Poindexter, and Mrs. Effie Poindexter were the judges.

Other costumes that deserve mention were those of Miss Anna Johnson as "Blue Bells;" Mrs.
Rene West as "Night;" J. C. Lewis, a Japanese gentleman of importance, and Earl Wright, a Spanish cavalier. Fred Lucas surprised everyone in his representation of a little girl.

The dance lasted the greater part of the night, breaking up in the wee' sma' hours of Tuesday morning.

FIRE AT JOHNSTON RANCH.

Small Blaze Monday Morning Burns
Out End of Bunk House.

A lively little fire occurred at the Johnston ranch last Monday morning about 4 o'clock, when a portion of the floor and one end of the bunk house were badly burned.

Barney Lewis and George Hobbs had been hauling water to the ranch from Powell Butte, and returned from a long cold trip about 1 o'clock that morning. They started a very hot fire in the stove before retiring.

This heater is on the camp stove order, no bottom in it, fastened to the floor, with a thick layer of dirt inside to protect the floor from burning. It is thought the fire the boys started was so hot that it set the floor afire beneath the dirt; that it smoldered away until it reached the corner of the house, when the wind fanned it into flames. Things moved rather rapidly then for a time, with the boys running around on the cold ground barefooted—zero weather—carrying out their bedding and clothes. The fire was soon put out after damaging only the floor and one end of the house.

JOHNSTON'S CONSOLIDATION.

General Manager of the D. I. & P.
Interested in Big Gas Merger.

The Bulletin is in receipt of a copy of the Evening Dispatch, Columbus, Ohio, in which appears a picture of J. O. Johnston, general manager of the D. I. & P. Co. An account is given in the Columbus paper of the preliminary steps in a consolidation of three large gas companies in Columbus. Mr. Johnston is president of the Columbus Gas Light & Heating Co., one of the corporations involved in the merger, and the article contains an interview with him. He is quoted as saying that "the amalgamation of three companies into one and other economies will represent a saving of $125,000 a year." The stock of the consolidated concerns will be close to $11,000,000.

WHAT BEND HAS DONE

A Good Showing for First Year's Record.

MUCH WORK ACCOMPLISHED

The Task of Organizing and Financing a City Government Has Been Well Met—Past Debts All Paid.

The city of Bend starts the new year with all current expenses of the past year paid in full and not a cent's indebtedness to carry over and hamper the development that is certain to come during the year 1906. What already has been accomplished in building the foundation for a city government has been done by the expenditure of much hard work and much serious thinking and planning. Starting with no organization perfected, no ordinances or rules of procedure adopted, no money in the treasury, and not a cent coming into the city's exchequer from taxation, the beginning of the second year of its corporate existence finds a municipal government in full swing—sidewalks laid, streets opened, public buildings erected, ordinances passed, and taxes for future expenses levied.

Briefly stated, the work can be summed up as follows:

A first-class school system has been furnished. September, 1904, the district employed one teacher. Now three are employed, and another will probably be added to the corps in a few months. Also a fine six-room schoolhouse is being erected.

Eleven hydrants have been purchased and installed.

Fire house, 28x30 feet, erected, costing $150.

Forty acres of land purchased from U. S. government for a city cemetery.
This tract has been fenced and partly cleared, surveyed and platted into lots.
Complete cost, $250 to $300.

One policeman has been employed all the time; two a part of the past year.
Salary ranged from $65 to
