

Hood's Sarsaparilla

We are often asked, Why does Hood's Sarsaparilla effect so many cures of cases that seem to be almost beyond the reach of medicine?

The answer is this, that this great medicine is enabled by the peculiarity of its formula to produce results unapproached by any other medicine, this peculiarity consisting in the balanced combination of the very best specifics for the blood, liver, kidneys, stomach, and bowels, namely, for the blood, Sarsaparilla, Stillingia, Yellow Dock; for the liver, Mandrake, Dandelion; for the kidneys, Uva Ursi, Juniper Berries, Pipsissewa; for the stomach, Gentian, Wild Cherry Bark, Bitter Orange Peel; for the bowels, Senna, Mandrake and Dandelion.

COL. DAVID B. HENDERSON.

Tom Reed's Successor as Speaker, Who Died Recently.

The death of Col. David Bremner Henderson, of Iowa, following a paralytic and paralytic condition of over a year's duration, did not come unexpectedly. For months his mind had been in a cloud, but a few days before death it became so clear that he could recognize friends and converse intelligently with his family.

Mr. Henderson was a member of the national House of Representatives twenty years, and for two terms served as Speaker. "Good Old Dave," as he was familiarly known, was in demand as an after-dinner speaker, where his ready wit and biting humor brought forth gales of laughter. But from "Good Old Dave," as he was before his first term as Speaker, he went through a transition, till at the close of his second term as executive of the House he was styled "Czar," just as was his predecessor, Thomas B. Reed. So strong was the feeling against him in 1903 when the Fifty-seventh Congress adjourned that Mr. Henderson chose to retire from Congress rather than face what he surmised would be defeat if he were again a candidate for the speakership. Since his retirement he had lived quietly in Dubuque, which had been his home for many years.

COL. DAVID B. HENDERSON.

Mr. Henderson was born March 14, 1840, in the bleak village of Old Deer, which is attached to the estate of the Earl of Buchan in Aberdeenshire, Scotland. He was scarcely five years old when his father, Thomas Henderson, left Old Deer for America, bringing the family with him. After many tribulations the family landed in Chicago with something like $5 of ready cash remaining from the fund obtained by selling their household effects in Scotland. They managed to get a small farm in Illinois, and there they remained three years. Later the Hendersons moved to Iowa, and with money saved by David's thrifty mother purchased a tract of prairie land in Fayette County, which later was known as Henderson's Prairie. It was in Iowa the future Speaker received his schooling. He worked on the farm in summer and attended school in winter. In 1860 he was sent to a small Methodist college at Fayette, known as the Upper Iowa University.

In his second year at the school the war broke out, and on the morning of September 15, 1861, when Henderson was 21, he arose during the morning assembly of the students for prayer and asked that he be given a chance to speak. After a consultation of the faculty his wish was granted, and he then made a speech which was talked of for years in Iowa owing to its passion and patriotism. As a result twenty-two of the students promptly enlisted with him. He formed and was made lieutenant of Company C, of the Twentieth Iowa Infantry. He was shot in the face at Fort Donelson, and was in a hospital till shortly before the battle of Shiloh, where he rejoined his regiment. In the battle of Corinth he lost a foot, but after being discharged from the hospital he was made colonel of the Forty-sixth Iowa Volunteers, and served throughout the remainder of the war in that capacity. When peace had been restored Col. Henderson studied law, and from 1868 till 1882, when he was elected to Congress, and his partner, Judge Shiras, was appointed to the United States Supreme Court, he was a member of the firm of Shiras, Van Duzee & Henderson.

In 1867 Col. Henderson married Miss Augusta Fox, of West Union, Iowa, and made his home at Dubuque, where his three children were born. They are: Mrs. Angie Peaslee, of East Dubuque, Ill.; Belle Henderson, who lives with her parents, and a son, Don Henderson, who is in the lumber business in St. Paul.

Col. Henderson was a great storyteller, and a fluent and witty speaker. As an example of his vitality, many stories are told of the final operation on his leg. Three previous operations had not been successful, and in 1890 he arranged for a fourth. On this occasion he not only refused to take an anesthetic, but sat on the operating table of the hospital giving directions and freely criticizing the work of the surgeons.

The convention of physicians was called secretly and hurriedly. Dr. Killen rose to speak.

"Gentlemen of the profession," he said, "something must be done. Our automobile tires are wearing out, our daughters' music lessons are unpaid for and nearly all our good patrons have already been operated upon for appendicitis. What shall we do?"

"Let's discover a new microbe," said Dr. Quack.

The motion was carried unanimously and a wave of sickness wafted duets to the doctors' coffers.—Indianapolis Star.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: J. C. ## Everything Worn.

"And you still delay the wedding," sighed the beautiful girl. "My heart is worn out."

"Is that all?" demanded the suitor who was an advocate of procrastination.

"No," the carpet is worn out, the parlor sofa is worn out, ma's hopes are worn out and pa's patience is worn out."

The suitor whistled.

"Well, by gum!" he retalled. "My shoes are worn out coming here every two or three nights."

One Cause of Poverty.

A Philadelphian was praising the late Mary Mapes Dodge. "Wise woman as she was," he said, "Mrs. Dodge considered organized charity rather cold. She believed in the charity spirit, which, she said, was best fostered by the direct personal contact of recipient and giver. Hence she never refused a beggar. And, defending herself from attacks one day, she narrated a conversation she once overheard between two Maryland tramps, or 'peach plucks.' These peach plucks, as they lay under a tree on a superb afternoon, philosophized. 'Bill,' said said the first, 'why is it that poor people is always willing to help us, while rich folks always turns us down?' The other, with a wretched laugh, replied: 'Them that don't mind givin' things away is the ones that stays poor.'—Philadelphia Bulletin.

BLOOD POISON THE BLACK FLAG

The black flag is an emblem of horror and dread. When it is hoisted by an army, the order has gone forth that "no quarter" will be given, everything must be destroyed. Helpless women and children, as well as opposing soldiers, meet the same fate, and a trail of desolation, suffering and death is left behind. Contagious Blood Poison is the black flag of the great army of disease. This vile disorder is known as the blackest and most hideous of all human afflictions, overthrowing its victims and crushing out the life. It is no respecter of persons; no matter how pure the blood may be or how innocently the disease is contracted, when this awful virus enters the circulation the hideous, hateful and humiliating symptoms begin to appear, and the sufferer feels that his very presence is polluting and contaminating. Usually the first sign of the disease is a little sore or ulcer, but as the blood becomes more deeply poisoned the severer symptoms are manifested, the mouth and throat ulcerate, the glands in the groins swell, a red rash breaks out on the body, the hair and eyebrows come out, and often the body is covered with copper-colored spots, pustular eruptions and sores. In its worst stages the disease affects the nerves, attacks the bones and sometimes causes tumors to form on the brain, producing insanity and death. Not only those who contract the poison suffer, but unless the virus is driven from the blood the awful taint is handed down to offspring, and they are its innocent victims. Blood Poison is indeed a "black flag." Mercury and Potash, so often used, never can cure the trouble. These minerals merely drive the symptoms away for awhile and shut the disease up in the system, and when they are left off it returns worse than before. This treatment not only fails to cure blood poison but eats out the delicate lining of the stomach and bowels, produces chronic dyspepsia, loosens the teeth and frequently causes mercurial rheumatism to add to the patient's suffering. S. S. S., the great vegetable medicine, is the conqueror of this vile disease. It goes down to the very root of the trouble and cures by cleansing the blood of every particle of the poison. S. S. S. does not hide or cover up anything but clears the entire circulation of the virus and puts the system in good healthy condition. It cures safely as well as certainly, because there is not a particle of mineral in it. We offer a reward of $1,000.00 for proof that S. S. S. is not purely vegetable. When the blood is purified and strengthened with this great remedy the symptoms all pass away and no sign of the disease is ever seen again; nor is there left the least trace to be handed down to posterity. Special book with instructions for self-treatment and any medical advice desired will be sent without charge to all who write.
