In the Hall of Fame.

(Portland Telegram.)
A question often asked about the national capital is regarding Oregon's niche in the hall of fame. It will be remembered that the state has no marble figure there of her most cherished son. She is not entirely alone in the shortage, but such does not prevent the curious from inquiring when Oregon will be ready to designate who shall go down to posterity as her most potent and loved character.

The hall of fame contains some of the most historical characters of the nation. Revolutionary days, of course, were productive of a major portion of the men who are honored there. For a time it seemed as though revolutionary duties were the essential qualifications, as no other achievements approached those in popular favor. But new states and the lapse of a century make revolutionary heroes impossible for a heavy portion of the nation's ranks of statuary fame.

Oregon and several other new states has not found it expedient to place either of the statues allotted each of them, and does not indicate any desire for haste in the matter. Oregon being the mother state of the Northwest is naturally expected to have the most material for such uses, and the quizzical direct their attention to Oregon's lack of representation more than to any other western state.

Mr. Turney presented contracts for two other segregations, one the Pilot Butte segregation for $4,000 acres and the other the Oregon Irrigation Company for $6,000 acres. The proposed contracts were referred to the Attorney-General for opinion.

BEND RAPID GROWTH

Attorney Wilson of Portland Talks.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES HERE

Greatly Impressed With the Deschutes River - Many Improvements Since 1902.

A. King Wilson of Portland is spending a few days in Bend on business and to a Bulletin representative spoke in enthusiastic terms of Bend and its possibilities.

"The thing that impressed me first," said Mr. Wilson, "after my hot dusty ride across the desert was the beauty of the river at Bend and the excellence of its water. We people at Portland think that Bull Run water can't be beaten, but you folks have just as good or better supply in the Deschutes. Your water system is a credit to the town."

"I visited Bend the last time in 1902. Then there were less than half a dozen buildings here, practically none but Mr. Drake's residence and stables, a log school house and a part of what is now the Pilot Butte Inn. Now you have a business center with many of the features of a city. For example your hotels are first class: good food, good sleeping accommodations, good service. You are building a school house that compares favorably with similar structures in towns three times the size of Bend and I am informed that your teaching equipment is first class, too.

"I know" said Mr. Wilson, "that newspaper men are proverbially modest and I always refrain from saying embarrassing things to them but I will say that in my opinion Bend has one of the very best country newspapers in the state and it is entitled to the support of all the people in this region."

Mr. Wilson is greatly impressed with the power possibilities of the Deschutes river and he believes that Bend is the natural location for the headquarters of plants to develop this power. "I am informed" said he, "that there is hardly a mile of the river for a long distance above and below Bend that there is less than 100 feet drop, with a volume of 2,000 cubic feet or more per second. The power that may be developed is practically limitless. We are each year extending the field of electricity; fuel becomes each year more expensive and some substitute must be found. Such rivers as the Deschutes furnish this substitute and they are bound to be utilized in the near future. Rail roads are taking up the question of substituting electricity for steam. There could be no more favorable location for this substitution than upon the rail road lines which in a short time will parallel the Deschutes river through Central Oregon."

Mr. Turney has taken time to study the fishing capabilities of the Deschutes and he is not sure but that the river is greater as a trout stream than as a source of power.

Tumalo News.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson were in Tumalo Tuesday on business.

George Couch of Laidlaw was in Tumalo after a load of hay Wednesday.

J. E. Wimer has returned from Post, where he went to look after his cattle.

Many teams are hauling lumber from Hightower & Smith's mill this week.

Warm spring days are making the grain and grass grow which is a delight to the farmers.

Two new families have arrived this week and taken up their abode on land between here and Laidlaw.

F. H. Ground and family arrived here Tuesday from Buena Vista, Or. Mr. Ground has a homestead one mile east of Tumalo. He expects to put in several acres of grain this spring.

T. A. Jensen made a trip to Culver after seed grain this week. He states that the grain was very much damaged in that part of the country by the freezing weather of the winter and that many of the farmers are reseeding.

More cattle have been turned loose on the people this week. They are driven down from up the river and turned out on the desert to graze off the range belonging to settlers who have not had time to fence up yet. These cattle have become a public nuisance and people are getting very indignant over being imposed upon by them.

Rosland Notes.

Bogue & Son have sold several lots to people wishing to build here.

Rosland now has a drug store, owned by Mr. Sid Nichol from Bend.

Freight teams are leaving Silver Lake for Shaniko after spring goods.

Very nice weather at Rosland now, everybody is busy putting in grain and gardens.

Wm. Mayfield left one day last week for Gold Hill where his father is severely ill.

Work on the big ditch will commence soon, there is a crew of men expected here next week.

Travel has commenced and a few teams have passed through here on their way to Klamath.

FARMERS INSTITUTE.

People of Redmond and Laidlaw to Co-Operate.

Plans for the proposed farmers institute, to be held in Bend in the near future, are maturing.

The state experiment station at Corvallis has been requested to send a representative to deliver an address on irrigation and it is hoped that State Engineer Lewis will be able to attend.

The Water Users Association of Laidlaw and Redmond have signified their willingness to take part.

The exact date of the institute will be fixed when the most convenient date for the various people participating is known.

Postoffice at Powell Buttes.

The region about Powell Buttes is steadily developing and is bound to be one of the most prosperous localities in the Deschutes irrigation district.

The postoffice department has recently granted a petition for the establishment of a post office there, naming Moses Niswonger, who has charge of the Powell Buttes stage station, as first post master.

Two Opinions.

U. G. Boyer, register and abstractor, office of register of deeds, Wadena, Minn., in speaking of the Bulletin, says: "I wish to state that I have read some of your papers with interest, and wish to commend the stand which you have taken. It has been a pleasure to read some of your editorials."

Frank Glass says: "I have read the Bulletin every week since the first issue and when I miss the paper I feel as though I had gone without a meal."

For Equal Property Rights.

The next session of the Oregon State Grange will doubtless reaffirm its position in regard to securing an act of the legislature to reduce the husband's right of courtsey one-half, making it just equal to the dower right. Under our present law the husband has a life estate in all his wife's property while she has a life estate in only one-half of his property. This law should be made the same for both. It came before the last legislature as house bill No. 275. It passed the house, but was held up in the judiciary committee of the senate.

F. H. Ground and family arrived here Tuesday from Buena Vista, Or. Mr. Ground has a homestead one mile east of Tumalo. He ex-

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE

San Francisco Scene of Terrible Disaster.

OVER 2,000 LIVES ARE LOST

Water Works Destroyed and Fire Rages Along the Entire Water Front.

(Special by Telegram.)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 18.—A violent earth quake occurred at San Francisco between 5 and 6 o'clock a. m. today, resulting in the loss of hundreds of lives and millions of dollars worth of property.

Bulletin No. 1.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 18.—Between 11 and 12 o'clock today an unprecedented earth quake did enormous damage to property and over 1,000 lives are reported lost.

Water system reported destroyed and conflagration raging.

Palace hotel, considered earthquake-proof, destroyed. San Francisco Call building also destroyed.

People flee, panic stricken, out of danger of falling buildings.

Bulletin No. 2.

SACRAMENTO, April 18, 3 p.m.—Alarming reports continue to come from San Francisco. Wires are down in every direction and Sacramento is only point from which communication of any sort has been received.

Sixty buildings are on fire and the fire department is powerless.

The number of lives lost is now believed to be at least 2,000.

Streets thronged with people.

Later News.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 19.—Appalling reports continue to arrive from San Francisco and surrounding points. The entire business section of that city is reported burned to the ground and the whole city is doomed to destruction.

Santa Rosa, 50 miles north of San Francisco, is demolished.

Berkeley and San Jose are entirely destroyed and Stanford University, 40 miles south of San Francisco, is in ruins.

It will be days before anything like an accurate estimate of the loss of life and property can be made. The strongest words beggar description of this terrible disaster and only time will bring out the details.

The zone of the earth-quake seems to have extended over an area of more than a hundred miles in every direction, in the most densely populated section of the state.

A number of Bend people having relatives and friends in the stricken district are anxiously awaiting news in regard to their welfare. Dr. Coe's father, a practicing physician of San Francisco, and M. G. Coe, brother of Dr. Coe and well known here, are both in San Francisco and have not been heard from.

R. B. Mutzig's father and mother and sister, on their way to Bend from Pennsylvania, left San Francisco Tuesday night and luckily escaped. They are expected to arrive in Bend in a few days.

Our Taxes.

Bend's taxes this year are extremely high owing to the fact that 10 mills extra school tax have been added this
