OVER THE MOUNTAINS

Corvallis & Eastern Will Extend Its Line.

WORK WILL SOON BEGIN

Announcement Made that the Co-operative Christian Federation Will Build into Eastern Oregon.

The expectation entertained by many Bend people that the Corvallis & Eastern railroad would be the first one built into Bend seems about to be realized, according to latest reports. The announcement was made Monday that the extension of this road over the Cascade mountains into Eastern Oregon would begin in the near future. This announcement was made by Wallis Nash, president of the Portland Board of Trade. He has been in New York for several months in the interests of the Co-operative Christian Federation, an organization which has for its object the establishing of social settlements in Oregon and the operation of a line of railroad. This federation is to be affiliated with the Corvallis & Eastern.

Within the last month there has been signs of new life in the Corvallis & Eastern. General Manager Talbot and Vice-President Weatherford passed through Bend two weeks ago inspecting the survey along which an extension of this road would be made. They came from Albany through Santiam Pass. Albany papers connect this trip of the general manager and vice president and other suspicious movements with a possibility of an extension. This recent trip by the officials, coming just previous to the announcement by Mr. Nash that the extension would be made, gives such statements and rumors a strong tinge of truthfulness.

In an interview in Tuesday's Oregonian, Mr. Nash said:

"Arrangements for the financing of the railroad have been made and work upon the extension and the new road will begin within a very short time."

"The extension of the Corvallis & Eastern and the new line will result in the laying of 269 miles of track, and we expect to have all the work completed within three years."

"While in New York I learned that within that space of time three transcontinental lines will probably have made connections with Oregon. They are the Western Pacific, the Moffatt road, and the Chicago & Northwestern."

Railroad Notes.

A. I. Goodwillie, on his way to Chicago, wrote to Bend that he saw a crew of railroad graders at work at the mouth of the Deschutes.

Wallace, formerly draughtsman for Engineer Shaw who has charge of the Oregon Eastern crew camped near the ice caves, wrote from Burns to a friend in the crew that the Northern Pacific and Jim Hill had three surveying crews at work in the vicinity of Burns.

Members of the Oregon Eastern crew, which is running the survey from Burns in a northwesterly direction, say that they are keeping on as high ground as possible and that they intend to run the survey through Santiam Pass. This crew is now camped in the vicinity of the ice caves, east of Bend about 19 miles.

HOMESTEADS IN RESERVES.

Settlers May Now File on Land Herebefore Exempt.

Under the act recently passed by congress known as the Lacey bill, settlers may now homestead certain lands located in temporary or permanent forest reserves when these lands are chiefly valuable for agriculture and not needed for public purposes. The lands are opened to entry in accordance with the regular homestead laws. No lands entered under the rules of this act shall be patented under the commutation provisions of the homestead laws.

There are many acres of land in scattered tracts located in the Cascade and the proposed Fremont reserves that will come under the provisions of this act, and which will furnish homes for many new settlers in Central Oregon. These reserves, lying so close to this region, makes this act of special interest to the people living hereby.

LAKIN-SCHLEUSENER.

Little Falls Paper Has Kind Words for Bend's Young Couple.

Speaking of the Lakin-Schleusener wedding, the Little Falls (Minn.) Transcript, published at the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Lakin, has the following to say:

"Bert W. Lakin and Miss Eleanor Schleusener were united in the bonds of marriage on Wednesday evening, June 27, of this week, at 8:30 o'clock at Spokane, Washington. The wedding ceremony was performed at the home of Mrs. A. L. Ritter, the brides sister, in the far western city. Mr. and Mrs. Lakin left after the ceremony on a short wedding trip to Seattle and other coast points, after which they will go to Bend, Oregon, where they will make their home in the future."

"Mr. and Mrs. Lakin are both young people known to a wide acquaintance in Little Falls, and with friendships here limited only by their acquaintance. The bride is a young lady who has spent most of her life in this city, where she has everywhere earned the most sincere and genuine esteem. She has many charms of manner and personality, united to a character of firmness and decision, which have never failed to transform acquaintances into the warmest and most cordial friendship when she so desired."

"Mr. Lakin is a bright, intelligent, brainy young business man, who has obtained an excellent start in life and whose future is a very promising one in his chosen vocation. He also has many friends in Little Falls, and will be the recipient of heartiest congratulations from them upon his present felicity. About the first of the current year he went west to seek a favorable location, finding what he wanted at Bend, Or., and is now in business there and doing well. Miss Schleusener went west about two months ago, and has since been visiting her sister, until the day of her wedding this week."

"Mr. and Mrs. Lakin begin their wedded life together with the best wishes of all their many Little Falls friends, and it will be one of singular happiness and success in all things if the auguries of the latter have any influence over the event."

Mr. Lakin came to Bend last February and soon opened an office and commenced to purchase timber lands for a northern Minnesota lumber firm. In his short residence here he has proven himself a very congenial gentleman. He counts many friends among Bend people who wish him and his bride much joy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lakin will be at home to their friends in Bend after August 1.

A POOR ANIMAL TORTURED.

Rustlers Cut Brand from a Horse with a Knife.

Last Friday evening Sheriff Elkins arrested Harry Fitzgerald, William Hogg and James Adams in the Green Mountain district, about 25 miles from Prineville, charged with stealing and slaughtering a young heifer. They were bound over under $1,000 bonds each for the fall term of the grand jury.

Sheriff Elkins and his posse found a mare near the camp of the defendants that had been fearfully misused. The animal had been lassoed and bound and the brand on the left hip had been literally cut out with a knife, leaving a patch, perhaps 4x8 inches, where the hide was cut out. The animal's head and neck were drawn to the ground and very badly swollen. It was taken into a Prineville livery barn, where the mare was seen by scores of people. The sufferings of the poor brute were intense.

Wanted.

To contract to deliver 750,000 feet of logs, to commence May 1st. HAWKINS BROS., Prineville.

IRRIGATED LAND—I have a few choice tracts from 40 to 160 acres each that can be bought at a bargain.—P. L. TOMPKINS, Bank Building, 43tf

If you want to keep in touch with the development of this great Deschutes valley, READ the Bulletin.

THE SOIL IS FERTILE

Crops of All Kinds Make a Fine Showing.

GREAT WILL BE THE HARVEST

Dr. C. E. Coons' Ranch, One Mile East of Bend, Is a Fruitful Example of This Country's Worth.

The man who has had faith in the fertility of the Deschutes valley is having his faith strengthened and justified this season. All over the segregation watered by the Deschutes Irrigation & Power Company, as well as where dry farming is resorted to, grains and garden truck of all kinds are showing a most gratifying growth. One mile east of Bend, Dr. C. E. Coons has a 40-acre tract that is proving a veritable garden spot—an example of where water makes the desert blossom as the rose; a promise of what the future will bring to this upper Deschutes valley. A walk through the doctor's garden and around his grain fields shows the great fertility of this soil when it has a sufficient supply of moisture.

Tomatoes, the Rocky Mountain variety, stand 10 inches high with broad tops and a very healthy appearance. Squash vines show a remarkable growth and will surely produce a good harvest.

Sweet corn planted May 10 stands from 12 to 18 inches tall.

A large patch of string beans shows not a trace of frost and promises a great yield.

The doctor's cabbage patch of about 4,000 plants are just beginning to head. He will soon have new cabbage for the market.

Lettuce grows in fine large leaves from eight to 10 inches long and from six to eight inches wide. Through the kindness of Mrs. Coons, The Bulletin family had the privilege of sampling a fine mess of this lettuce. It was very crisp and tender.

Rutabagas, peas, carrots, onions, etc., are all doing very well.

Potatoes planted the 16th of April are now supplying the doctor's family with a plentiful supply of new potatoes, averaging as large as hens' eggs.

Wheat sowed May 1 stands above a man's knees. It has a fine color and the heads are just beginning to fill nicely. Sowed in among the wheat is a lot of alfalfa that stands about 10 inches high. It has a good color, looks fine and in another year will make a good yield. Rye sowed in January stands very thick, more than six feet high, with well filled heads.

Gooseberry bushes set out this spring stand 24 inches high and are loaded with fine large berries. The doctor has the Red Jacket variety.

A strawberry bed planted the 15th of last September shows a remarkable growth and yield. Mrs. Coons is very proud of this bed and has already picked more than a gallon of large, luscious berries therefrom.

Raspberries set out during the winter show a new growth of 22 inches this year.

The doctor has out 300 apple trees of different varieties. They all look strong and healthy.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. When a country demonstrates what it can do by producing excellent crops, there is no longer need for speculation as to its worth. Ranches all through this region are making remarkable showings this year, and the doctor's success is no exception. Last year was his first experience with irrigation.

A rich soil, a fine climate, plenty of water—great will be the harvest!
