

LOCAL BITS.

Jackie Brock left Bend Tuesday for Mitchell.

B. W. Lakin left Saturday morning for a business trip to Portland.

Joe Taggart was in from his homestead at Rosland last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George O'Neil of Forest were Bend callers during the week.

Mrs. and Mrs. Tom Ryan were callers in Bend Sunday from their up-river ranch.

Mrs. Hugh O'Kane returned last week from Portland, where she had been visiting a sister.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lucas gave another pleasant dancing party at The Pilot Butte Inn last Saturday evening.

A reward of $50 will be given by me for any information as to the persons putting out poison for dogs. —Wm. H. Brock. 20-21

Bert Powell has again resumed his duties as ditch rider after his vacation, caused by injuries received in his recent accident with the bucking horse.

Ralph Spencer passed through Bend Tuesday on his way to Silver Lake, where he goes to take the management of the Central Oregonian published at that place.

During the week there has been on exhibition in the postoffice store window, a Japanese Lily, grown by Mrs. L. D. Wiest. The plant has two large flowers in blossom and is very beautiful.

Mrs. John Ryan, who left Bend during the first of July for Portland and Salem, has been very ill at the latter place. For a time it was doubted if she would recover, but she is improving now. Miss Nellie Dwyer of Minneapolis, a long-time friend of Mrs. Ryan, came West to nurse her.

The Pacific Northwest, the Portland agricultural publication for which Miss Ethel Compman is taking subscriptions in a contest, has in its July issue pictures of Bend's new school house and the old log building. The two views make a marked contrast and show very clearly Bend's rapid school development in the last few years.

Another sample of this year's crop was brought to The Bulletin office this week by E. F. Batten—a fine sheaf of oats. The oats had made a very strong, rank growth, stood six feet high and the kernels of grain were filling out nicely. Mr. Batten has two lots on East Ironwood avenue which he seeded to oats and alfalfa this spring, April 12, and from which this sample was taken. The alfalfa is also doing nicely, standing about three feet high. The oats were the Shadeland Wonder variety.

Tom Rutherford of Laidlaw was in Bend Monday.

C. S. Ray was a caller in Bend Tuesday from Laidlaw.

Ovid Riley was in town Wednesday attending to business matters.

All the magazines and the Saturday Evening Post at the postoffice news-stand. 19-1f.

Alderman J. I. West is having telephone No. 33 put in his residence this week.

Tom Parmenter has returned to Bend from Redmond, where he has been working with the D. I. & P. construction crews.

Mr. and Mrs. Rene West came to town from the Haswell-Guerin ranch this week and are moving on to their homestead near Laidlaw.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Drake left for Madras last Sunday evening, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Max Lueddemann for a few days.

Mrs. W. S. Nichol received this week a handsome new Ludwig piano which she recently purchased. It is an elegant instrument and has a fine tone.

R. G. Vaughn and family left for the valley yesterday, where they will procure a load of apples and perhaps other fruit. They will retail the fruit on their return to Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Erickson, their son and his wife will leave the first of the week for valley points. During their absence, Mr. and Mrs. Mariou Carter will have charge of their Bear Creek ranch.

H. D. Turney and family left the first of the week for a camping and fishing outing of several days on Spring river. They were accompanied by George Stanley, son of F. S. Stanley of Portland.

Christian Endeavor services in the church next Sunday evening at 7:30. (Consecration meeting) Subject: Gardiner and Missions to Latin America. Text: Cor. 11:28-30. Leader, Miss Hazel Caldwell.

R. J. McCann and W. R. Wilkinson, who, in connection with other cruisers, had been cruising in the Paulina mountains, walked from Paulina lake to Bend last Saturday. They desired to inspect the country between the lake and Bend and took this means to do it.

The Bend postoffice issued 208 domestic money orders during July amounting to $5,040.41, fees $21.64, and 22 international orders, amounting to $110, fees 58 cents. The office paid 24 orders aggregating $362.62. This is the largest business ever done by the office during any one month.

F. O. Minor, local representative for the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society, received a draft for $1,000.00 Tuesday evening, payment of Dr. Merrill's insurance on his house which burned June 28. This is very prompt settlement, considering the unsettled condition of the insurance world due to the losses incurred by the San Francisco disaster.

The committee that inspected the children's flower beds last Saturday, entered in competition for the Mrs. A. M. Drake prizes, report that the children have done very well with their flowers, considering the disadvantages under which some have labored. The committee report that on this, the first, inspection Harry Johnson's flowers made the best showing, with Albert Estebenet's a close second.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McMillan returned to Bend last week after several weeks' visit at Lakeview and other Southern Oregon points. Mr. McMillan spent the Fourth at Klamath Falls and reports that everything is booming there. He prophesies that Klamath Falls will some day make a city. In fact Mr. McMillan was very favorably impressed with that entire section of the state and says it will make a great and prosperous country when properly developed.

F. S. Stanley and son George, C. A. Chapman, and Tom Triplett drove to the fish trap on the upper Deschutes last Sunday for a few days' outing, returning Tuesday. They report great sport. Three extra large Dolly Vardens were caught, each measuring about 36 inches long and weighing 20 lbs. apiece. In all 12 Dolly Vardens were captured weighing 100 pounds, besides several reddsides. Mr. Stanley took the larger fish to Portland with him, and expects to treat his friends to a dinner at which Deschutes trout will be one of the daintiest dishes served.

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Weymouth, Mrs. Erdman and daughter Emma, Mrs. Brosterhaus, J. H. Barney, Creed Triplett, Harry Hill and John Stiles, accompanied by cruisers F. H. Marion and Elmer Nyswonger, spent several days last week in the timber between here and Silver Lake looking for claims. Most of them secured satisfactory claims. After considerable exciting experience with a balky horse that also possessed the kicking accomplishment, they arrived safely in Bend last Tuesday afternoon.

Last Tuesday while Estelle Satchwell, Mary Guerin and Margaret Wiest were playing along the river front on the Drake lawn, Estelle slipped and fell over the embankment onto the rocks below, a distance of 15 or 20 feet. The other little girls ran for help and Andrew Johnson carried the injured girl into the Drake house where her bruises were dressed. One limb was badly bruised, and a small cut on the head, but no bones were broken. She will be out again in a day or two. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Satchwell.

A peculiar leak was found this week in one of the water company's mains recently put in near the new school house. Evidence of a leak was seen on the surface and on digging down to the main a hole about two inches in diameter was found in the wooden pipe. These wooden pipes are wrapped with wire and at the end of each section the wire is stapled down. This hole was cut right around one of the staples, and whatever cut the hole also ground in two, two of the wires encircling the main. The cutting of the hole through the wood is very smooth, and the wires are severed as neatly as could be done by a mechanic. E. F. Batten, superintendent of the company, is of the opinion that the staple penetrated to the interior of the pipe, that the pressure of water caused a leak around the staple, that the escaping water took a swirling motion, and the constant whirling of small particles of gravel gradually cut the hole in the wood and severed the wires.

Kicked in the Mouth.

E. D. Lutz, who has more or less handled horses all his life, met with the worst accident that ever happened to him last Thursday. He had hitched a colt to the mower and in turning a corner the colt got his leg over the tug. Mr. Lutz caught the animal by the bits and was trying to get him into the proper position, which the colt did not take kindly to, but reared and plunged causing Elmer to lose his foothold on the slippery stubble. The broncho kicked him squarely in the mouth, knocking him about a rod. Although this kick would have almost killed some men Mr. Lutz immediately arose and spat out 14 of his teeth, five of which remained intact upon a portion of the superior maxillary. After the buggy horse was hitched up he came to town and Dr. Thom attended his wounds, taking several stitches in his upper lip. At present he does not seem to be much worse for the accident except the loss of his teeth.—Central Oregonian. 17-1f.

BUCKWHEAT DOES WELL.

Fine Specimens of This Grain Growing at Tumalo.

TUMALO, Aug. 2.—George Wimmer has a fine specimen of buckwheat growing in his garden which promises to make a heavy yield. Another new industry for the Deschutes country—buckwheat and bees.

The weather has turned cooler and the cool, fresh air seems good again.

We don't hear any more of the new school district. What has happened to the people? They surely haven't given it up.

Reports from all sections say that a good yield of grain will be harvested here this year. The people will not have to depend on Haystack for seed grain another year.

J. H. O'Kelley of Haycreek writes that he will be up here with his new steam thrasher this fall to thresh every one, of course he means everyone's grain. Mr. O'Kelley is an old threshing machine man and will do justice to his work. All who want threshing done will do well to write to Mr. O'Kelley.

Miss Pearl Hightower and Vera Mackey visited at the Pulliam home over Sunday and Monday this week.

This country is a promising alfalfa one. If you don't think so, ask J. N. B. Gerkin of Laidlaw. He can tell you how it grows.

Redmond Notes.

The new drug store is about complete, and the balance of the stock will be here shortly.

The D. I. & P. Co. have suspended all construction work until further notice.

P. C. Rowlee purchased from the D. I. & P. Co. 61 head of horses, 30 sets of harness and 10 wagons, which he intends to sell at public auction on Aug. 3 and 4.

A dance was given on August 1 in honor of the ditch boys. Good music and a good floor was enjoyed.

The funeral of Mr. Ely's child was held Sunday afternoon. Service was held in the hall and there was a large attendance, after which as many as possible went to the cemetery, which is at Forked Horn butte. Mr. and Mrs. Ely have the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community.

F. McCaffery has left for The Dalles on a business trip.

Rosland Items.

We have been having very hot weather the past week—104 in the shade at Mr. Bogue's.

William Bogue and George Bogue started haying last Monday. The Caldwell brothers also have started haying. They will hay the Pengra place first, before haying their own ranches on Paulina.

Mr. Edmonds and family have moved on their homestead a quarter of a mile from Rosland. They are doing a lot of improving.

Miss Valeria Howard, it is rumored, has taken the position of hay raker in William Bogue's hay field.

Mr. Edmonds is stage driver from Rosland to Odell while Mr. Siv is at Walla Walla.

J. Taggart is drilling a well on his homestead. They have drilled to feet and find plenty of water.

Jim Black and Walter Vandeventer have been riding for horses the past week.

The Bachelor girls have turned out to be great walkers, having walked to their homes, a distance of nine miles, one evening after school.

George Hewitt has got to be the best fisherman on the river, having caught 32 large fish in less than an hour one day last week.

A peddler passed through Rosland Tuesday enroute to Klamath Falls.

Forest fires are raging in the direction of Paulina and Sisters. The air is filled with smoke.

George Beatty, Howard and Clanson will not start haying till next week.

Mr. Rumbaugh is making his business trip to the valley. He will return soon.

The fish that is foolish enough to bite the hook is liable to get caught, for there are a number of expert fishermen on the river now.

The school has increased from five to 12 scholars the past week.

Chester Hollinshead is stage driver from Rosland to Prineville now.

Horses for Sale.
