

LOCAL BITS.

New potatoes at the Bend Mercantile Co. at 2c per pound.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh O'Kane will leave for a trip to Portland tomorrow.

All the magazines and the Saturday Evening Post at the postoffice news-stand. 25-1f

Freighter Wiley brought in a load of merchandise for E. A. Sather this week.

Mrs. Ora Poindexter has returned to Bend from a stay of several weeks in Prineville.

Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Simons of Redmond were in Bend Saturday attending to business matters.

J. E. Meeker has been spending the week in Bend. Mr. Meeker has a homestead near Sisters.

Drs. W. S. Nichol and C. E. Coons left yesterday for a hunting and fishing trip of several days in the Crane Prairie country.

Subject for Christian Endeavor next Sunday night, "Triumph of Christianity." Reference, Jno. 12: 37. Leader, Mrs. Eva Poindexter.

Gladstone Smith, son of Neil Smith who is living on his up-river homestead, has come to Bend to attend school. He will stay with his aunt, Mrs. Sarah Hunter.

Mrs. Eva Steele returned to Bend last Sunday evening from her summer's visit in Michigan. She was accompanied by her daughter, who has been teaching in the East.

Frank Butterworth started for Shaniko Monday morning with a load of passengers composed of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Brown and little daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Williams.

"Dad" West came to Bend Sunday from Prineville, where he is plastering the new stone hotel, returning again Tuesday morning. His work on that building will keep him employed about four weeks longer.

A hunting party composed of C. A. Chapman, Dr. Coe, Mrs. A. C. Lucas and Miss Ethel Chapman, were out after game a short time yesterday afternoon. They returned with several sage hens and three rabbits, a jackrabbit and two cottontails.

Mrs. F. F. Smith has secured rooms over the C. A. Chapman store, where she and her two sons will engage in light housekeeping during the school year. Mrs. Smith has been engaged as one of the teachers in Bend's schools for the coming year.

Joseph Krieger, W. L. Smith and Lewis C. Weik of Odessa, Wash., were in Bend the first of the week looking at the irrigated lands hereabouts. They were all well pleased with this section of Oregon. Mr. Weik is editor of the Odessa Record.

Lemons 40c a dozen at Bend Mercantile Co.

B. W. Lakin was a business caller in Prineville the first of the week.

Miss Mabel Hunter returned Monday night from a visit of several weeks in the valley.

Ed Halvorsen brought to the Bend exhibit this week a stool of wheat that lays good claims to being the prize stool of the season. It contains 56 perfect stalks, each stalk topped with a heavy load of grain with the kernels plump and hard. It is a fine example of what Bend can do in wheat growing.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Brown and little daughter left Monday morning for Shaniko, on their way to Mr. Brown's old home in Iowa. They will be gone about a month. Mrs. Brown was born and raised in the West and this will be her first visit east of the Rocky mountains, consequently a very enjoyable trip.

Tom Triplett will soon begin the erection of a four room, one story cottage for O. S. Crocker on lots on Eleventh street, between Juniper and Ironwood avenues. The dimensions will be 20x24 feet, with a porch in front. Mr. Crocker says the house is built only as a matter of speculation, and that he intends to rent (?) it, not to occupy it himself.

Work is now being done on one of the main laterals of the Arnold ditch, which will water the lands owned by Ralph Dunn, William Arnold, W. J. McGillivray, Jack Ferguson and G. T. Callihan. The Arnold ditch branches into two main laterals about a mile east of the Silver Lake road, one branch running toward Bend, the other toward the Arnold-McGillivray-Ferguson region.

Harney Lewis returned to Bend Monday night, after working several months with Chief Graham's crew of surveyors. When Barney left the crew, it had completed the preliminary line from Madras through Bend to Klamath Falls and was waiting there for further orders. Barney says it was reported that the crew would be ordered into California, but he was of the opinion that no one knew just what their future work would be.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wilkinson, on one of their trips to their homestead south of town, took with them a cat. Several times afterwards, when starting for town, they attempted to catch the animal and bring it back with them, but each time it would run away and hide in the timber. Last Monday they were surprised to see the cat back at the old home on their ditch land east of town, it having walked from the homestead, a distance of eight miles.

Speaking of the sample of alfalfa grown on the Wimer & Sons ranch at Tumalo, The Bulletin last week said it cut "about four tons to the acre." We have learned later that only a small tract of alfalfa was put in, chiefly for experimental purposes, and the notice should have read that a field with a growth as heavy as the tract from which the sample was taken, would cut about four tons to the acre. The sample submitted was of the third cutting and the last 56 days growth was what was brought in.

F. C. Rowlee is determined that no one shall suffer from lack of accommodations at the Redmond fair. He has secured every concession from the fair management and will see to it personally that everybody will be provided with food and lodgings. He will have lunch counters established at each available point and rooms prepared to meet all possible demands. Bend people are getting exhibits ready and will do their share in filling the exhibit stalls. The fair will be a success. No doubt about it.

Breakfast bacon at Bend Mercantile Co. for 19c per pound.

A. H. Grant is vying with Luther Burbank in producing strange plants. He has grown in his yard what he says is a cross between a sunflower and a chrysanthemum, and it certainly looks like it. All the blossoms on one sunflower plant, instead of having the dark center filled with seeds; as is usually the case, have the center filled with a solid mass of petals with exactly the same formation as a chrysanthemum. Encircling the blossoms are a few scraggling petals of the original sunflower. While these blossoms have the appearance and formation of a large chrysanthemum, the plant is probably a "double" sunflower.

W. F. Guerin, jr., wife and daughter left Thursday morning on the return trip to their home in Cleveland, Ohio, after spending several weeks in Bend. Mr. Guerin is president of the Deschutes Telephone Company, with headquarters at Bend, and he was here to look after business interests and to enjoy a vacation. Returning they will stop at Portland and Seattle and will go via the Canadian Pacific, also stopping at Winnipeg. From Duluth they plan to take a boat on the Great Lakes to Cleveland. Mr. Guerin has been retained by several parties to appear in their behalf before the board of equalization at its next meeting, and he will return in October for that purpose and to attend to other business matters.

Strictly fresh ranch eggs at 35c a dozen, at Bend Mercantile Co.

Rosland Items.

Hay harvest is almost over.

Mrs. Mary Cook has improved and is able to be up again.

The dance given at Mr. Howard's Friday, August 24, was a decided success. Everybody reported a good time. Mr. Staats of Prineville, with the assistance of Mr. Hollinshead, furnished music for the dance.

Quite a few timber seekers are passing through the country looking for timber claims.

John Knox was recently seen about five miles from Rosland, attending to business matters.

J. Taggart has resumed work on his homestead, securing equal assistance of J. A. Trobee.

Claude Harvey has accepted a position as Rosland stage driver.

Miss Jessie Andrews has left for the valley, where she intends to spend a few weeks.

Tumalo Items.

I. E. Wimer and Charles Spaugh and families have gone to Post, where Mr. Wimer has about 150 head of cattle which they will gather and drive to this country to winter.

Lewis McCallister and Edward White were in Tumalo Sunday on business and buying supplies.

William Baker of Tumalo is working at Dorrance's mill six miles west of here. He reports a great deal of lumber being hauled to Prineville from there.

Thomas Arnold and wife were visiting George W. Wimer and family one night last week.

Mr. West, who owns the Cook ranch formerly ran by Mr. Hanson, three miles north of Tumalo, expects to drive a fine bunch of Hereford cattle to the valley soon to winter, where feed is cheap.

Mr. Gibson will thresh a large crop this year as he has about 250 acres of fine grain.

Owing to a breakdown of the threshing machine, Mr. Gerking has been delayed with his threshing. He has a large crop and will have some fine grain to market this year.

The hot, smoky weather still continues and the frost stays away, which delights many in this vicinity, and a large potato crop will be harvested this fall, where only a few years ago there was frost nearly every night. We have surely had a delightful summer, only two light frosts since the 1st of June, which did no damage to speak of. The climate has changed and the desert has changed into productive farms, which evidence will show at the Redmond fair this fall.
