Good Idea.

"I have many beautiful thoughts," said the long-haired boarder, who imagines he is a born poet, "that I propose to give to the public in the near future."

"That's a good idea, young man," growled the fussy bachelor. "It's a elch you could never induce the public to buy them."

A WOMAN'S KIDNEYS.

Women have so much to do, so many pains to suffer, so many critical periods to go through, that it is important to keep the kidneys well and avoid the back ache, bearing down, pain, headaches, dizziness, languor and other common signs of weak kidneys. Mrs. Charles E. Smith, of 22 Boyden St., Woonsocket, R. I., says: "My kidneys were weak from childhood, and for eight or ten years past my sufferings were terrible. My back was very painful and I had many annoying symptoms besides. When I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills I weighed only 120. Today I weigh 165, and am in better health than for years. Doan's Kidney Pills have been my only kidney medicine during four years past. They bring me out of every attack."

Anything But a Joke.

"These alleged jokes about the summer girl who gets engaged just for fun," remarked the sad-eyed passenger as he let a comic weekly fall to the floor of the car, "make me real weary."

"What's the answer?" queried the hardware drummer.

"I met that kind of a girl last summer," explained the sad-eyed party, "and thinking the joke compliers knew their business, I got engaged to her."

"Well," said the h. d., as the other paused to light his pipe.

"But instead of acting according to the dope sheet," continued he of the sad optics, "she jumped the hurdle and married me about the time the leaves began to turn."

The Unfitness of Things.

"Everything you buy is adulterated nowadays," grumbled old Pessim, "except the stuff they put in cannon crackers and other infernal machines. That gets stronger every year."

Overdone.

Visitor—You seem to have a hat cleaning establishment in every block in this town. What's the use of that?

Resident—No use at all. Frequently you can walk two blocks before you need to have your hat cleaned again.—Chicago Tribune.

Mark Twain's "Ad."

In his early Hartford days Mark Twain took an active interest in baseball in common with most of his fellow citizens. While attending an exciting game he lost a gold-headed umbrella, which he advertised for in the local papers somewhat after this fashion:

"Lost—$10 reward; a gold-headed umbrella was lost by the undersigned on the grandstand at the baseball ground on Saturday. It was probably stolen from him while he was engaged in cheering the Hartforders for their victory over the Providence nine—presumably stolen by a red-headed, freckled-faced boy about 12 years old. For the body of the boy and the umbrella delivered at my house on Farmington avenue $10 will be paid. For the body of the boy or the umbrella separately $5 for either. For the boy alive, nothing under any circumstances." This advertisement was signed with his full name and address.

The Youthful Idea.

"Pop, are lawyers always bad-tempered?"

"Of course not, my son. What made you think so?"

"Why, the papers are always telling about their cross-examinations."—Baltimore American.

Much in Evidence.

Mr. Williams (exhibiting it to visitor)—I've had this old meerschaum pipe forty years, and I think a great deal of it.

Mrs. Williams—And I can't think of anything else for twenty-four hours after he has smoked it in the house.

A Little Lesson In Patriotism

Frederick Lyman Tremaine was still a student in college when the firing on Fort Sumter aroused the North and South to war. His only desire was to give his services for the union, but his father refused to allow him to enlist because of his extreme youth. It was in vain that he protested his desire. When the President's second call for troops aroused the country to the dangers that threatened the government, the father gave his consent.

F. L. TREMAINE. Young Tremaine's first duty was assisting in the defenses of the fortifications around Washington. For fifteen months he devoted himself zealously to this work. The exposure and the climate told on him and he was stricken with typhoid fever.

After his recovery he was placed in the cavalry. His first battle was the terrible one of the Wilderness, and in that he distinguished himself by the most gallant conduct, under fire. He won honors at Chickahominy. It was in this battle that a spent shell was hurled against him, wounding him severely. Throughout the entire campaign in Virginia Tremaine was in every hot battle, and in every one displayed his courage and disregard of his own life when he might help to win the fight.

It was in the battle of Hatcher's Run on the 6th of February, 1863, that Tremaine received the wound that caused his death two days later. He died in the City Point Hospital, Virginia, giving up his life for the cause he served almost at the time that the cause was won.

THE FUTURE CZAR OF RUSSIA.

This picture of the future Czar of Russia, only son of Czar Nicholas, was taken at Peterhof palace, fifteen miles from St. Petersburg. At the time the little fellow was practically a prisoner within the garden walls of the palace, which were heavily guarded. Cossacks patrolled the neighborhood day and night and the royal children were also watched over by an army of guards, police agents and spies.

The irony of fate reaches its climax in this photograph of Alexis Nicolalevitch, the Czar of Russia's only son and heir. All unconscious of the ever nearer rolling wave of revolution which threatens to outrun the horrors of the French revolution, knowing nothing of the ever increasing terrors of massacre which daily strike horror to the hearts of the whole civilized world, the future Czar of all the Russias plays in the grounds of Peterhof with his sisters, a prisoner, close guarded by the few loyal soldiers left to his father. Little Alexis is chief of all the Cossacks and of many regiments, all of whom are in a state of open or secret mutiny.

Worment.

"You say that wealth brings you only worry?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Bullions.

"What kind of worry?"

"Worry for fear some of it will get away."—Washington Star.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

No other remedy has given such perfect satisfaction as a blood purifier and tonic or is so reliable in the cure of blood diseases of every character as S. S. S. It is known as "The King of Blood Purifiers," and the secret of its success and its right to this title is because "IT CURES DISEASE." It is an honest medicine, made entirely of purifying, healing roots, herbs and barks, which are acknowledged to be specifics for diseases arising from an impure or poisoned condition of the blood and possessing tonic properties that act gently and admirably in the up-building of a run-down, weakened or disordered condition of the system.

One of the greatest points in favor of S. S. S. is that it is the only blood remedy on the market which does not contain a mineral ingredient of some kind to derange or damage the system. It is the one medicine that can be taken with absolute safety by the youngest child or the oldest member of the family, and persons who have allowed their systems to get in such condition that most medicines are repulsive to the stomach will find that S. S. S., while thorough, is gentle and pleasant in its action, and has none of the nauseating effects of the different mineral mixtures and concoctions offered as blood purifiers.

As every part of the body is dependent on the blood for nourishment and strength, it is necessary that this vital fluid be kept free from germs and poisons. So long as it remains uncontaminated we are fortified against disease, and health is assured; but any impurity, humor or poison acts injuriously on the system and affects the general health. Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes and the different skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition as a result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor. Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, and Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders that continue to grow worse as long as the poison remains.

But all blood diseases are not acquired; some persons are born with an hereditary taint in the blood and we see this great affliction manifested in many ways. The skin has a waxy, pallid appearance, the eyes are often weak, glands of the neck enlarged, and as the taint has been in the blood since birth the entire health is usually affected.

In all blood troubles S. S. S. has proved itself a perfect remedy and has well earned the title of "KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS." It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, humors, waste or foreign matter, and makes this stream of life pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited blood troubles like S. S. S.; it removes every particle of the taint, purifies and strengthens the weak, deteriorated blood, and supplies it with the healthful properties it needs and establishes the foundation for good health. As a tonic this great medicine has no equal, and it will be found especially bracing to weak, anaemic persons. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles are cured permanently by S. S. S., and so thorough is the cleansing of the blood that no trace of the disease is left to break out in future years or to be transmitted to offspring. If you are in need of a blood purifier get "THE KING" of them all, S. S. S.—and good results are assured. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired furnished without charge to all who write.
