

LOCAL BITS.

George L. Simmons was a Bend visitor Wednesday.

W. T. Casey is spending a few days with his family in town.

The Bend Social Club will give a dance in its hall tomorrow night.

New stock of shoes just arrived at Merrill's. Come in and see them.

Grant will serve strawberries and ice cream to the public next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodwillie returned to Bend last Friday afternoon from their trip through California.

W. J. McGillvray has rented from 35 to 40 acres of land from L. D. Wiest and will put it into crop.

Oliver Johnson is putting a big improvement on his residence in south Bend by painting it white.

Alvin Whitsett came clear from Haystack to see the Bend-Prineville game and is now visiting with relatives in town.

W. F. King and Ora Poindexter are at the John Ryan ranch finishing the plumbing for the new house and putting up a windmill.

Dr. H. J. Ellis was attending to business matters in Bend yesterday. He says that work is going steadily forward on his farm east of Bend.

F. S. Stanley and E. A. Baldwin, of the D. I. & P. Co., and Alfred Boyle were in Bend the first of the week looking after business interests.

Richard King received a shipment of rhubarb roots, grape vines and currant and gooseberry bushes this week which he will set out on his homestead.

Postmaster Grant was wearing a bouquet of pansies the first of the week picked from his own flower garden. They were some of the first to bloom in town.

Cal Eaton left for Portland Wednesday morning to undergo an operation for appendicitis. He has been troubled with this serious and painful ailment for some time.

Several improvements will soon be made on the club houses and premises, such as painting the ## Pictures for the Home...

Ella Wheeler Wilcox says, "Make home heaven on earth." That's a good suggestion. Better live up to it. If you do so you must have a pretty, cozy home; and pictures will be necessary. We have them in many styles and prices—some worth only a few cents, others of a higher value. Come, look them over and buy.

We Also Do Framing

If you have a favorite picture that you would like to have framed bring it to us. We can do it. We have a large collection of framing material and certainly will be able to please you. Bring in the picture, choose the desired frame, and leave the rest with us.

buildings on the inside and out and putting the lawn in good shape.

Rev. J. C. George will preach in Bend next Sunday evening.

Grant is daily expecting an order of strawberries to arrive—the first of the season.

Have you seen those new shoes at Merrill's? They are a fine lot and low priced.

Rev. Father Hickey writes to Bend parishioners that he will be here to hold services on next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan are expected home about the first week of May. Mrs. Ryan has spent the winter in the East.

Mrs. C. A. Jones received an order of strawberry plants, raspberry and currant bushes and grape vines the first of this week. She will set them out on her homestead.

The ball game Sunday between the Bend team and one from the Davenport ranch was rather a walk-away for the Bend boys. The score stood 13 to 4 in their favor.

The annual meeting of the Arnold Irrigation Co. will be held in Bend next Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m. when there will be election of officers and other business transacted.

Perry Poindexter, "the jolly old boy," as Bend friends call him, brought over the Prineville school team and their friends and was in charge of the young folks while here. But the young folks were on their good behavior and didn't give "Perry" any trouble.

Will Brock returned to Bend Monday after spending the winter in western Washington. He has secured a position as forest ranger in the Cascade reserve and will work in that section of the reserve lying west of and between Bend and Silver Lake. He will leave tomorrow morning for the latter place to attend to business connected with stock grazing in the reserve.

C. D. Brown, C. M. Weymouth and Elmer Niswonger took a boat up river a short distance Thursday and began fishing. Brown and Weymouth were in the boat in the middle of the stream when it began to leak and filled so rapidly that it sank before they could "pull for the shore." As there was no life saving crew on the shore to go to the aid of the wrecked mariners there was nothing for them to do but wade ashore through about two and a half feet of mighty cold water.

That Bend has material for baseball teams for years to come is shown by the fact that the younger boys of the school have organized a second nine which they call the "Coyote Club." They recently played the high school team and were defeated by the close score of 4 to 3. One of the Coyote's enthusiastic players requested The Bulletin to announce that the Coyotes would soon cross bates with the high school team a second time and that the score would be reversed the next time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Ketchum of Prineville came to Bend yesterday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Henry Whitsett. This is Mr. Ketchum's first visit to Bend since the town was started and he said he was thoroughly surprised to see the great change and development here. In former days he has fished and hunted up and down the river and has often driven over what is now the Bend townsite but in those days he never dreamed that a flourishing town would some day be established here. He and his wife will return to Prineville Saturday.

Charles P. Richardson, a Spokane real estate man, was in Bend Tuesday to look over this section. It is needless to say that he was well pleased with prospects here. He is an experienced real estate man, is well acquainted with many localities throughout the West, and his judgement can be relied upon. Someone remarked to him that the railroads would be rather slow in building into Central Oregon, but Mr. Richardson replied that he thought differently—that they would be here before long. He went out to the Baldwin ranch to look it over, and later left for the Harney country.

The Bulletin is in receipt of the following challenge from the baseball team of Prineville: "We, the Prineville baseball team, have organized and are ready to accept challenges. Would be pleased to arrange for a game with the Bend team, to be played at your city on Sunday, May 5.—Max Wurzeiler, Manager." The challenge has been turned over to the proper persons and it is probable that a game will be arranged for at some future date, but probably not on May 5 as that would conflict with the game between the Bend-Prineville school teams to be played at Prineville on May 4. It has been suggested that if a team is organized here that a game be set for May 12.

Wanted at Once.

The Bulletin is badly in need of a compositor and must secure one within the next three weeks. We dislike to import from the outside and would prefer using "home product." Therefore if any young man or young lady in Bend or vicinity who can set type, or who would like to learn, will report at this office they can secure employment and learn a good trade at the same time.
