The D. I. & P. ditch crew that is building laterals east of Bend will move camp to within two or three miles of town in a week or to days, or as soon as some scrapers arrive. It is said that there are 65 miles of laterals to be constructed and that Superintendent Redfield will put on 100 teams if they can be secured.

Theodore Tweet met with quite a piece of good luck a few weeks ago when he discovered a spring on his homestead west of Awbury butte. His father, Thos. Tweet, noticed quite a wet spot and upon digging down about three feet secured a flow of pure cold water that furnishes an ample supply for all domestic purposes.

H. C. Ellis left for Portland Tuesday morning to look after the purchase of an automobile for use by the telephone company. Feed being so high priced it is believed it would be cheaper to replace the team with an automobile for general travel over the company's territory and the management is considering the purchase of a machine.

That part of the Hotel Bend occupied by the office, bar, barber shop and baths is soon to be remodeled. The office will be enlarged to include about half of the present bar room, and a billiard table will be installed in the remainder of that room. A telephone booth will also be built in the office. The baths will be moved onto the second floor and the bar will be moved into the room heretofore occupied by the barbershop and baths.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Overturf and daughter Bernice started out Tuesday on a month's outing. They will first visit some warm springs and other peculiarities of nature in Christmas Lake valley and will then drive across the Walker range to lakes at the headwaters of the Deschutes. Later they will visit in the East and will attend the Jamestown exposition. It is probable they will locate permanently in the Eastern or Middle West states.

Mrs. A. H. Grant Entertains.

Mrs. A. H. Grant entertained a number of friends Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5 in a very pleasant manner. After the guests had assembled games of bunco and pit held their rapt attention for a time while strains of music played by the pianolo added to the pleasures of the occasion.

The next feature was a contest search for flowers scattered over the lawn. In this, white flowers counted 10, purple and pink 5 each. Those making the highest score were to receive prizes. The hunt for the flowers developed into a most spirited affair and the ladies ransacked every corner of the lawn, high and low. When time was called, and the scores counted it was found that Mrs. Davidson had won first prize, a pretty little stickpin; Mrs. L. D. Wiest, second, a burned leather pocket book and Mrs. Herring, the consolation prize, a rattle box.

Dainty refreshments were then served and the ladies departed after having spent a very pleasant afternoon indeed, with Mrs. Grant as hostess.

Bend's celebration will be the best in this neck of the woods. Be there.

SOIL RENOVATION.

How to Accomplish It With Green Crops and Hogs.
By W. J. BUELLMAN.

A type of farming for the renovation of wornout soils that gives fairly quick results is to grow a succession of pasture crops for hogs, keep the hogs on these pastures and feed them a fourth to a half ration of grain. In middle latitudes the following system is adapted to this type of farming: Grow corn enough for the pigs on part of the farm, sowing either compass or crimson clover or rye in the corn yearly to keep up fertility. The two latter crops furnish winter pasture for the pigs. On the remainder of the farm run the following three year rotation: Sow oats in early spring, follow by rye sown early in August, follow this by sorghum the following spring, in September or October sow rye again after the sorghum, in the next spring sow either sorghum or compass and begin over again with oats the succeeding spring. This may be made a four year rotation by inserting artichokes or sweet or Irish potatoes between the August sown rye and the sorghum. If these crops are all pastured down, the hogs being fed a little grain meanwhile, the soil will improve.

An Additional Field of Good Sod.
With such a system, at least on clay soils, the hogs must not be allowed on the fields when the soil is wet, as they will puddle it to such an extent as to do serious injury. To avoid this difficulty there should be an additional field of good sod for the hogs to run on in wet weather. In sections where alfalfa thrives hogs may be pastured on this crop in summer (in winter also in the far south) and fed a little corn. In winter such crops as rape and kale may take the place of the alfalfa, and the grain feed may thus be increased. Such a system takes nothing from the land, but care must be used not to puddle the soil by pasturing in wet weather. There should be a field of good sod in reserve for such periods.

The Traitors' Gate.

One of the most famous entrances in the world is doubtless the ancient Traitors' gate, in the Tower of London. It was through this portal for several centuries that traitors were conducted from the shores of the river Thames into the tower. To Americans probably the most familiar of these unfortunates was Sir Walter Raleigh. Today a pathway passes directly in front of the gate, completely cutting it off, and from this pathway the famous wicket gate is gazed upon by many thousands of visitors.

The Result.

"Women are naturally more artistic than men."
"Yes," answered the matter of fact person; "that's why so many of us look funny when we wear our Christmas neckties and smoking jackets. Our wives want us to look artistic."
—Washington Star.

Sallowness Transformed to Dusky Beauty
A dark skin becomes fascinating when delicately soft, underpinned with the radiant glow which indicates a healthy active skin. Robertine keeps the skin refined in quality, keeps pores free from clogging waste and stimulates the tiny capillaries to contribute the color which charms in blonde and brunette alike. Robertine is certain protection against tan, sunburn and freckles if applied before exposure to sun or wind. Spreads like an imperceptible sheen of gauze over skin surface, forming a shield stimulating and preserving a delicate, lustrous beauty.
