M. C. Miller, superintendent of the Turney ranch, reports that he has 100 acres seeded to fall wheat which has come up in fine shape and makes an excellent stand. He will soon start several men to clearing additional acreage and expects to have about 300 acres into crop next year.

Yesterday Wm. Burdshell, from Iowa, purchased the 40 acres of ditch land belonging to W. H. Webb, which lies about five miles north of Redmond. Mr. Burdshell was in Bend Thursday after lumber and will immediately move onto the place with his wife and three little grandchildren.

Mrs. C. A. Coons and son Perl, left the first of the week for Hood River where they will reside in the future. Dr. Coons did not accept his appointment to the Methodist church at Bickleton and is also at Hood River. Mrs. Coons says that they and Dr. Nichol will probably engage in the mercantile business at that place.

E. H. Lockyear was in Bend yesterday from his farm five miles north of Redmond. He reports that a new school house is about finished in that district, the building measuring 18x32 with 10 foot posts. Last spring there were 16 pupils enrolled while now there are 25, which shows that that country is settling up. Miss Harrader is the teacher.

Work on the deep well at the Baldwin ranch has been temporarily held up on account of the drill having got caught. In an attempt to loosen the drill the cable was broken and now the drill and a portion of the cable are down in the well, and if they are gotten out a fishing tackle of some description will have to be rigged up. At the time the accident happened they were drilling through a soft, loose formation that caved in frequently and caused much trouble. Just before reaching that the drill had penetrated a layer of very hard granite, so hard that only eight inches or a foot could be drilled each day. The well is down about 1600 feet.

A number of Bend ladies started out to have a good time Halloween and ended by getting into trouble. They went to the school house and tried to break their way into it but failed. The door was too securely locked for them. As they turned to leave, after having failed in their pranks, what was their consternation to find the marshal standing there waiting for them. To say that there was then a scattering, screaming and running only tells half the story. The ladies, when they found that they were caught, gave as their excuse that they intended to hide in the building and frighten the youngsters of the town when they appeared, by playing ghost pranks on them. What's that old saying about a poor excuse being better than none?

Sherwood Bros. last week threshed their crop of oats, the yield amounting to 1644 bushels from 60 acres. This was not a very large yield per acre but the grain was of finest quality and very heavy. A bushel measure filled just level with the top weighed 40 pounds, or eight pounds in excess of the legal weight, the standard weight of a bushel of oats being 32 pounds. If the measuring had been by weight there would have been 1800 bushels. The oats were frozen quite badly in the spring which accounted for the relatively poor stand and the small yield per acre. Portions of the field that were not damaged by the freeze yielded as high as 65 or 70 bushels per acre. At 50 cents a bushel the boys have made a neat little sum, even with the damaged stand. They also threshed out 100 bushels of speltz.

Eaton-Chapman.

Bend people were somewhat surprised Wednesday evening to learn that Miss Ethel Chapman and Mr. Cal E. Eaton had returned to Bend as husband and wife. They were married on October 30 at The Dalles, the Congregational minister at that place officiating. After the ceremony they proceeded to Pendleton for a short visit at Mrs. Eaton's former home, then took short trips to Spokane and Portland, after which they returned to Bend. Miss Chapman and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Carl Chapman, had left Bend for Mrs. Chapman's home at Lewiston and were accompanied as far as The Dalles by Mr. Eaton. It was Miss Chapman's intention to visit several weeks with her sister-in-law and then proceed to Pendleton where Mr. Chapman would join her later and they would go to Kansas for a winter's visit with relatives. Plans were evidently changed, however, when The Dalles was reached and the couple were married as before stated, Mrs. Carl Chapman witnessing the happy event. Mr. and Mrs. Eaton have immediately gone
