The Bend Social Club has rented Mrs. C. A. Jones' piano for a year and now has the instrument in its hall.

Mrs. Steel, Miss Anna and Floyd were in from their homesteads near Sisters last Saturday trading at Bend's stores.

Strayed—One red heifer, mottled face, ear marks, under bit, top crop, bell on. Suitable reward for returning to Dan R. Smith. 36-39

Bend got its first flurry of snow Tuesday morning, enough falling to whiten the ground. It soon disappeared, however, as the sun got warmer.

You should see those handsome imported Japanese and imported glass urns and vases at the Corner Drug store. They are the handsomest ever shown in Bend.

The Bend news stand expects to open up soon a fine line of Christmas goods, toys and novelties. It will also have in a number of the latest and most popular novels.

There is a change of time in the Tumalo mail stage. The stage now leaves Tumalo at 10 a. m., arrives in Bend and leaves for Tumalo at 1:15. W. D. Clark is the new driver.

Wednesday evening a 'phone message from the region south of Lava butte said that it had been snowing there all that day and that there was then six inches of snow. Later reports state a foot of snow fell there.

Mrs. Moses Niswonger, John Vreidt and L. Brandenburg left for Silver Lake last Sunday to make final proof on timber claims. They were accompanied by Elmer Niswonger and Fred Hunnell, who went along as witnesses.

Gene Getchell returned to Bend last Saturday after an absence of over a year. A year ago last October he left for a visit with his aged father at Lester Prairie, Minn., and has been there since with the exception of the last three or four months spent in various parts of the Northwest.

L. G. Walker, F. L. Walker and George Watkins, from Minnesota, are in Bend looking for employment. They are carpenters and if they can find sufficient work to warrant their staying they will send for their families and reside here. They plan to buy ditch land and develop it.

Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Burris drove down yesterday from Bend where they are now located. After spending three or four days here, they will drive on through to The Dalles, and from there proceed to the Willamette Valley for a visit with their children. They are much pleased with their new location at Bend.—Madras Pioneer.

Remember that the band will give a dance on Thanksgiving night.

Leave your orders for Thanksgiving turkeys at Grant's news stand. 35-36

Step in and examine the new line of cutlery just gotten in by the Corner Drug Store.

Mr. Kita and wife, late Japanese arrivals in Bend, have opened a laundry in the Triplett building.

Two stage loads of passengers are coming in from Shaniko over the Wenandy line and are expected to reach Bend tonight.

Bennett, an automobile dealer from Portland, was in Bend Thursday with a fine large machine. He was taking a run through Central Oregon advertising his business.

The gas lamp that is to be given a trial in Bend is now on the way in from Shaniko. When it arrives it will be set up on the White & Hill corner and if it gives satisfaction a number of them will be ordered for the business streets.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Short was called to Wisconsin by the sudden and serious illness of her father, H. B. Adkins. She arrived two days before his death, the old gentleman having passed away last Saturday. For some time he had planned to spend the winter in Bend and was just ready to start when he was taken sick. Mrs. Short and the children will remain in the East at least until after Thanksgiving.

A number of young men from Bend drove out to the Riley home Wednesday evening and presented the newly wedded couple to a charivari that lacked none of the old-fashioned and customary features. The boys were invited in to partake of the good things being served the guests, but only one of them had the nerve to respond to the invitation. The others returned to town after having helped celebrate the occasion to their satisfaction.

Gene Getchell, on his return to Bend, had a $10 clearing house certificate issued by the Spokane clearing house. He stated that they circulated at par throughout the Inland Empire and were as good as gold. At Colfax, Wash., he presented one of $10 denomination in payment for railroad fare on the new electric line from Spokane to Colfax. The ticket agent, in making change, gave him a certificate of lesser denomination and the balance in silver. These clearing house certificates must be of great assistance during the present financial stringency.

The city council has let a contract to J. H. Filey for removing and grubbing out 21 trees and stumps in the streets. With the exception of three stumps, these trees stand in Nevada street between Wall and Bond, and in Bond street between Nevada and Oregon. The large stump in front of the Pilot Butte Inn will be removed, also the one at the south end of Wall street, and one in Bond street standing in front of the Bend Livery & Transfer Stable's corral. Later a contract will be let for filling the dip in the road just north of Wenandy's livery stable.

Scotfield's concerts are getting to be a very popular thing at the Corner Drug Store. The company has four or five large phonographs of both the Edison and Star makes and 225 records, and the music they have been serving up to the public during the past week is very pleasing and of first-class variety. On several occasions a party of ladies have gathered in Dr. Scotfield's office over the drug store, one of the machines was taken up, and a concert given for the ladies' entertainment and pleasure. Nearly every evening finds a number of men in the store listening to the various selections.

MONEY SAFE AT HOME.

Conditions Are Better at Bend than in the Cities.

John Steidl returned to Bend Wednesday evening from a business trip to Portland and reports that financial conditions in Portland are in much worse shape than here in Bend. The stringency is being felt worse, and in many instances people are in sore straits.

His sober judgement, after studying conditions on the outside, is that the man who has money in a small country bank is much safer and better protected than he would be if he had it in a large city institution. There their security consists largely of long time paper and banks often hold 10 or 20 year bonds that cannot be realized upon until they mature. In a time like the present, such paper is absolutely worthless as a means of raising money. Too often many of these bonds prove to have no value at all at the first sign of a panic and consequently the bank that holds them goes broke.

On the contrary the country bank has its loans secured, for the greater part, with real estate security that is absolutely good and perhaps may hold a small amount of paper of men from whom every dollar can be collected. Their loans are thus legitimate in every respect and such banks are as safe as any bank can be.

Several Bend people had deposits in the three Portland banks that have failed. Their money would have been much safer in the local institution. They would not believe it, however, and now they have lost their deposits. The best advice that can be tendered a depositor at the present time is to stand by and support your local institution and you will win by it in the long run. Mr. Steidl, as president of the Bend bank, says that they will pay every dollar of deposits, no matter what develops. Hence, it is foolish to become nervous and excited, to draw out your money and hide it away, and thus make hard times all the worse. Stand by your local institution and you will be secure.

Bend Catholic Church Notices.

Rev. Father Hickey, who has just returned from an extended Eastern trip, arrived in Bend last Friday and held divine service on Sunday. Masses were celebrated at 8 and 10:30 o'clock a. m. and were well attended, a large number of non-Catholics being present at the 10:30 o'clock Mass, which was a High Mass. The pretty little altar was beautifully and brilliantly lit up with wax candles and the many strangers present were astonished at the wonderful development of the Catholic church in Bend and the great increase in Catholic membership.

Gans' Mass in D was rendered by Miss Erdman as soloist, splendidly assisted by Mrs. McDonald as contralto and supported by Mr.

Ed Brosterhouse. Miss Trautner presided at the organ. Gans' Mass in D is a grand musical composition and it was done complete justice by Father Hickey's Bend choir, and proved a delightful surprise to the whole congregation.

Rev. Father Hickey desires through The Bend Bulletin to notify all the Catholics that a First Communion and Confirmation class has been organized in Bend and Mr. Victor O'Connor has been appointed teacher and superintendent and that all the children are to be at the church on Sundays at 10:30 o'clock for instruction. Parents are expected to see that their children profit by this opportunity.

Sherwood-Riley.

Mrs. Elsie Riley's home was the scene of a very pretty wedding on last Wednesday night, when her only daughter, Marv, was united in marriage to Mr. Ralph Sherwood of Laidlaw.

During the last strains of DeKoven's "O, Promise Me," by Miss Marion Wiest, the bride and groom entered and took their places under a bower of manzanita and mistletoe. The beautiful Methodist Episcopal ring service was read by the Rev. Short.

The bride looked charming in cream crepe a la Egypt, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and asparagus fern.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the close of which, amid the best wishes of their friends and a shower of confetti, the happy couple left for their new home on the groom's fine farm near Redmond.

Miss Riley, one of the most popular young ladies in Crook county, is well known in church, social, and musical circles. Mr. Sherwood is a promising young rancher.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Wiest, Mrs. Ora Poindexter, Mrs. Stilwell, Mrs. Tullar, Misses James, Gerk, Pinkham, West, Vandever, Wiest, Ried, Grace Vandever, Pauline Wiest, Messrs. Benham, Ulrich, Gerk, Vandever and Sherwood.

The presents received: Hand-painted pillow, Mr. and Mrs. Morrison; embroidered dresser scarf, Miss Flossie Reed; salad fork, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler; cream ladle, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Ulrich; embroidered doily, E. F. Batten; fancy plates, Miss Booth, Mrs. Frazier, C. F. Howe, Mrs. Steadman, Wm. Vandever; Lewis & Clark souvenir plate, table cloth, silver knives and forks, Mrs. Elsie Riley; four-leaf clover pin and chain, Mrs. Drake, Misses Vandever, West, and Wiest; berry spoon, Ulrich family; dozen napkins, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bogart; stag horn carving set, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Poindexter; set of knives and forks, A. H. Kennedy; salad fork, Mr. and Mrs. Harder and family; berry spoon, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Riley; gravy ladle, Mr. and Mrs. Wiest; tea spoons, Miss Helen Ulrich; butter pick, Pauline Wiest; gravy ladle, Mr. and Mrs. H. Riley; berry spoon, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Difford; fruit plate, Grace Vandever; panel picture, Miss Iva West; embroidered pillow, Miss Pettit; parlor lamp, Chas. Stanburrough; Mexican drawn work lunch cloth, Misses Reid and Pettit; picture frame, Miss Pinkham; spoon tray, Mrs. Stilwell; an envelope containing sum of money from Laidlaw friends.

Shower for Bride-Elect.

Last Friday evening Misses Ruth Reid and Orpha Pettit tendered a parcel shower in honor of Miss Riley, at which a number of young lady friends were present. The parcels were put in one room and Miss Riley fished for them with fish pole and line, and "landed" a number of pretty and useful articles. Later a chafing dish supper was served.
