MANY ARE COMING

Spring Will Bring New People to This Section.

INQUIRIES RECEIVED DAILY

Each Mail Brings Letters Asking about the Bend Country—Secretary Sawhill Kept Busy.

If numerous inquiries are any criterion by which to judge, the Bend country will enjoy the experience of having a very large number of people come into this section next spring with the view of making their home in this favored region. Nearly every mail brings letters to The Bulletin asking for sample copies of the paper and for literature descriptive of the country. The writers say that they intend to move here in a few months or that they are interested in the Bend country and want to know more about it. A few of these inquiries will interest Bulletin readers, and are as follows:

BOVNS, Wash., Jan. 17, 1908.—Publishers of Bend Bulletin, Bend, Oregon.—Gentlemen: Will you please send me a copy of your paper together with all the information of your immediate vicinity, as to fruit and farming lands etc. Several of us in this locality are interested in Crook Co., and are thinking of locating at Bend this coming spring. Thanking you in advance for the paper and any information you can send us, I am Very truly yours, E. E. EVANS.

BREMERTON, Wash., Jan. 20, 1908.—Proprietor Bend Bulletin.—Dear Sir: Will you favor me with a sample copy of your paper or any printed matter in connection with the resources of Crook county. A compliance with this request will be appreciated. Resp'y, THOS. PHELAN.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 22, 1908.—Dear Sir: I would be pleased to receive a copy of your paper and any other literature that might be interesting to a prospective settler. Yours truly, J. S. KUYKENDALL.

REARDAN, Wash., Dec. 30, 1907.—The Bend Bulletin.—Gentlemen: Will you please send me a copy of your paper also any other reading matter of your country. There are several families thinking of coming down there. Yours truly, S. W. DENNEY.

J. E. Sawhill, secretary of the Bend Commercial Club, has more of a job on his hands than he expected and could devote all his time to answering inquiries and mailing literature descriptive of this section. And such literature is badly needed. There is none on hand that gives information that should be given in regard to this country. It is impossible for Mr. Sawhill to write personal letters answering all the questions propounded. It is asking to much of him to do so. Hence it is necessary that some printed matter be gotten out at once—matter that will describe in a concise, attractive manner the irrigation possibilities here, yield of crops, lumber resources, water power, climate and scenery. There are few sections that have as good features to advertise as has the Bend country. There should be printed matter describing all the good things.

The commercial club can do a vast amount of good work answering these inquiries and looking after strangers as they come here to examine our resources. But as has been said above, printed matter is needed, and it is up to the advertising committee of the club to see that it is provided.

Resumes Work on Eugene & Eastern.

J. C. Bracher, a director of the Eugene & Eastern railway, when in Bend last summer, told The Bulletin that his road would be built through the mountains into this section within two years. Construction on this road has been going steadily forward in the Valley, excepting a short time when work was stopped on account of the panic. A dispatch to the Oregon Journal from Eugene says:

Eugene, Jan. 23.—A. Welch, general manager of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern Railway company, which owns the Eugene street railway system and has begun the work of building an electric line from this city to Springfield and on up the McKenzie river valley to the summer resorts in the Cascade mountains and to the Blue river mines, announces that work will be resumed about February 1. It was stopped when the financial crash came on, but now that money is easier to get the company will resume its activities. It is expected that cars will be running between Eugene and Springfield by the middle of summer.

OPENING DELAYED.

Judge Bradshaw Asks for a List of Depositors of the Bend Bank.

The Central Oregon Banking & Trust Company of Bend will not be able to resume business on Feb. 1 as it recently announced it would. The officers of the bank had all arrangements made to open on that date but at the last moment Judge Bradshaw asked that, before he dismiss the receiver, a list of the depositors be sent him showing the agreement which they had signed in regard to their deposits and the subsequent action of the bank; and also showing for what per cent. of the bank's total deposits the depositors had agreed to take time certificates. The list has been sent the judge, and he intimates that he will dismiss the receiver so that business can be resumed by about Feb 15.

Nearly the entire amount of the deposits have been signed up under the time certificate plan, outlined below. The deposits have dropped from $61,643.87 at the beginning of the panic to $28,875.07 at the present time. Of this amount $24,908.31 has been signed up, leaving a balance unsigned of $3,966.76. Of the unsigned balance $1700 is not due until March 16 next, and $400 not due until Feb 25 next. That leaves a balance payable on demand of $1866.76. The bank officials are confident that fully half of this balance will not be demanded in cash as there are a large number of checks drawn against the amount and these checks will, in most cases, be entered to the credit of those who have agreed to take time certificates. That leaves practically the entire amount of the deposits signed up under the time certificate arrangement.

In common with many other banks over the country, several weeks ago the Bend bank asked its depositors to take time certificates for the amount of their deposits. These certificates will bear 3 per cent. interest and one-tenth of the amount will be payable each month. It will thus require 10 months to retire the certificates and pay them in full, although Mr. Steidl, president of the bank, says that if the people will be loyal and support the bank by giving it their business it will be able to pay off the certificates long before the 10-month limit.

The above is a much more liberal offer than most banks that were forced to close are making. Other banks are asking their depositors to take certificates that mature in two and in some cases three years.

The bank will open for business in a stronger condition than ever. Several business men of the town have taken stock in the institution and will hereafter have a voice in its management. Among these are H. P. J. McDonald and E. A. Sather, who will be on the board of directors when business is resumed. The board of directors will then be composed of the following: John Steidl, J. B. Heyburn, E. A. Sather and H. P. J. McDonald.

ABOUT THE COUNTY

Busy Reporters Gather Interesting Notes.

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Bulletin Correspondents Send in News Items from Redmond, Tumalo, Gist and Rosland.

REDMOND, Jan. 27.—F. L. Ricker and family have returned from Prineville to live in Redmond once more.

Carl Ehret is now ready to register those who wish to participate in the primary election in April. Come up and register and bring two witnesses. If you do not participate in the primaries you have no kick coming if candidates are elected who do not suit you.

The settlers' meeting Saturday night was well attended and a good program was carried out. Another will be held in two weeks. At the Saturday night meeting Volume I, Number I, of the Redmond Journal made its appearance. While perhaps not quite up to the standard in mechanical make-up its editors and reporters could give the writer of these notes axes and spades and then take the trump away from him. Among other things we learned of an increase of seven in the Brown family, all from Washington.

We have several inquiries from intending settlers and prospective purchasers to answer regarding the advantages and disadvantages of this section. Sometimes it keeps us going some to know just how to answer.

Neighbor O. H. Long has moved out on his homestead again.

After the settlers' meeting Saturday night part of the crowd enjoyed themselves dancing at McClay's.

Mrs. M. E. Landes has been on the sick list for the past week.

Commends Supervisor A. S. Ireland.

To Hon. Gifford Pinchot, Forester, Washington, D. C.: At a special meeting of the Grant County Stock Growers' Association held at John Day, Oregon, January 18, 1908, the following resolution was passed:

That inasmuch as there has been criticism of the administration of the Blue Mountain (West) National Forest by Supervisor A. S. Ireland and said criticism was embodied in resolutions from the State Wool Growers' Association at their meeting at The Dalles, Oregon, in November last, and his removal demanded,

Resolved: That this association does not approve of said resolution and demand, but recommend and endorse the administration of said A. S. Ireland as an honest and earnest effort to fill a very difficult, and almost thankless, position. Respectfully submitted,

J. E. Snow, Secretary.
