The deep well at the Moses Niswonger place at Powell Buttes is going down rapidly. They are now drilling through a soft rock formation in which drilling is quite easy. The Niswonger well is now down 600 feet.

MAY TAKE OVER DITCHES.

Water Company Wants City to Take Charge of Ditch System.

At the council meeting Tuesday evening, the Bend Water, Light & Power Company submitted a proposition to the council in which the company offered to turn over to the city and let the city manage for this season the company's system of open ditches within the city limits. The company asked for a rental of $5 00 a month for the use of the water and also sufficient water for irrigation on the C. O. D. Co.'s fields along the river and the Sawhill lawn. If the city accepted the offer it would be expected to maintain and keep the ditches in repair, put in headgates when needed, and have full control of the ditch system.

Last year the water company lost money on its ditch system, and there has been some talk of shutting the water out of the ditches this summer. It is believed that the city can maintain the system at a much less expense than can the company inasmuch as it could have a large part of the work done by the marshal without extra expense. By maintaining the system at a less expense, there would be a corresponding saving to water users. While no definite schedule of prices was adopted, it was figured in a rough estimate that the city could furnish water from the ditches for $2 00 or $2.50 per lot, for the season, with a decrease in the price where water for more than one lot is purchased.

The council has taken the matter under advisement. The street committee has been appointed to investigate the matter and report at a special meeting on next Tuesday night.

The mayor appointed the following board to have charge of the
