The best booster for any town is a paint brush in the hands of an experienced painter. Let me help you boost.—N. P. WHITNER, Painter and Paperhanger, Bend, Or.

L. C. Young of Stratford, and P. J. Young of Hartline, Wash., are in Bend this week looking over the country, L. C. Young being an owner of ditch land in this section.

A large amount of D. I. & P. Co. lands have been sold this spring, and buyers are still coming in nearly every day on the stages. The land in the Bend section is entirely sold with the exception of a few small tracts.

People traveling through the Powell Buttes section report that there is a remarkable development going on there. Many new people are moving onto their lands and much new land is being cleared and put into crop.

The Ladies' Library Aid will serve strawberries, cream and cake in the Mutzig building a week from tonight, Friday, the 19th, all for only 15c. Isn't that a lot of goodness for a small price? The library will be closed on that evening.

Election is coming. The trust needs the money and the price of wall paper will go up. I have over 300 sample patterns of all the latest designs and shades. See them before you buy.—N. P. WHITNER, Painter and Paperhanger, Bend.

J. H. O'Neill is building a new house on his lots east of the church. The building will be 26x32 feet and will contain six rooms on the lower floor and two upstairs. There will be a porch 8x24 feet. L. G. and Frank Walker are doing the work.

Thos. Phelan writes from Bremerton, Wash., that he will be in Bend the latter part of July, and says further: "I read your paper with the same interest that a resident would do. I do so because I expect in the near future to become a citizen of your county."

Fred E. Mosier of Elk City, Idaho, is a recent comer to Bend.

Bishop Paddock, who was to conduct services in Bend tonight, will be unable to do so on account of having been delayed in the eastern part of the state. He will visit Bend later.

Rev. J. Anthony Mitchell writes that he will be in Bend to hold services on next Sunday, June 14. Subject for morning: "Echoes from the General Assembly." For the evening service: "Notes on the Way to and from Kansas."

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley will be at home at Vancouver after July 15. Mr. Dudley was formerly employed on The Bulletin and this paper extends best wishes.

Construction work on the canal in the Powell Buttes district is being pushed vigorously these days, and the crew is kept up to the maximum all the time. Chief Engineer Redfield estimates that it will require something more than 60 days to complete the work there, after which the crew will be moved east of Bend and will be put to work developing laterals in that vicinity.

The Bulletin has received the announcement of the marriage of Prof. Elias Nelson to Miss Emma K. Johnson at Casper, Wyoming, on Tuesday, June 2. Prof. and Mrs. Nelson will be at home at Caldwell, Idaho, where Mr. Nelson is employed by the state of Idaho as irrigationist on an agricultural experiment station. The Bulletin extends best wishes to the professor and his bride.

R. B. Mutzig is having a stairway built in his pleasant home on Oregon street and two rooms finished on the second floor. The stairway is a handsome piece of work, made from selected native pine, and is being built by A. A. Anthony. Mr. Mutzig has one of the most pleasant and well arranged homes in Bend and this last improvement will add to its attractiveness and usefulness.

At the semi-annual election held Wednesday evening the local Knights of Pythias elected the following officers: Chas. D. Brown, C. C.; Millard Triplett, V. C.; Chas. Stanburrough, Prelate; E. A. Griffin, M. of W.; C. L. Whitte, M. at A.; Carlyle Triplett, I. G.; Elmer Niswonger, O. G. Dr. C. W. Merrill and Carlyle Triplett will represent the lodge as grand representatives at the session of the grand lodge to be held in Portland beginning June 19.

Wednesday Vic O'Connor started for the ditch camp on his motor cycle with a bundle of pay checks for the workmen there. Late in the evening he had not arrived at the camp and a searching party was just about ready to start out to look for him, when it was learned that the motor cycle was in Bend, having been brought in by the stage. Later the genial Vic showed up at the camp safe and sound. It's the same old story. The plagued cycle balked, Vic sent it back to town by the stage, and he was fortunate enough to catch a ride with a freighter instead of having to walk the balance of the distance.

The country in the vicinity of Bend has been visited with some very heavy rains during the past week, although Bend so far has escaped with only a light shower. Monday there was practically a cloud burst at the Barney Lewis homestead about three miles west of town. The flat was covered with standing water, Barney's cellar was filled, and the road was nearly washed away, leaving it in terrible condition. That same day there were very heavy downpours in the vicinity of Lava island on the Deschutes, and also at the Baldwin ranch. Tuesday Prineville came in for its share of the moisture and received a thorough soaking.

Lonesome for Deschutes Country.

A. M. Drake is evidently getting lonesome for the Deschutes country and hungry for some of those dainty Deschutes trout. In a letter to The Bulletin, he writes:

"Plans for the present are Venice and lakes in northern Italy and Switzerland. It has jumped right from winter into summer and makes us all feel heavy and used up. Would give a lot for a little cool, fresh Deschutes air and water with a few trout thrown in."

Mr. Drake has changed his address, which will be hereafter "care Thos. Cook & Son, Paris."

Accepts Defeat Gracefully.

G. Springer, who made the race for the state senate on the democratic ticket as a Statement No. 1 man, accepts his defeat with a good spirit and takes a very sensible view of the matter. In writing to The Bulletin, he says: "We lost out by a small margin, but the principle we fought for carried in the state, and as we received a vote greatly in excess of our party strength, we feel compensated for our effort."
