MEETS WITH FINE RECEPTION

The line will run up the Deschutes and John Day Valleys, where big water power plants will be located that will generate the electricity to operate the trolley system.

Passes Through Rich Country.

How large the project is may be guessed from the filing of articles of incorporation in Gilliam, Wheeler, Wasco, Crook and Grant counties.

The plan of the company is to build up the Deschutes river to its headwaters in the Cascade mountains and thence across the range in the neighborhood of Mount Jefferson to a connection with the Corvallis & Eastern railroad at Detroit, bringing the business developed on the whole system directly to Portland.

There are mining properties on the line of the proposed road, say the promoters, that, while they are low-grade ore bodies, yet will become rich producers when transportation is offered to convey the ore to a smelter. Much of the country to be traversed by the line is said to be underlaid with coal and this will, it is believed, prove a source of great revenue to the new line.

Promotion by Local Company.

C. D. Charles, financial manager for the Oregon Gold Prospecting & Promoting Company, is promoting the Wasco County Electric & Power Company. His headquarters are at Room 318 Marquam building, Portland, and he is in communication with Eastern financiers in regard to taking the bond issue of the railroad and power project. The promotion work is being done under the name of the Oregon Gold Prospecting & Promoting Company, of which Dr. Homer I. Keeney is president and Mark G. Will is vice-president. Both are well-known residents of Portland. Besides a list of prominent business men of that city, whose names have already appeared in connection with the Wasco company's plans, Eastern Oregon bankers and others in that district interested in development work, form the directorate of the railroad.

It is the expectation of the promoters to have the new road well along before winter and to push the work during the next six months, when it is believed the weather will be such as to permit of grading operations and the construction of water power plants.

War Against Consumption

All nations are endeavoring to check the ravages of consumption, the "white plague" that claims so many victims each year. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds perfectly and you are in no danger of consumption. Do not risk your health by taking some unknown preparation when Foley's Honey and Tar is safe and certain in results.—C. W. Merrill, Druggist.
