small tracts suitable for fruits and farming, the large lfacts for grazing. Read the following extract from a letter from George Coon, the first United States Land Office Receiver at Lakeview:

"Lakeview, Oregon, June 17, 1908.—Oregon Valley Land Co.—Gentlemen: In 1865 I came to Lake tomoty, and am, therefore, one of the oldest pioneers. The road was established through the best portion of, Southern Oregon, and even in 1805 I recall that the grant was, in many places, literally covered with wild plams, and, with rare exceptions, these natural fruits have borne fruits these natural fruits have borne fruits every year since, liot to speak of the planted and cultivated fruits, which possess a remarkable flavor and have thriven quite as successfully. Of late years per haps, the range, especially along the Military Road, has been grazed too closely, still, if fenced, it reproduces very rapidly, and constitutes a country which, even if used as in the past, chiefly for stock, enables those who follow that business to become independent in a short time. Of course, at that early date, and until about 1885, the natural grasses were over knee-deep and covered the great bulk of the grant, and if protected, this same condition would return.

Your truly, George Conu."
