An Exciting Race For a Timber Claim.

Ora VanTassel returned last Thursday evening from The Dalles, where he placed a timber filing for Miss Mary E. Pretow of Warm Springs, upon a fine quarter section of timber on the Matoes. In placing the entry, Mr. VanTassel brought to a successful culmination a very exciting race for that particular tract.
Miss Pretow came over from the reservation on Thursday to accompany Mr. VanTassel to the Matoes to inspect the prospective entry. The same day another locator and a prospective entryman came through Madras on their way to the Matoes. Suspecting that they were going to see the same claim, Mr. VanTassel and Miss Pretow drove night and day to the Matoes and return. Although they left here later than the other party, they were on the claim at the same time, and a race back to the land office, to place the entry, was on.
Miss Pretow filed before the U. S. Commissioner at Madras, but in order to hold the land it was necessary to have the entry in the land office first. So Mr. VanTassel drove to The Dalles, going the Warm Springs route. By driving day and night he reached The Dalles Sunday morning, two and a half hours ahead of the other party, but the entry could not be made on Sunday. Next morning when the land office opened both parties were present to file, and what is known as "simultaneous filings" were made. In such cases, unless some settlement is made between the conflicting applicants, the land is advertised and sold to the highest bidder, but in this instance Miss Pretow secured the relinquishment of the other entryman. Mr. VanTassel says the timber claim is a good one, and well worth the trouble it took to secure it. Theodore Mesch of Portland was the other applicant.—Pioneer.
