

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

S. O. Johnson and wife, of California, departed Tuesday in their automobile after having spent a couple of weeks visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan at their pleasant home at The Tules. Mr. Johnson is one of the largest stockholders of the Deschutes Lumber Company, and was looking after his interests here. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stearns, of Portland, who have been spending a few weeks in Bend, went out with Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. J. McDonald will leave Bend in a few days for Seattle, where Mr. McDonald will engage in business for himself. Mrs. Erdman and Miss Emma, who have been making their home with Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, will accompany them. "Mac," as he is familiarly called by his friends, has been mayor of Bend for the past year, and has a large circle of friends here who will regret to have him and his family leave, but they will join in wishing him success in his new location.

W. R. Lawson, S. J. Shadwick, and A. G. and J. S. Kuykendall returned Sunday from their trip to the Silver Lake and Summer Lake countries, where they had gone after fruit and for homestead locations if they could find anything to suit them. Fruit is scarce in that section this summer and none is being sold to outside parties, the home demand consuming this season's yield. They found nothing to suit them in the homestead line, and upon their return stated that this section is good enough for them.

Last Friday morning A. M. Lara noticed smoke coming out of the lodge rooms in J. I. West's building. An immediate investigation showed that the room was full of smoke, the cause of which was found to be a small box of sawdust which was on fire. A pail of water soon put an end to that. The hall had been used by the Masons the night previous, and someone had probably dropped a lighted cigar stub into the box. The fire had burned up the sawdust, had partially destroyed the box, and had burned through the floor. Luckily it was discovered just at the right time as, with a little more headway and with a little breeze, the fire company would have had some stiff work out of them.

The D. I. & P. Co. are getting out several large albums for advertising purposes showing views of river and mountain scenes in this vicinity, also views of crops, orchards, grains, grasses, timber, water falls, residences, etc., etc. Some of the views were taken by Gifford, of The Dalles, but the most of them are the work of Photographer Bowman of Bend, and are fine examples of the photographer's art. They show this country up in fine shape—from the standpoint of the hunter and sportsman, of the lover of nature and beautiful scenery, and also from the standpoint of the man who wishes to earn a living from tilling the soil. The albums will be sent to the company's agencies at outside points and will be used to show prospective settlers what this country is like.

W. R. Wilkinson, Carlyle Triplett and E. P. Brosterhous have gone over the mountains to Lebanon to meet W. Irving, general coast agent, and Edwin Knowles, special agent, of the Phoenix Insurance Company. The two latter men are out on a hunting and fishing trip, and will be piloted through this country by Mr. Wilkinson, who has a contract to supply them with teams and saddle horses and to act as guide. From Lebanon they will come across the mountains to Bend and from there will go south along the Deschutes and will take in Crescent, Odell, and Davis lakes. Farther south they will visit Crater lake, gradually working their way down to Klamath Falls and from there to San Francisco. Carlyle Triplett goes along as teamster and Ed. Brosterhous as cook.

WENANDY FILES SUIT.

Bend Man Takes Action to Recover Valuable Property in Montana.

In the circuit court of the United States at Butte this week an action was commenced in which J. H. Wenandy is the complainant and John J. McDonald, Elvina McDonald, John McDonald, Angus McDonald, S. E. Larabee, Lizzie Ringling, School District No. 1, of Granite County and Deer Lodge No. 14, A. F. and A. M. are the defendants.

The purpose of the action is to recover possession of the property left under the will of Henry Schnepel, deceased. Mr. Schnepel died in October, 1886, leaving a large estate to his wife, Henrietta Schnepel. Under the provisions of the will Mrs. Schnepel was to remain in full enjoyment of the property during her life time and after her death all the property was to pass to the only daughter, Mrs. Henry Wenandy. The daughter died several years ago leaving an only son, J. H. Wenandy, who is the complainant in this suit. He is now located at Bend, Oregon, operating an extensive stage line and several livery barns. Last spring Mrs. Henrietta Schnepel, his grandmother, died and also left a will which provided for distribution of the remaining property contrary to his expectations. In her will Mrs. Schnepel remembered other relatives, close friends, the public schools and the Masonic lodge to which her husband had belonged. S. E. Larabee of Deer Lodge, the well known banker, is named as executor of the will.

Mr. Wenandy brought suit in the district court to have his grandmother's will set aside and the property distributed as provided in the will of his grandfather. A hearing was had some time ago and the case is still pending. Since he is a resident of Oregon, however, his attorneys decided that the Federal court is the proper tribunal to decide the case and this new suit is the result.—Phillipsburg (Mont.) Mail.

The estate, to recover which Mr. Wenandy has brought suit, consists of a 1300-acre ranch highly improved and on which are several hundred head of well bred horses and cattle. The ranch, 10 years ago, was valued at $50 an acre. Besides this there are city real estate, notes and mortgages amounting to $40,000. According to the original will the entire estate was to revert to Mr. Wenandy's mother upon the death of Mrs. Schnepel. Mrs. Schnepel, however, transferred the ranch, all its improvements and stock to the McDonalds for the consideration of $1.00, leaving the balance of the estate to Mr. Wenandy. It is claimed that Mrs. Schnepel had no right under the terms of her husband's will to dispose of the ranch, hence suit is brought to recover it.

Pleasant Ridge Items.

PLEASANT RIDGE, Sept. 3.—Jack Frost has been visiting many localities and the some fatal results seem to have followed everywhere among the tender vegetables but the hardier crops withstood him remarkably well, no damage being done whatever.

Clint Wood has been suffering with sprained ankles the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sherwood have returned from their outing trip at Crane Prairie. They report the huckleberries plentiful, and a sufficient supply was obtained.

W. R. Davidson, wife and son Gerald of Redmond and Miss Hegard, teacher of the Shepard school at Powell Buttes, were over at Sherwood Bros.' home and remained until after tea Tuesday evening.

G. W. Hall has been having serious trouble with his heart again.

Wm. Johnson was a county capital visitor the fore part of the week. He left Pineville on his homeward journey.

Millions of bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar have been sold without any person ever having experienced any other than beneficial results from its use for coughs, colds and lung trouble. This is because the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package contains no opiates or other harmful drugs. Guard your health by refusing any but the genuine.—C. W. Merrill, druggist.

at 2:30 and arrived at his farm home at the foot of Long Butte at 6:30. How is that for a record breaker, a distance of 30 miles!

Chad Irvin has a fine patch of clover which he had seeded in July. It is now covering the ground green.

Mr. Oakes is now harvesting his crop of oats on the Frank Glass place at the foot of the Butte.

Daniel Greenhalgh, Sr., is now under the care of Dr. Coe again.

There seems to have been a little discord between the officers and patrons of school district No. 6, just of late, and the result seems to have developed into wounding the feelings of others, of which we are sorry. We hope that no one will be selfish in seeking too much for the wants of themselves regardless of the feeling of others, but that all may work for the benefit and welfare of the district. We hope that spite work and jealousy will be regarded as small children's play. We also hope that troubles in the district will not result disastrously with our Sunday school, but that all will now see their duty to attend more regularly than ever and everything will soon be going smoothly again as before.

Foley's Orino Laxative is a new remedy, an improvement on the laxatives of former years, as it does not gripe or nauseate and is pleasant to take. It is guaranteed.—C. W. Merrill, druggist.
