LOCAL BITS.

Church services by Rev. Mitchell as usual next Sunday morning and evening.

Remember the big doings on the Howard lawn tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Mrs. C. M. Redfield will leave about the 15th for a visit with her parents at Condon.

Mrs. A. C. Lucas plans to leave about the 20th for a visit at the old home in Nebraska.

S. J. Spencer and wife will leave during the week for a visit of a week or two at La Grande.

Mrs. Coe arrived in Bend last Wednesday for a visit with her sons, Dr. U. C. and M. G. Coe.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Davidson drove over the mountains and are spending a short time at Portland.

Henry Linster and A. Neff left for the Valley the first of the week. They will each bring back a load of fruit.

M. C. Awbrey has driven over to the Valley for a visit with a sister whom he has not seen for several years.

Miss Ruth Reid and Miss Gittins arrived in Bend Saturday evening, and began their school duties Monday morning.

All bills that are charged to me after September 10, 1908, without my consent, I will not pay.—F. M. CARTER. 26-28

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wilcoxson are enjoying a visit from the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Roe, of Iltopia, Wash.

The W. P. Vandeventer family have moved to town for the school year, and are occupying the Jack Turley house on Juniper avenue.

Have your future foretold at the lawn social tomorrow afternoon and evening. The Gypsies present will have the power to lift the veil that obscures coming events.

Harvey Dayton, the young son of Frank Dayton of Laidlaw, fell from a wagon Wednesday evening and broke his arm. Dr. Coe was called and reduced the fracture.

E. A. Sather and J. H. Kelley each bought new pianos during the week from C. F. Shephard, the piano man from Ashland. The instruments are the Concord make.

E. A. Sather is having an addition built onto his warehouse that stands directly north of his store building. George Brosterhous and Hans Johnson are doing the work.

A. M. Drake writes to have his Bulletin sent to New York City and says they expect to be back there about October 1. His New York address will be care Hotel Seville.

During the past few weeks the Ladies' Library Club has taken in new members as follows: Mrs. C. A. Jones, Mrs. George Brosterhous, Mrs. Ralph Spencer, Mrs. Roscoe Howard.

Ice cream and cake, watermelons, fortune telling, fish pond, and music will be the attractions on the Howard lawn Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the Ladies' Library Club.

A number of Indians were in town Saturday with huckleberries which they were selling at $1.00 a gallon. They must have cleaned up quite a sum as nearly everyone bought a supply.

William Ferguson and family have returned from Madras and will again take up residence on their ditch land here. Mr. Ferguson owns land that will be watered by the Arnold ditch.

Sheriff Elkins, Deputy Sheriff John Combs, Max Wurzeiler and one or two other Prineville men were callers in Bend for a short time Monday. They came over by automobile conveyance.

The camp meetings which were scheduled to commence in Bend the 10th have been postponed until the 25th. The evangelist has gone to Paulina to hold meetings, and will come from there to Bend.

R. J. McCann, who is now in the forest service, received a phone message Wednesday that there was another forest fire on the Paulinas, and for him to go out and investigate. The extent of the fire has not yet been learned.

Frank Orcutt and mother left for Payette, Idaho, the first of the week for an extended visit with relatives. Mrs. Orcutt has not been in very good health of late and it is hoped that the visit will benefit her.

I am now agent for the DeLaval cream separator, and have one of these machines in stock. Step in and examine it. They are a great convenience and money saver for the dairyman. E. A. SATHER. 211

J. Frank Stroud, a former Bend man now living at Beaverton, Ore., arrived in Bend yesterday for a short visit. He reports that Mrs. Stroud's health has considerably improved since moving to Beaverton.

J. H. Edwards and wife of Hay Creek, accompanied by Mrs. W. F. Burrell and children of Portland, spent last Sunday in Bend, coming over from Hay Creek by automobile. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Howard at luncheon.

Mrs. Laura Bandle is having her desert claim near town cleared and plowed ready for crop this fall. J. R. Benham will construct an irrigation ditch for her within a few weeks. She will get water from the Swalley ditch.—Laidlaw Chronicle.

A number of Bend Masons went over to Prineville last Saturday to be in attendance at Masonic doings at that place. The party consisted of F. O. Minor, E. A. Cast, Dr. Coe, H. P. J. McDonald, Millard and Creed Triplett, and V. J. O'Connor.

Dr. Heritage, who sang in Bend last Saturday evening, put on two little operettas at Lakeview, one "Rose of Savoy," and the other "Months and Seasons." The Lakeview papers speak very highly of the doctor's work in training the singers in so short a time.

People in the eastern part of town are complaining that horses and cattle, running at large, are again causing considerable annoyance. In view of the fact that there is an ordinance prohibiting this, owners must not be surprised if their stock is put in the pound and they are obliged to pay a neat little sum to get it released.

C. F. Shephard, wife and two sons of Ashland, were in Bend the first of the week. They came to look over the country and to sell an occasional piano when they could, being engaged in that business. It is understood they sold a car load of pianos in Crook county. They drove in by way of Klamath.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Allen and daughter Ethel left for Independence, Oregon, Tuesday, driving over the mountains. Miss Ethel will enter the state school at Corvallis and Mrs. Allen will remain with her during the school year. Mr. Allen will return to the ranch at the Meadows in a week or two.

School opened Monday with an enrollment of 87 and with the following corps of teachers: Miss Ruth Reid, principal; Miss Margaret Gittins, science and German; Miss Maude Vandeventer, grammar grades; Miss Marion West intermediate; Miss Nona Richardson, primary. The laboratory outfit has been ordered and will be here in about a month. The high school opens with an enrollment of 19. The Arnold school will open next Monday with Miss Cora Ferguson teacher.

The entertainment given last evening by the Pavilla Family was probably the best in its line ever given in Bend. The program consisted of several short farce comedies, singing, dancing, and contortion work by Miss Pavilla, and brought forward one comical situation after another from start to finish, with an occasional finer touch of human nature beneath the boisterous humor. If you enjoy a good laugh it will pay you to attend. The Pavillas show tonight and tomorrow night.

The concert given in Bend Saturday evening by Dr. R. A. Heritage was a musical treat for those present. While the doctor was considerably handicapped by a poor hall in which to sing, yet his rendition of the various numbers on his program was much enjoyed. Mrs. Roscoe Howard acted as accompanist for Dr. Heritage in a pleasing manner. Miss Biles, who is a guest of Mrs. Howard, accompanying the doctor in one number, that of "The Holy City." Half of the evening's proceeds went to the library fund, and the ladies cleared $47 from the concert.

W. Irving and Edwin Knowles, agents for the Phoenix Insurance Company, passed through Bend Wednesday morning on an extensive camping trip through Eastern Oregon, mention of which was made in our last issue. From here they went to the "fish traps," from there to Sugar Pine mountains, then to Crescent, and finally to Klamath Falls. The men were having the time of their lives, and had fallen in love with Eastern Oregon as an ideal place for an outing. They were accompanied by W. R. Wilkinson, Carlyle Triplett and Ed Brosterhous, as guide, teamster and cook respectively.

A. O. Walker was in Bend Tuesday from his farm in the old river bed section with a fine bunch of samples of grains and grasses under his arm. They were the first year's crop from Mr. Walker's land and he is greatly pleased with results. He had samples of wheat, oats, alfalfa, clover and timothy, and they were dandies. He had oats that stood to his shoulder, and he is a six-footer. Of course it isn't necessary to grow such tall oats to get a good yield of grain, but it is fine to have it that tall when one cuts it for hay, and that is what Mr. Walker did. Nevertheless, both his oats and wheat headed out in great shape and would have given a heavy yield of grain had he allowed it to mature. Neighborhood farmers judged that his wheat would have gone 30 bushels to the acre if he had threshed it. The timothy also made a fine showing, as did the alfalfa and clover. Mr. Walker is planning to go into the hog raising industry, starting in with grade stock and gradually working into blooded animals of the Duroc Jersey breed. He is now fencing a five-acre field with hog fencing. Mr. Walker is greatly pleased with his first year in the Bend country and prophesies a great future for this section.

Allen-Wilson.

A very quiet home wedding was solemnized in Bend Thursday morning in which Miss Alice W. Wilson, daughter of Mrs. E. D. Wilson, was wedded to Mr. Herbert Engle Allen, Rev. J. Anthony Mitchell officiating. Rev. Mitchell read the words promptly at 7 o'clock that united the lives of these popular young people. The bride wore a gown of golden brown pongee and carried a shower bouquet of marguerites. The house was decorated with manzanita and flowers.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom left for Portland where they will visit with Mr. Allen's mother, spending a short time also at the seaside.

The bride is a popular member of a social circle of young people in Bend and her many friends will wish her every joy in her wedded life. Mr. Allen is the secretary-treasurer of the Central Oregon Development Company of this place, and is an energetic young business man. Both bride and groom are two of our most popular young people and everyone joins in wishing them all the joys of life.

Mr. Allen has furnished the pleasant Batten cottage, where he and his bride will reside on their return to Bend.

A Pleasing Entertainment

The Pavilla Family are giving a three-night entertainment in Bend, their first performance having been given last evening at the Lara hall. Press comment in near-by towns speaks highly of this talented family of performers. The Lakeview Examiner said:

"The Pavilla family gave a well received entertainment Tuesday and Wednesday nights and will give another tonight, the leading force to be the Susceptibilities of Mr. Mouser. Lack of time and space forbid giving this excellent company deserved mention. Mr. Pavilla has that finish to all of his humor that reminds one strongly of Joy Jefferson. Mrs. Pavilla is an artist, a singer and Miss Pavilla, though still in their early teens, are fine in acting, singing and dancing. The young lady is also one of the best lady acrobats and contortionists we ever saw. Little Boris is a wonderful singer, and to see her and Mazie in the juvenile "Roméo and Juliet," alone is worth the price of admission. So sweet and pretty. They promise to come again and I will be welcome. Those who failed to attend missed a treat. The brightening prospect need not hesitate to command the company in advance of performance, as they will make good."

The Pavillas will give entertainments tonight and tomorrow night.

Notice to Parents.

Miss Reid, principal of the Bend schools, requests parents to see that their children are started to school at once. When this matter is delayed for two or three weeks, it makes the classification of the pupils difficult, and the results to the scholar are never so satisfactory.

Make a Claim

And Press It Persistently in Your Advertising.

In the publicity lines, where a manufacturer advertises his wares as for sale by the dealer, nothing impresses the public more than the continuous, undaunted, cheerful repetition of some claim.

"I have seen that sirup ad. for six months," says Mrs. Jones. "I guess I'll try it today." And there are a thousand, five hundred thousand Joneses in Chicago, who, without knowing how long they have seen So-and-so's ad., are influenced by it only after it has been literally beaten into their heads.

That is one reason why successful advertising usually requires time.

Another reason is that when advertisements start the vast majority of the public is neither in the circumstances nor in the mood to become purchasers. A new brand of shoes is advertised. My friend Brown needs a new pair. After he has seen the advertisements ten or twenty or twenty dozen times he may take it into his head to call for this brand at the shoe store or will at least be pleased when this now familiar and favorably considered kind of shoe is put before him.

But my friends Smith and Jones and Jenkins do not need new shoes just now; hence the effect of the ads. will not be perceptible so far as they are concerned. Two or three months from now, when Smith goes to the shoe store, it is reasonable to suppose that he will be familiar with the new brand and may buy a pair.—Chicago Post.

The little store that "spent too much for advertising" long since ceased to be—a little store.

Every Farmer
