How are you going to mark your hallot? Will it be in favor of one of the two great parties? Will it be a vote for Taft and a continuation of those highly important policies so ably commenced under Roosevelt? Will it be a vote for the brainy republican candidate and a continuation of national prosperity and development? Will it be a ote for Talt and in favor of a man who has devoted the years of his manhood to most important and difficult, work that has been of great yalae to the nation? Or will you mark your ballot in favor of the Nebrasian one who is untried in aational work; one who shifts first from one hobby to another, always looking for a "paramount issue" by which to lift himself into the White House: a man who has repeatedly prophesied the utter ruin of the, pation if his policies were pot adopted, and today the nation stands greater and grander than ever. In short, will your ballot be ninded, brainy man who has been af real, worth to his country and tincoln," who has ,''made good'' in every-

C. S. Hudson writes from Canon City to the Bend library that on account of his having expected to come to Bend he had ordered all his magazines sent here, and as he would be delayed in coming at least "for the present," he would give these magazines to the library if the librarian desired to call for them. Of course the ladies are only too glad to take advantage of that have been bothering people in the offer, and they appreciate Mr.

DO YOU APPROVE OF BUSINESS ENTERPRISE?

. Perhaps there are times when you feel that some of the business men of Bend are not progressive enough. Ingrained in your nature is an admiration for the "hustler," for the person who does thingswho improves whatever he touches. , You admire the merchant who, lu brief space, takes a moribund store and makes it glow with lifea credit to the city. You are sure that, if we had more such men, the city would benefit amazingly.

day evening by the DeMoss family was a musical treat, and they deserved a much better patronage than was accorded them. Their orchestra work was especially pleasing and demonstrated that they are musicians of no mean ability. The bell ringing, playing on musical goblets, and other features of the program were received by the audience with evident appreciation, but, as stated before, the best numbers were their orchestra selections. / If the DeMosses ever return to Bend they should be given a "full house" for they certainly deserve it.
