Wm. Reynolds, a late comer to these parts, was in Bend Tuesday after lumber for use on his ditch land.

Fascinating Pyrography—150 page illustrated catalogue No. 2 free. Woodard, Clarke & Co., Portland Oregon. 39tf.

Wm. P. Downing made final proof yesterday before Commissioner Ellis, on his homestead on the Tumalo.

Richard King, Jr., reached Bend the first of the week from Wisconsin, called here by the serious illness of his mother.

Frank Davenport of Hood River and Warren Davenport of the Davenport-Stanley ranch were transacting business in town last Monday.

Chas. L. Wimer was in town Monday disposing of some fine beef that had been raised and slaughtered on Wimer & Son's Star ranch at Tumalo.

Foley's Orino Laxative cures chronic constipation and stimulates the liver. Orino regulates the bowels so they will act naturally and you do not have to take purgatives continuously.—C. W. MERRILL, Druggist.

Now is the time to lay in your winter's supply of apples. We have them—four varieties—at $2.75 a box.—KELLEY & ALDRIDGE. 34tf

Wanted—two young mares from three to six years old, weight 1100 lbs. or up. Must be gentle. Cash for reasonable price.—J. B. Baumgartner, Olney, Oregon. 39-40

N. P. Weider and E. A. Smith finished a job of papering and painting at the Davenport-Stanley ranch last week. They clothed, papered and painted the main house.

Miss Ruth Reid and Miss Pearl Hightower, who were Thanksgiving week guests of the family of T. M. Baldwin, returned Sunday to their homes in Bend.—Journal.

M. E. Rogers and son, who are spending the winter at Prineville with the expectation of eventually settling on land in this section, were in Bend last Friday. The Bulletin acknowledges a pleasant call.

I am now agent for the DeLaval cream separator, and have one of these machines in stock. Step in and examine it. They are a great convenience and money saver for the dairyman. E. A. SATHER. 21tf

Bert DeLorimier, who has a farm near Redmond, was in Bend Tuesday. Mr. DeLorimier has but recently returned from spending several months in Washington, and has already begun the further development of his place.

Cort Allen was down from his ranch on Little river to spend Sunday and Monday in town. He reports that Mrs. Allen and Ethel are well pleased with their home at Corvallis, where Miss Ethel is attending the state agricultural college.

Hunter & Staats are seriously contemplating building two modern bungalows on the lots just west of Mr. Hunter's home. If they finally decide to build, Mr. Staats will occupy one of the houses. Mr. Hunter says it is very probable that they will build.

E. R. Halterman was in from his ranch at Powell Buttes Monday, looking after business matters. He reports that ranchers thereabouts are doing considerable clearing this fall and winter, and that quite a number of new comers are moving onto land in the vicinity of the buttes.

Thos. W. Triplett will soon begin building a house for himself on the lots formerly owned by A. L. Goodwillie east of the D. I. & P. Co. office building. The new house will be 16x36 feet, two stories, with a one-story ell 14x24 feet. A porch will be built across the entire front of the building.

In a letter to The Bulletin dated at Seattle, V. J. O'Connor writes: "I have launched into a small business on my own account to keep me out of mischief until my patent is manufactured, which I expect will be not longer than 30 days now. Mrs. O'Connor is feeling fine again and everything is lovely."

County Judge H. C. Ellis came in Tuesday about midnight from a trip to Portland. The judge's pleasing features were frozen to a delicate blue tint, but he was still cheerful, and after a little he thawed out and his face regained its normal color. It is no joke these days to ride from Shaniko to Prineville.—Review.

J. E. Morson of Portland, president of the Deschutes Land Company, is at Rosland this week. His company has a contract with the state for the reclamation of 30,000 acres of land near Rosland, under the Carey Act. Mr. Morson refused to be interviewed as to the plans of his company and stated that he had nothing to give out at present.

Ranchers on the upper Deschutes report that the feeding of stock has been postponed this season later than at any other time in their recollection. This is due to the continued absence of snow, and to the fact that fall and winter rains gave the grass a good start and the range is in fine condition as a consequence. It is understood that none of the ranchers have yet begun to feed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wenandy left Tuesday morning for Shaniko where they will spend most of the time hereafter, Mr. Wenandy saying, however, that he did not intend to abandon his residence in Bend. He figures that he can look after the interests of the stage line better at the Shaniko end, but will also be seen in Bend frequently. M. G. Coe will have charge of the stage office at this place.

Mrs. McRaney's Experience.

Mrs. M. McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes: "I was confined to my bed for three months with kidney and bladder trouble, and was treated by two physicians but failed to get relief. No human tongue can tell how I suffered, and I had given up hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. After taking two bottles I felt like a new person, and feel it my duty to tell suffering women what Foley's Kidney Remedy did for me."—C. W. MERRILL, Druggist.

Sheriff Elkins still holds the Estepet stock of liquors, the disposal of which has at last been arranged for by the defendant filing a petition in bankruptcy. The case having been thus transferred to the federal court, the sheriff is expecting an order to ship the stock to Portland or Shaniko and turn it over to the proper authorities. Several Prineville people will be sorry to see that stuff leave the county.—Review.

County Commissioner Rice, who is in Bend today in connection with school matters, told The Bulletin that it is his first visit to this part of the county, and that he was greatly surprised at what he saw in the way of farm development. He said he had always been told that the section south of Crooked river was worthless, but he was now confident that he had been misled. Judging from the stubble in the fields, Mr. Rice said it was very evident the soil was capable of a prolific production, and he predicted a bright future for the section he had been led to believe was "no good." Commissioner Rice's home is at Hay Creek.

County Commissioners Rice and Bayley and County Superintendent Ford are in Bend today, and, accompanied by County Judge Ellis, have visited the Bend schools. The visit was made in order that these gentlemen might satisfy themselves as to the efficiency of the Bend school, and if it is considered the equal of the county high school, the Bend district will be relieved from paying the tax for the support of the county school, according to the Oregon law. It will be remembered that the Bend school board made application, several weeks ago, for exemption from this tax. While these gentlemen had nothing to give out as to their final decision, yet it is known they are highly pleased with the Bend school, its building and equipment, and it is safe to predict that their action will be favorable to the local school.

Guilty of Counterfeiting.

Passing counterfeit money is no worse than substituting some unknown worthless remedy for Foley's Honey and Tar, the great cough and cold remedy that cures the most obstinate coughs and heals the lungs.—C. W. MERRILL, Druggist.

For Sale.

Relinquishment on timber claim estimated two million. See it F. C. ROWLER.

Read The Bulletin and be happy.
