Twin Necessities.

The reader of a newspaper will readily agree that it is necessary for a merchant, with any pretension to progressiveness, to advertise. Yet this would not be true if it were not equally true that it is necessary for the reader of the newspaper, if he or she have any pretensions to progressiveness, to READ and answer the ads.

These are twin facts, twin necessities. Whatever is of enough importance for the merchant to pay for the privilege of saying is of too much importance for the reader to overlook. And just as advertising is the way of the progressive store, so is the reading of advertising the way of the progressive person. Measure your progressiveness by this standard, and you will not go far wrong.

If the Ladies' Library Club wishes to secure a book that would prove of great interest to many patrons of the library, The Bulletin would suggest that they purchase the book entitled, "My Mamie Rose," by Owen Kildare, extended reference to which was made by Bishop Paddock in his Sunday morning sermon. This book pictures the life of Owen Kildare himself, who was born and raised in the slums of New York. He was a true product of the slums and was about as "low down" a specimen of humanity as one ever finds. However, certain influences finally led him into a better path, his regeneration followed, and he is now devoting his life to the uplifting of the unfortunate tenants of the slums. Kildare educated himself and has become quite a powerful writer of articles and stories descriptive of slum life. The story referred to has a romance equal to a first rate novel (but it's true), pictures the real life of the slums in a vivid manner, and will hold one's interest from start to finish. Bishop Paddock is a personal friend of Kildare, a warm friendship having developed between the two men when the bishop was engaged in slum work in New York. "My Mamie Rose" is well worth reading. And the reader has the satisfaction of knowing that it is a true story.

Simple Remedy for LaGrippe.

La grippe coughs are dangerous as they frequently develop into pneumonia. Foley's Honey and Tar not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs so that no serious results need be feared. ### WILL RECLAIM SMALL TRACT

German Farmers Will Develop Land near Tetherow's Bridge.

A Mr. Huston, a Portland capitalist, was in Bend over Sunday conferring with A. M. Drake in regard to an irrigation and colonization scheme near Cline Falls, in which the former gentleman is interested. Mr. Huston was seeking to secure Mr. Drake's assistance in some ditch right of way matters.

Huston and his associates have purchased about 2,000 acres of land on the flat directly west of the Tetherow Bridge. They plan to take out a canal from the Deschutes with which to irrigate this land, and will also put in a power plant to run a planing mill to be operated in connection with the Spoon Dayton sawmill. Huston desires right of way across land owned by the Cline Falls power company, and, it is understood, is having trouble to secure it.

Mr. Huston has made arrangements whereby a large colony of thrifty Germans will occupy the land in small units and will engage in fruit farming and dairying as well as diversified farming. A town is being platted and as soon as this is done and the land divided into the required units the German settlers will take up the work of settlement and reclamation.

Death of a Western Pioneer.

The Helena (Mont.) Independent of February 15 prints quite a lengthy article telling of the death of Thomas B. Persell, and relating incidents of his life, he having been a pioneer at Helena. Mr. Persell was an uncle of Mrs. Hugh O'Kane of Bend and Mrs. J. J. Hogan and E. J. Wright of Portland. The Independent said, in part:

"News was received in the city yesterday of the death at Los Angeles, Cal., of Thomas Benton Persell, formerly president of the Persell Limerock Company of Helena, and for many years a prominent resident of this city. The news of his sudden death was received by his son Grover C. Persell of East Helena in a telegram from Mrs. W. E. Persell, who was with the pioneer at the time of his death.

"This sudden and unexpected news brought a pang of sorrow to more than one resident of the capital city for few men were better or more highly esteemed than 'Tom' Persell, as he was most familiarly known. Only 10 days ago as he was bidding his friends and family goodbye before taking his departure for California, he was in the best of health and spirits. Particulars concerning his death were not received.

"Thomas Persell was born in Lawrence county, Alabama, October 4, 1837. In the spring of 1860 he left his Southern home and joined the crowd that was making for Colorado and the West. He came to Montana in 1865 and engaged in placer mining in Washington, gulch. In 1866 he discovered a lead south of Helena which he named the 'Ninety-six,' and from which he shipped considerable pay ore. The ore played out but in carrying on his development work the pioneer found a body of almost pure lime, suitable for fixing purposes at the smelters. Mr. Persell started the quarry and for a number of years furnished limerock not only for the East Helena smelter but for the Anacosta and Great Falls smelters. In this business he acquired a fortune.

"His death will be regretted generally in Helena especially among the old timers. He was a generous, wholesouled, rugged type of man, liberal in his views, and one who was wont to look for the better qualities in his fellow men rather than their imperfections. He tasted adversity and endured the hardest kind of hardships, and was at times made the object of the abuse and vituperation of those with whom he failed to agree in business transactions, but through it all he maintained the same sunny disposition that was characteristic of his earlier days.

"Besides his son Grover he is survived by another son, W. E. Persell, who is at present in Seattle waiting for the body, which will be shipped to Helena for burial. Mr. Persell will be buried beside the body of his wife who died here some years ago."

SPRING RAINS WASH OUT SKELETON OF A MAN

Again Starts Rumors Regarding Death of Shorty Davis, but Little Credence is Put in Them—Other Items of General Interest.

An old tragedy, and what may possibly have been a crime committed years ago, has been unearthed at the foot of Grey Butte on the west side. The skeleton of a man has been washed out of a shallow grave, and the Crook county authorities have gathered together these ghoulish relics and will make some investigation into the mystery surrounding them.

The Madras Pioneer says the first of the week a careful investigation was made of the skeleton and the grave in which it had been buried, and the following facts are established: That it is the skeleton of a white man, of middle age, and standing about five feet and six inches in height; that the body had been buried many, probably 10 or 20, years ago, and that the body had been buried in a shallow grave, not over two feet deep, as though hastily buried. The skull and lower jaw with a portion of the teeth were taken over to Prineville, to be examined by the county physician, with a view to identification.

In connection with the discovery of this skeleton, the mysterious disappearance ten years ago of Shorty Davis is recalled, and the report has gained circulation that the skeleton just unearthed is that of Davis. Later developments would indicate, however, that there is not much probability of that being true.

Shorter Items of Interest.

The Baptists at Prineville will build a new church to cost about $4,000.

Quite a little petty thieving has been going on at Bonanza, in Southern Oregon.

Frank Osborn has resigned as U. S. commissioner at Madras, and Howard W. Turner has been appointed to succeed him.

Two timber cruisers in the employ of Weyerhaeuser are engaged in cruising a tract of timber, near Silver Lake, that has been offered for sale.

The Knights of Pythias initiated seven members into the mysteries of Pythianism Thursday night. The lodge now has 46 members and is doing some excellent work.—Vale Oriano.

the prospects will probably be commenced in the spring, but no definite announcement can be made now.—Prineville Journal.

Seed from a species of alfalfa grown in Siberia has been brought to the United States by an agricultural professor who has spent eight months in Asia in quest of such things. He returned with 300 different kinds of seeds and plants to be used by the department of agriculture in experimental work. He claims the Russian alfalfa thrives in a climate where the mercury freezes.

When the people of Fort Rock want excitement they call a meeting of its citizens and take up the question of whether religious services shall be allowed in the school house. Some two months ago a vote was taken and those wanting no religious services carried the day. Last week another meeting was held and those voting in favor of religious services were in the ascendancy. So far honors are even, each side having an inning to their credit.—Silver Lake Leader.

FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS.

Modern Woodmen Society Will Construct Free Sanatorium.

At the last meeting of the executive council of the Modern Woodmen Society it was decided to construct that society's sanatorium, located at Colorado Springs, Colo., for the treatment of members afflicted with tuberculosis, free of all charge to members.

The Modern Woodmen Society, several months since, acquired 1,350 acres of land within seven miles of Colorado Springs, and has established thereon an up-to-date sanatorium, the tent colony plan being employed. The first colony was opened on Jan. 1, 1909. It is equipped to care for 60 patients.

The tents are octagonal structures, with shingle roofs, canvas sides, hard wood floors on solid cement foundations, heated by a central plant, equipped with all modern conveniences, such as telephones, etc., and each tent will accommodate one patient. An administration building for physicians, nurses, dining hall, baths of all kinds, etc., stands in the center of the colony.

Each life saved to the Woodmen Society, by means of this sanatorium, will, it is stated, represent a saving of $1,200—the average amount of the Woodmen policies in force—at an expense for treatment of approximately one-twentieth of that sum.

Tumalo Items.

TUMALO, March 1.—March is with us once more.

F. E. Dayton and Mr. Spoo were doing business at Tumalo one day last week.

Bert Hodson and Archie Templeton of the Cloverdale country were in Tumalo Saturday showing a fine Percheron stallion which they expect to stand at Tumalo this season.

Chas. Wimer made a business trip to Bend yesterday.

Geo. Bates of Bend passed through here one day last week going to the Hightower-Smith mill after lumber.

Miss Olga and Binger Hasselberg passed through here yesterday being out for a horseback ride.

Dr. Coe of Bend passed through Tumalo several times last week.

Our farmers are getting restless now and are all talking of getting out their plows, and spring work will soon be in full swing. The sun shines warm and everything has taken on a very spring-like look. The stock seems to feel fine and the hens are singing, and yesterday one Tumalo hen laid an egg that contained a double white and yolk and measured 7 1/2x6 1/2 inches; so I guess that's going some. Redmond next!

Pleasant Ridge Notes.

PLEASANT RIDGE, March 3.—Seeds planted in hot-beds a few days ago are up nicely. Those having hot-beds will soon enjoy early vegetables.

The smoke of burning junipers may now be seen in almost any direction.

Mrs. G. W. Hall returned yesterday from Bear Creek, where she went Saturday to take the girls for their school duties. The term will last four months.

Mrs. A. A. Green is suffering from slight injuries received by being thrown from a buggy. The accident was caused by the horse jumping as she was driving across a lateral.

Miss Pearl Snider, who has been working for the Black Butte Cof., is expected home.

Mr. Jarrett, who has been in the employ of the Black Butte Co. the past winter, is now moving back to his farm south of Forked Horn butte, where he will put in a crop.

We wish to correct the statement made last week in regard to Mr. Eaton leaving for California. He is still at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. J. Chase, and will not leave for some little time, after which he will probably leave for Colorado.

Creamery at Prineville.

S. R. Cooper, who has until January 1 been in the employ of the Hazelwood Creamery Company in Washington, has decided to start a creamery in Prineville. He and L. B. Lafollette will be the proprietors of the new business. It is planned to have the creamery in operation by about March 1. The Journal says that arrangements have been made with the stage lines running to different parts of the county for the transportation of cream and it is expected that butter fat will be sent in from points as far distant as Rosland and Sisters.
