The Bulletin takes pride and pleasure in announcing that bit of news elsewhere in this issue in regard to the Bend high school. Registrar Tiffany of the University of Oregon states that graduates of the Bend school will be admitted to the freshman class of the university without further requirements. That means that the Bend school stands on the university's list as one of the accredited schools of the state. It is also the best of evidence that the course of study of the local school is of the highest rank inasmuch as it meets the exacting requirements of the state university. This is something of which everyone in Bend may justly feel proud. Many towns as large as Bend and larger, situated in old and prospering communities, with school systems that have existed for years, do not meet the requirements of their state universities. On the other hand, our own town, only a few years old, 90 miles from a railroad, and in a young and struggling country, has developed a school whose graduates are admitted, without further question, to the state university. This speaks well for the intelligence and enterprise of the people of Bend and vicinity.

Railroad news to date is favorable still to the Deschutes railroad. While there is a strong suspicion in the minds of many in regard to Harriman's good faith concerning railroad matters, yet the consensus of opinion is that Central Oregon is soon to be given the long desired railroad. With the beginning of construction of a railroad to tap this vast inland empire, there will follow a development and expansion here that will surprise and will be pleasing to all of us. What are you going to do to help it along? The time is ripe and we are at the threshold of a new and more prosperous commercial life here in Central Oregon, a life that will be better in all particulars. There's a lot of good common sense in that old-fashioned proverb about all putting their shoulders to the wheel and pushing together. Let us in Central Oregon exemplify that spirit.

The Bulletin has talked with numerous men who have had experience in irrigated countries and it has yet to find one who is not pleased with the Bend country. One of them, who had visited several sections and who had had years of experience in irrigation, said this was the best irrigation project he had ever seen. All of them agree on this one point, that the Bend country is O. K. Coming from men who are experienced in the method of farming that will be employed here, i. e., irrigation, such testimony is most reliable and valuable. It speaks well for this section.

There is only one thing for Bend people to advertise during the next two and a half months, and that one thing is the big celebration to be given here on July 3. There is a unanimous opinion among Bend people that the celebration of 1909 shall be the largest and most successful yet given. The assistance of every citizen of Bend and vicinity is needed. Better be "Johnny on the Spot" in all matters connected with the big event.

"Let everyone help to keep our city clean" is good advice.

Redmond Items.

REDMOND, Or., April 18.—Next time Mrs. Carl Elvret is asked to go to a neighbor's to spend the evening because it is so lonesome, she will stop to think whether another surprise is due. That's the way they worked her Tuesday night and it took, too.

J. A. Norwood and wife have moved into their new house and have had an addition built.

Mrs. Lowther and Iris leave in the morning for Los Angeles, where they will spend the summer.

H. A. Myers lost a cow recently from clover. Time to be careful.

Mr. Mossman, who visited with his father-in-law, F. A. Kennard, has returned to his home in Seattle. Mrs. M. and son remain for a time yet.

Roy and Charlie Lowther were over from their school duties at Prineville yesterday and today visiting their parents.

W. L. McEwing was up to church again today. He has Rev. Lowther's farm across Crooked river rented for the season.

Several farms in this neighborhood we know are for rent. It is time for some body to be taking them.

Mrs. Ehlers worked up a surprise for George last night. Regular Woodman meetings last four nights and also a dance. That's a whole lot going on at once for this little burg.

Quite a satisfactory meeting of telephone subscribers was held Friday night, over 30 being present. Committees were appointed and a better report can be given after another meeting.

Mrs. Lauderback has returned from Portland, where she attended her father in his last illness.

E. C. PARK.

Pleasant Ridge Items.

PLEASANT RIDGE, April 20.—News has been rather scarce of late. Nobody seems to go to town nowadays.

The musical cry of the wild geese is now being heard as they pass over the land to their northern hatching grounds.

Seeding has been commenced by a few of our farmers, but will not be in full blast for a week or 10 days yet. A large amount of land which is well prepared and laid out for irrigation will be seeded this year to some one of the perennial legumes.

A family by the name of Myres purchased and moved onto the Elias Nelson place last week. There have also been parties looking at the Clint Woods 80-acre farm. Mr. Woods has a fine place and it will be a good buy for someone.

A. J. Chase and W. L. Perry are both home again, and are complaining somewhat with the grippe.

The different Sunday schools which were represented at Sherwood Bros.' home last Saturday for the purpose of determining on the place and arranging for holding the next annual district Sunday school convention were Laidlaw, Gist, Pleasant Ridge, Redmond, and also Powell Buttes. The delegates from the latter place were detained and were late in arriving. Bend and Cline Falls sent no representatives, so must be satisfied with whatever part is assigned them. The next convention will be held at Laidlaw on May 23.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Green entertained some friends at dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Mary P. Irvin has again decided to stay here, it having been heretofore announced that she would return to Ohio in the hope of benefitting her health.

Inklings From Gist.

GIST, Oct. 19.—Some time since you heard from the correspondent at Gist. We have been very busy and have had no time to gather news.

Dr. M. V. Torley and Clyde Gist went down on the Matoles last week on a fishing trip. They report getting all they could eat.

Mrs. Stackley has been appointed postmaster at Gist and will take possession about the 1st of May.

T. M. Post has cleared up 40 acres on his homestead this spring and will put it under cultivation.

W. E. Burkhard has charge of the Burkhard lateral this spring and will put a force of men and teams to work this week.

Road Supervisor Carson of this district is playing hob with the stumps that he finds in the roads. He says he blows them out root and branch.

At the special school meeting called by the board of district No. 61, at Gist, for the purpose of electing a clerk, as Mr. Edwards resigned some time ago, Hubert Scoggins was elected.

are but outward signs of the evil done in secret by myriads of dangerous germs sapping the life blood of the hair. Micro kills the parasite, soothes the itching scalp, gives lustre to the hair and stops it falling out. A single application gives relief and proves its worth. Save your hair before too late. Micro prevents baldness. It is a delightful dressing for the hair, free from grease and sticky oils. Ask your druggist for free booklet.

Relative to Enlarged Homesteads.

The General Land Office at Washington has issued the following instructions to registers and receivers of the various U. S. land offices:

GENTLEMEN: It has been brought to the attention of this office that at certain offices applications for entry under the enlarged homestead act of February 19, 1909, Public No. 245, are being received and suspended. The following instructions are issued so that no misunderstanding may exist as to the rights of such applications.

The instructions under this act have been approved but have not as yet been printed for distribution. The said instructions, however, contain the following:

"From time to time lists designating the lands which are subject to entry under this act will be sent you, and immediately upon receipt of such lists you will note upon the tract books opposite the tracts so designated, 'Designated—Act February 19, 1909.' Until such lists have been received in your office no application to enter should be received and no entries allowed under this act."

You are, therefore, directed that any applications under said act, for lands not listed, should be immediately rejected and the parties notified that they will gain no rights by the filing of such applications or by appeal from the rejection thereof. No rights whatever can be acquired under said act, either by application or settlement, prior to the time the lists are received in the local land office.

The instructions under this act will be forwarded to you within a very few days.

Give this matter publicity by furnishing same to newspapers for publication as a matter of news. Very respectfully,
FRANK DENNETT,
Commissioner.

Hit and Miss METHOD BRINGS ONLY FAILURE.

Constant Publicity in Newspapers Kind That Brings Business.

The results to be derived from continuous, everyday advertising cannot be overestimated. That person or concern that desires to have its business grow and expand goes into the newspapers and stays there. By that we do not mean to let the wording of an ad. run without frequent change. We mean space.

The advertising you did yesterday will help your advertising today, and the advertising of today helps that of tomorrow.

The child that makes greatest progress at school does not attend Monday, skip Tuesday, back Wednesday and out Friday. He is attending every school day in order to pass his finals. In continuity is strength. "Out of sight is out of mind."

To discontinue an ad. while you still have goods on your shelves or vitality in your brains to produce something means one of two things—either that you have made your fortune and are ready to retire or that the business is retrograding and degenerating—"Some Pitfalls of Advertising," Missoula, (Mont.) Herald.

Gophers, Sage Rats and Prairie Dogs usually devastate our fields of growing grain. Their number may be greatly diminished by a systematic warfare upon them. Every female killed before the young are born, reduces the number of nests at least ten later on.

"Woodlark" Squirrel Poison is the most reliable and destructive agent yet devised for their extermination. It is absolutely certain in its action and every kernel is warranted to kill. Climatic changes or moisture of the earth do not destroy its strength. It requires no mixing or preparation, and is always ready for use. No other is so good. Dealers will refund the purchase price, if not as claimed.
